

A FOAMING WHITE WAKE BEHIND A SPEEDING BOAT, a lithe skier balanced on his water ski and a pleasant day and you have all the essentials of the boating fad that has taken over the country today.

WATER SAFETY is a must with the boating fraternity. Here Bill Vannice makes sure that Jimmy and Peggy are all safely tucked into life jackets before starting out for an afternoon of water skiing.

Poison Lake Timber Sold

White Pine Lumber Company has purchased the Poison Lake Timbersale unit put up for bid by the Modoc National Forest on July 21. The timber is located about four miles southeast from New Pine Creek, in the Pine Creek drainage. Volume is 1½ million board feet of pine, and four million board feet of white fir.

Logging plans are indefinite as to the start of operations. Removal of the timber will involve construction of three miles of main haul road plus four miles of spur road. Snags and cull trees will be felled at the time green timber is harvested.

Two thousand dollars will be deposited to do stand improvement work. This work will be done by the Forest Service following logging, and will consist of ground scarification to provide a mineral plus some planting of pine in understocked areas.

LIMITING LAW

FINDLAY, Ohio — Under a new city ordinance, merchants are forbidden to enlarge their inventories for the purpose of holding "going-out-of-business" sales.

THE COVER

Lynn Arnold and Carol Brisbon were taking off for a ride on Upper Klamath Lake when Herald and News Photographer Don Kettler snapped this shot. Lynn is but one of many enthusiastic boaters who are making increasing use of the Upper Lake for water sports during the summer season.

LOW THREAT

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Neatest threat of the week: A food store robber jabbed a revolver into the stomach of proprietor Edward Blackard and said: "Don't move or I'll blow your head off."

BIG POST

DENVER — Leyden-Chiles-Wickersham Post of the American Legion claims the largest membership in the country with 9,875 members.
