

A FAMILY GATHERING that brought one member half way around the world to greet brothers, a sister, nieces and nephews and grand nieces and grand nephews was held on a very recent Sunday. The family met for a time of reminiscing and a picnic lunch on the shady lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Padgett, 1200 Pacific Terrace, old family friends. Boys and girls in the front row who probably had more fun than anyone else are, left to right, Jerry O'Connor, Judy O'Connor, Mary O'Connor, Jim O'Connor, Timmy O'Connor, Matt Hurley, John O'Connor, Joe Padgett, holding his cocker Timmy, and Mike Hurley.

(Jack) O'Connor, center, for the first time in 40 years. She has taught for 25 years in St. Clares College, Heliopolis, near Cairo, Egypt.

Lovely Portland Girl Bride Of Ramon E. Bell

Baskets of pink gladioli formed the setting of the evening wedding of Jacquelyn Ann Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Robertson, Portland, to Ramon Edwin Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Bell, 1935 Portland Street, Klamath Falls, in the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Portland.

The Rev. Robert Harvey officiated at the 8 o'clock wedding on Saturday, July 19.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a blush pink Chantilly lace and crystal-charm taffeta dress with fingertip veil falling from a pearl-trimmed lace cap. Her bouquet was of pink stephanotis.

Myrna Robertson, maid of honor for her sister, and the other attendants, Mrs. James A. Caughlan, Patricia Fagan, Leila Lemmon, Mrs. Eugene P. Owen Jr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, wore sheath dresses made of the same material as that of the bride and embroidered with seed pearls. The attendants all carried showers of pink alba lilies with maroon streamers.

Rodney Bell was his brother's best man. Ushers were Max Anderson, Clark Miller, Larry Ramm, William Soersky and Robert Stout.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Robertson, wore a champagne colored chiffon dress styled with a full skirt and champagne-colored accessories. Her corsage was chrysanthemum orchids. Mrs. Bell, mother of the bridegroom, chose a sheath of ice blue with which she wore ice blue accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

A reception was held at the Portland Yacht Club following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a full pink net cloth and had the bride's cake at one end and the bridegroom's cake at the other. Both cakes were pink-colored and were topped with minature bouquets of pink flowers. A piece of each cake was cut by the newlyweds before they were served to the guests.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bell, entertained at a garden party at their home on Portland Street on Saturday, August 2, in honor of the newly married couple, on the couple's return from a wedding trip to Lake Louise, Glacier National Park, Yellowstone and Sun Valley.

Both Jacquelyn and Ray are graduates of the University of Oregon where Jacquelyn was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and Ray of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

They will be at home in Bellevue, Washington. Ray is with Bell's Store Equipment and Company in Seattle.

FISHING GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ricono of North Riverside, Illinois, are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Glawe, 3533 Madison Street, during a vacation visit here.

Mrs. Ricono is a sister of Larry Glawe and the occasion marks their first visit together in seven years. Her husband is a dispatcher for Hotpoint Electric and they are enjoying Oregon fishing and recreation spots for the first time.

The Illinois guests are expressing unbounded enthusiasm for the Klamath country.

Visitors From N. J.

The Henry Strubels and daughter, Linda, of Colonia, New Jersey, are visiting with Strubel's brother and sister-in-law, the John Strubels at 1492 Lakeshore Drive.

The Jersey Strubels are active Republicans. Mrs. Strubel serving her sixth term on the Middlesex County Committee. She is also a newspaper reporter for the Elizabeth Daily Journal and the Perth Amboy Evening News. Strubel was Fifth District fire commissioner of Woodbridge for three years and has been a power engineer for the Aluminum Company of America the past 18 years.

The visiting couple's son, Navy Fireman John H. Strubel, stationed in California was also a recent guest of his aunt and uncle in Klamath Falls.
