

NATIONAL CANNED SALMON WEEK is being observed this year from August 25 to 30. Here salmon borrows an idea from Italy and becomes Salmon Tetrazzini, combining the flavorful, pink flesh of the canned fish with sauteed mushrooms atop a nest of well seasoned spaghetti. Call the accompanying bread sticks by the Italian name, grissini.

Salmon Tetrazzini

Spaghetti doesn't necessarily have to have a tomato-meat sauce. You can serve it with spinach and sweet basil, if you like, or for National Canned Salmon Week, use it in Salmon Tetrazzini.

This recipe can be prepared in a short time. Chicken bouillon cubes may be used for the broth and canned mushrooms such as B in B. Broiled in Butter mushrooms in which case one small can will suffice.

Cook the spaghetti in plenty of water and don't overcook. The Italians never cook spaghetti until it is mushy. Wash in cold water and drain thoroughly.

SALMON TETRAZZINI
8 tablespoons (1/2 cup) butter
1/2 cup flour
2 cups hot chicken broth
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup sherry
1 pound can salmon
1/2 cup cream
1 pound spaghetti
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup bread crumbs

In a saucepan melt the 8 tablespoons butter and stir in the flour. Gradually stir in the hot chicken broth and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in salt, pepper, nutmeg and sherry. Stir in the liquid from the can of salmon and cook for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in the cream.

Cook spaghetti in rapidly boiling salted water until tender and drain.

Saute mushrooms in the 2 tablespoons butter for 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Mix half the sauce with the spaghetti and mushrooms and pour into a baking dish or deep platter. Make a hole in the center of the spaghetti. Mix remaining sauce with the flaked salmon and pour into the hole in the spaghetti. Sprinkle with cheese mixed with bread crumbs and brown lightly in a 350 degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

GEORGE C. BRENT, new General Mills sales representative for Southern Oregon was being introduced to the trade last week by E. D. Twitty, who is being promoted to the Portland General Mills office as a key account salesman after about nine months in the area. Brent is transferred from The Dalles and will make his home at Grants Pass. He is shown holding the two new Betty Crocker cereals.

New Cereals

It is a little unusual for a new salesman to introduce a brand new product at the same time he is being introduced around his new territory.

It happened to George C. Brent last week, however. E. D. (Damen) Twitty of Grants Pass was showing Brent around the Klamath area just before his (Twitty's) promotion and transfer to Portland as a key account salesman.

After introductions, Brent, who comes to Southern Oregon from The Dalles, produced packages of the new General Mills Cocoa Puffs and the new Hi-Pro dry cereal which will be seen on local grocers' shelves starting in August.

The new high protein cereal is ready-to-eat and its manufacturers claim it contains three times the amount of protein ever before put into a dry cereal.

The Cocoa Puffs, chocolate flavored corn cereal, are perfect for a snack. The youngsters will eat them out of hand "just like peanuts." Serve as a breakfast cereal with cream or milk, with fruit or plain. There is some sugar added to the cereal.

The whole family will love the crisp, crunchy "chocolatey" flavor of Cocoa Puffs.

FRINGE

Fringe is summer's newest accent to accessories. It is setting the pace for an important fashion feature in fall and winter fashions too. There are the chemise belts of silk shantung with 8-inch deep fringe caught with red rosebuds—the belt may be worn not only as a low placed belt on your chemise dress, but moved up under the bust to create the Empire look.

The very new headscarf bands are also made of fringe. These are matched with the new chemise styles. You'll find rows upon rows of silk fringe on chiffon stoles. You'll find rows upon rows of fringe on shawl.

This fall you will see fringe form full length evening wraps as it falls from a three cornered back-buttoned shawl. Popular too will be the long, slim Empire evening dresses bordered with short fringe of bugle beads. Longer bugle bead fringe will be found on the matching stoles.

Elegant indeed are the fringed fashions! But they require special care in wear and in drycleaning. Says the National Institute of Drycleaning in Silver Spring, Maryland. By its very nature, fringe has a tendency to tangle with wear. And when it is drycleaned, every precaution must be taken to prevent tangling and matting of the individual strands of fringe. It requires the patience of Job to straighten each strand and to keep all strands even in length.

If you accept this fashion in your wardrobe, it will be worth your while to consult your drycleaner on any special care that may be required to keep your fashion fashionable.
