for 1958 over the January-June period of 1957 and redemptions of both matured and unmatured savings bonds for the same period are down 10 per cent . . . total sales so far this year for the two series were $2,477 million, the Treasury Dept. announces . . . redemptions amounted to $2,489 million . . . the cash value of E and H bonds outstanding as of June 30 amounted to $42,142 million . . . this reflects an increase of $644 million since the past year.

Chet Bannell is a "Top Underwriter" for Mutual of New York for June, according to Wilbur K. Hood, Portland manager.

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, August 5, at the office of Tom Williams, superintendent of Crater Lake National Park, 207 Federal Bldg., Medford, for three separate items . . . construction of a 1,000-square-foot covered entranceway to the administration building at headquarters . . . two comfort stations at the Mazama camp grounds which must be built before additional camp sites can be opened at that area . . . a new entrance station at Annie Springs . . . bids were opened on June 24 on the original package job which included these three items plus nine multiple-story residences and an entrance station at headquarters . . . bids were received from Ausland Construction Co., Grants Pass, $296,600; Salter & Kiew, Grants Pass, $317,566; H. Barnhart, Medford, $323,375 . . . bids were rejected last week by Nat'l Parks Washington, D.C., headquarters after survey and permission given to ask for bids for the three items . . . plans and specifications are available from Williams' office and notice has been sent to all previous planholders, but all general contractors are invited to bid.

Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. on August 13 by George R. Meyer, purchasing and contracting officer, 40th Fighter Group, Kingsley Field, for construction of north and south runway overruns . . . bid inv. $941,000 . . . the statewide strike of operating engineers (heavy) against contractors affiliated with the Associated General Contractors slowed interest in bidding, apparently, as only one firm had taken out plans and specifications last week.

The AP reported that the House Appropriations Committee recommended last Tuesday only one military appropriation for Oregon . . . $750,000 for the Air Force for construction at Kingsley Field . . . the measure totaled $1,218,815,000 for the nation and was $511,038,900 under the amount sought by the administration.

At Bonanza, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown will open Aug. 1, Brown's Cafe across the street from the Bonanza Post Office . . . the building has been remodeled and painted brown with green trim . . . their first smorgasbord is set for August 2 and will be a regular Saturday feature thereafter . . . the Browns have been operating a cafe and variety store next door to the post office.

Morrison & Howard, architects, 203-05 Williams Bldg., have two jobs off the drawing boards and bid invitations are announced . . . First Federal Savings & Loan Assn., corner Main and So. 6th, will remodel the building, including excavating a full basement, erecting supports, refacing exterior and remodeling and redecorating interior . . . bids will be opened in the office of George McIntyre, head of the savings and loan concern, at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, August 12 . . . plans available from the architects' offices.

The other project is construction of 12 additional units to the present 28-unit Lakeview Lodge Motel, G St., Lakeview, for the owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jennings . . . the new units will be erected on steel supports as second story units to permit parking of cars beneath the units . . . approximately 7,000 square feet of floor space, board and batten exterior with brick veneer trim; plaster interior walls; electric heat . . . bids will be opened at the Lakeview Lodge at 3 p.m. on Friday, August 8 . . . plans and specifications available from Morrison & Howard.

John H. Houston has received notice and congratulations from Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States (which he represents in this area) on his outstanding 1957 performance which fully qualifies him for membership in the firm's Million Dollar Club and as a 1958 life and qualifying member of the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Sales of series E and H Savings Bond purchases for the first half of 1958 were up seven per cent

THREE "B'S" SHEEP CLUB

The Three "B's" Sheep Club held a meeting on July 8 at the home of Eunice Hunt. The minutes were not read due to the absence of our secretary.

We had visitors from the Main Sheep Club and we talked about what we were going to wear at the fair.

We are going to have our second weighing tour August 2nd.

The meeting was adjourned. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hunt.

COUNTRY CAMPERS

On the evening of July 10, the members of the Country Campers outdoor cooking club met for a sleep-out in Mrs. Francis Skinner's backyard. We brought vegetables and meat for a stew, and also brought whatever we wanted for breakfast. We each cooked our stew in a coffee can, and Mrs. Skinner served chocolate pudding with whipped cream for dessert, which Mrs. Walter Grot furnished.

We slept in the backyard in our sleeping bags and early the next morning we got up and cooked our breakfast on our "buddy-burners." The date for our next meeting was not set. Mothers came for the members at 7 a.m.

Rolling Log Crushes Two

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—A 70-year-old woman and her son-in-law were killed Friday when a huge log rolled from a passing truck and crushed their car.

The truck driver, Myrland V. Austin of Grants Pass, Ore., was charged with manslaughter. Killed were Mrs. Etta Galles, 70, and Donald H. Williams, 40, Williams' wife Gertrude, his son Carl, 6, and daughter Irene, 7, were slightly injured.

Austin was charged also with gross negligence, speeding, driving unsafe equipment and failing to keep his truck under control on a mountain road.

CRACK DOWN ON GIFTS

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communist authorities have started criminal action against 271 persons since the end of May for sending gift packages to West Germany, a newspaper, the Dresden Saechsische Zeitung, said today.

Civil Service Offer Pulled

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration has gotten rid of a minor headache by withdrawing the nomination of a federal official who admitted he made some "honest mistakes" on past government job applications.

President Eisenhower Friday withdrew the nomination of Bernard L. Flanagan to be a member of the Civil Service Commission. He acted officially at Flanagan's request.

The 29-year-old native of St. Albans, Vt., who had been serving as an interim Civil Service commissioner, wrote the President saying he didn't want to be used for "political harassment" of the administration.

Flanagan, a former Capitol Hill policeman, had been sharply criticized by members of the Senate Civil Service Committee for filing misinformation in applying for earlier jobs with various federal agencies.

In his letter to the President, he conceded he "made some mistakes" in filling out job forms for the old Office of Price Stabilization, the Veterans Administration and the General Services Administration.

He said the inaccuracies about his education, past job titles, salaries and other matters "were entirely immaterial" to the jobs held.

Maintenance Of Museum Project Recommendation

FORT JONES—Realizing that the directors of the Fort Jones Museum needed a helping hand in directing and maintaining the museum, Mrs. Robert J. DeNure, past president of the Fort Jones Woman's Club, recommended to members of the club that they adopt the maintenance of the museum as a project.

Mrs. L. L. Lukes, current president of the Fort Jones Woman's Club, appointed Mrs. DeNure to head a committee to call upon the curator, W. T. Davidson, and directors, R. A. Walker and Eddie Edgcomb, who warmly welcomed the committee and expressed appreciation at their interest.

Those volunteering their services to work afternoons in the museum are: Mrs. James H. Stanton, Mrs. Frank Branson, Mrs. James Stevens, Mrs. Louis Elliott, Mrs. B. F. Davidson, Mrs. Hailo Burton, Mrs. David Miltan, Mrs. Lucille Massa, Mrs. Raymond Luce and Mrs. Ernest Smith. Although many of the women are native born, and familiar with the heritage of personal and ancestral lore of the early pioneers, Davidson and the directors are giving them additional information relative to historical facts of the museum collections.
