Lawmakers Note Rift

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) - The current conference of the Interparliamentary Union, dedicated to aiding peace by a frank exchange of views among the world's lawmakers, has done little to narrow the breach between the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

This was the opinion of delegates and observers at the conference, now in its sixth day. The more than 300 legislators do not speak officially for their 49 nations.

"There is the usual division between East and West," said Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY). "I haven't seen very much evidence of a meeting of minds."

"The Russians are being very intransigent and, although the Poles for example are more mild than usual, the Communist nations are mouthing the same lines."

"The best service this conference could do from our point of view is to bring the non-committed countries closer to our side."

Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY), present at the interview with Keating, agreed with him.

The wide divergence of views appeared in yesterday's debate on resolutions calling for disarmament agreements and creation of an international police force.

Keating and Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex) explained the U.S. position favoring an international police force and unlimited inspections to cover any agreement to halt nuclear weapons production or tests.

Soviet delegates charged an international police force could serve as an imperialist weapon to interfere with the internal affairs of small nations.

Father Mourns Loss Of Family

SPENCER, W. Va. (AP) - These are sad and lonely days for John Willoughby. His wife and their six young children lie together in a common grave at nearby Newton.

Willoughby, 45, was the only survivor when a violent flood smashed his mountain home to bits and carried his wife Ella, 37, and their children to their deaths in an isolated section of central West Virginia. He escaped by clinging to a tree.

A simple graveside service was held at Newton's Kirkhart Cemetery yesterday, where some 100 neighbors and friends had dug the grave with picks and shovels.

The children were Hazel Jean, 2; Raymond, 3; William Hugh, 3; Waverline, 6; Ella Irene, 8; and Wilma Lee, 9.

Helmet Won On Rain Bet

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) - Citizens of this southwestern Pennsylvania community usually don't pay too much attention to rain.

But today was different because there is a belief that it always will almost always - rains in Waynesburg on July 29.

Each year, Atty. John Daily, head of Waynesburg's Rain Day Club, wagers a hat that it will rain. This year he put up a triangular Revolutionary War hat against a jet pilot helmet put up by Maj. Donald Johnston, commander of the 147th Squadron of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard.

At 12:10 a.m. a steady rain began falling - marking the 73rd time in 82 years that rain has fallen on Waynesburg on July 29. Daily had won his helmet.

The number of horses in the world declined from 114 million in 1928 to 76 million in 1950.

Alameda Teamsters Strike May Envelop Entire State

OAKLAND (UPI) - The Alameda County teamsters strike threatened today to spread to other cities in Northern California.

Teamsters in Martinez voted Monday night to go on strike next Monday after rejecting an employer proposal to settle the dispute. It was the same contract already rejected by the Oakland teamsters Local 70.

In rejecting the contract, Martinez Local 315 declared the California Trucking Association will have to come up with an offer of "parity" with San Francisco.

The vote came after Joseph J. Diviny, president of the Bay Area Joint Council of Teamsters, announced the strike might spread not only to Martinez but also to Watsonville, San Jose and Salinas.

Diviny disclosed the possible walkout Monday after a strategy session in San Francisco. Leaders of teamsters trucking locals in those cities and Alameda County attended.

Earlier, Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union threw its support to the strikers. About 450 longshoremen and warehousemen refused to work behind teamsters picket lines at Oakland and Alameda piers.

Four freighters had to sail without completing their loading operations. The docks affected were piers operated by Howard and Encinal terminals, both on their own property and at the Port of Oakland.

UAW Board Plans Meet

DETROIT (AP) - The United Auto Workers' 25-man International Executive Board will meet Aug. 8 to discuss setting a strike deadline at the auto industry's Big Three, the UAW announced today.

Yesterday, the union requested its national Ford, General Motors and Chrysler councils to meet in Detroit Aug. 9. Purpose of the parley would be to plan the UAW's home-stretch strategy in deadlocked contract talks with the auto makers.

Negotiations with the Big Three resume today after a weekend recess.

UAW members have been without contracts since the Memorial Day weekend. But industry observers say the nearing 1959 model year puts the union in a better bargaining position.

Strike votes among union members in Big Three auto plants show that 90 per cent of the membership is in favor of a walkout, if needed to back up contract demands, the UAW said.

Millions of dollars of merchandise is piled up on truck docks and in warehouses. Struck warehouses have been declared "off limits" to nonstriking San Francisco teamsters.

The wreckage of a P38 Lockheed Lightning fighter was found nearly buried in 14 feet of soft soil with one body in the wreckage, Wing Cmdr. Keith Rundle of the Amberley Air Force Base reported today.

Within 12 miles, the Australians found a B25 Martin Mitchell bomber and a Navy Grumman Wildcat fighter which had been shot down. Three bodies were found in the Mitchell. There were no bodies in the Grumman.

SILVAWOOL INSULATION FOR HOMES AND COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS

...another product of Weyerhaeuser development

Quantity production of Silvawool comes from this Weyerhaeuser-engineered plant. This machine performs one of several complex operations in the Company's Snoqualmie Falls, Washington, fiber plant.

Progress in forest product development helps to improve the economy of the Pacific Northwest. As new products are created and proved, new plants are built. Result: more jobs.

Silvawool is an example. Developed by Weyerhaeuser to use Pacific Northwest woods, Silvawool was first produced in a pilot plant. Later, to meet the demand from home owners, refrigeration specialists and building designers, a full scale production plant was built in Snoqualmie Falls, Washington.

Weyerhaeuser scientists and technicians are continually searching for new products. As new and better forest products are created, other new plants will be built.

New products create new payrolls. Together they help to stabilize local communities and expand the tax base to support government and schools.
