

U of O Coach Pleads For New Life In PCC

By HAL WOOD
 United Press International
 PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Coach Len Casanova of University of Oregon pleaded with Pacific Coast Conference officials today to "forgive and forget, try to live under the same tent," in an effort to save college football on the West Coast.

With all signs pointing to a formal break-up of the PCC at a meeting here this weekend, Casanova proposed that representatives of the schools get together and iron out their differences.

"Some of the schools, I understand, plan to go it alone as independents," said Casanova. "I coached at Pittsburgh and Santa Clara, both independent schools, and it's no good. You need a conference."

Casanova pointed out that the failure of the Pacific Coast Conference and the inroads pro sports teams are making in Los Angeles and San Francisco could result in the death of college football in the West.

"If you don't believe it, look at what professional sports have done to good college sports around New York. Remember the fine football teams they used to have at Fordham and New York University?"

KF Archers Collect Wins

LAKEVIEW — Klamath archers walked off with their share of honors in Sunday's annual invitational shoot held by the Lakeview Bowmen in Lakeview. Twenty-eight big game targets and 14 small game targets had been set up for the event.

Don Smith of Klamath Falls won top honors of the day with a score of 940. Second place went to Herb Gifford of Medford with a total score of 890 in the men's instinctive division.

In the women's instinctive division, Jerry Williams of Medford won first place and Beth Pohl of Chiloquin placed second. Audrey Baxter of Klamath Falls won first place in women's free style division.

In the men's free style, Lee Parry of Lakeview and Walter Bower of Klamath Falls tied for first. In the shoot-off, Parry took the honors.

In the junior boys' division, Bobby Derring of Klamath Falls took first with a score of 780. Rick Hillan of Malin placed second with a score of 600 points.

Sue Gifford of Medford placed first in the junior girls' division with a score of 490. Carolyn Sample's score of 380 put her in second place.

The Klamath Archers will hold a regular potluck supper on Thursday evening, August 7, at the Moore Park Archery Range. Those attending are asked to bring a dish. The club will provide coffee. A business meeting will follow the meal. All persons interested in archery are invited to attend. There will be shooting before dinner.

On Sunday, August 10, Klamath Archers will hold their annual shoot for club trophies. Divisions will be men's instinctive, men's free style, women's instinctive, women's free style, junior boys and junior girls.

An early hunting season in the Keno area is announced, and archers with long bows and broadheads are being permitted to hunt from August 20 to September 21.

Faculty stay out
 It is Casanova's opinion that the school faculty members should not meddle in the affairs of the conference.

"They should be charged only with handling the eligibility," said Casanova. "After all, what do they know about athletics?"

"I believe the athletic directors and coaches should run the conference. If they can't do it the way they should, then they should be fired. But they start off knowing what should be done in sports."

It appears that Casanova's plea may come late—because a majority of the schools already have announced they will vote for a dissolution of the conference.

"If that comes about I fear for the collegiate football game in the West," said Casanova. "It could result in college football out here attracting crowds like the college baseball teams do."

College Cagers Set For TV Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—College basketball will be televised nationally on a Saturday afternoon game-of-the-week basis starting Dec. 14. The National Broadcasting Co. said Wednesday that the college telecasts would replace the pro basketball series which had been switched previously to Sundays.

The college series will run 14 Saturdays, concluding March 21, except for Dec. 27.

The schedule of games has not been drawn up, but it is believed a conflict of time difference would rule out any Pacific Coast games as they would finish too late and interfere with regular Saturday night shows.

Card-Portland Game Said SRO

PORTLAND (AP)—The exhibition baseball game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Portland Beavers here Aug. 11 promised Wednesday to draw a near capacity crowd. Reserved seat tickets were reported nearly all sold.

In addition to the game, the tion of Queen of Portland Baseball evening will be occasion for selection of Stan Musial and his Cardinal teammates.

The field of contenders will be cut to 10 Sunday in a between-games selection by the Portland players. The queen contest is another in the series of attendance promotions aimed at bolstering the slim crowds at Beaver games this season.

Pitching coach Mel Harder of the Cleveland Indians had a 223-186 record for 20 seasons with the same team.

Cubs - Not Giants - Surprise Of Torrid NL Pennant Race

NEW YORK (NEA)—If the Giants are the surprise of the most unusual National League race, the Cubs are positively phenomenal.

And not a few learned baseball men now will tell you that of the two, the Chicago outfit is likely to go the farthest. The Brinks are loaded with good pitching and the younger members of the staff figure to get even better. Lee Walls, Ernie Banks, Bobby Thomson, Walt Moryn and Dale Long are power hitters.

Bob Scheffing's outfit has the distinct advantage of playing 77 home games on green grass and in the afternoon sunshine. Remember those good old days?

And then there is Alvin Dark. Every time he is traded, Dark, now 33, turns out to be a silver lining for the club landing him.

"When you get down to it," says Manager Scheffing, "the Cubs' success really began the afternoon of May 21, when Dark checked into the hotel in Pittsburgh and came to my room. We had sent Jim Brennan to the Cardinals for him a few hours previously."

"Alvin told me he was happy at third base, assured me he was in shape to play every day."

"It didn't take me long to get the idea that Alvin was on the way to the best year of his career. Before he jammed his ankle and had to sit out for a couple of days, he hit .330 and was terrific defensively."

With 22-year-old Tony Taylor at second base and the self-effacing Banks playing shortstop, the Cubs were badly in need of an aggressive old pro to take charge of the infield.

Paige Fumes, Says Adios To Miami '9'

MONTREAL (UPI) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige, fabulous 32-year old Negro pitcher, has "hit the road"—and it could lead to the end of his baseball trail.

Paige left his club, the Miami Marlins of the International League, Tuesday night and general manager Joe Ryan said: "He has departed the club. He is off the payroll. But he has not been granted his unconditional release and his contract is still the property of the Miami club."

Ryan refused to disclose the nature of the dispute between Paige and the Marlins but said, "We have hopes everything will be smoothed over."

Paige, believed to have been born in Mobile, Ala., on July 7, 1906, built a brilliant reputation in Negro leagues and in exhibition games involving major league players but could never reach the majors until 1948, the year after Jackie Robinson broke the color line with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Although 42 years old, Paige compiled a 6-1 record for the Indians.

His five-year major league record showed 23 victories and 31 losses—more than enough to justify the reputation he had made in Negro leagues.

Guards, MB Post Victories

National Guard and league champion Market Basket notched wins in Tuesday night's Men's Softball League action on Conger Field.

The National Guards whipped the Big Y 8-5 behind the four-hit pitching of Dale Himmelwright. The Guards scored three times in the third inning to break open a 2-2 ball game and led the rest of the way.

Dick Halter pitched Market Basket to a 6-3 win over Mouldingcraft. Max Revis homered with two on in the second inning for Market Basket. Norm Geyer clouted out a pair of hits in three trips for the losers, one a double.

American Thinclads Snare Nod

BUDAPEST (AP)—Horace Ashenfelder first taught Americans all steeplechasers aren't horses. Phil Coleman has taken it from there.

Coleman is a 27-year-old teacher from Champaign, Ill., who won the 3,000-meter steeplechase Tuesday against a group of very good Hungarians and Czechoslovakians in a track and field meet which ends Wednesday night. Americans won 11 of the 15 events Tuesday but no official point scores were kept, as at Moscow and Warsaw.

Coleman's victory was the most significant for an American distance runner since Ashenfelder looked over his shoulder during the 1952 Olympic steeplechase at Helsinki, saw a Russian closing in and then beat the Soviet runner in the Russian's favorite event.

Coleman's triumph along with the fine distance running by Bill Dellinger, former University of Oregon athlete now in the U. S. armed services at Neah Bay, Wash., should do much toward making their events more popular at home.

Coleman's time over the water jump and heavy hurdles Tuesday was 8:43.4.

Dellinger, 24, is ordinarily a 5,000-meter runner.

He didn't know until Tuesday he could run the 1500 meters (he metric mile) so well. But after running 5,000 meters in 14:28.4 and 14:04.8 at Moscow and Warsaw, he decided to try the 1500. He was highly successful and set an American record of 3:41.5—roughly equivalent to a sub-four-minute mile of 3:59.5.

"Dellinger will be giving more attention to miles races from now on," said Coach George Eastman.

Dellinger's race, however, was not good enough for victory as Istvan Rozsavoelgyi of Hungary improved on his own accepted world record for 1500 meters with a 3:40.3 clocking.

Top American victories also were turned in by Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, in the 400 meters with a 45.6 clocking and Earlene Brown, Los Angeles housewife. Mrs. Brown won the discus throw with a toss of 136 feet, 7.89 in.

Senators Near Elimination Spot

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It's a toss-up who adjourns first—the lawmaking Senators or the baseball Senators.

Current estimates are that the present session of Congress will end in two or three weeks.

But baseball's last-place Senators may not last that long. Any combination of 26 Senator losses and New York Yankee wins—and the Yankees win about as often as the Senators lose—means this town's team once again will be the first team eliminated from the big league pennant races.

Al Carpenter Shoot Winner

Al Carpenter won the first leg on the new Class C & D trophy put up by Jim Fisher in last Sunday's Klamath Gun Club shoot at the Wocus Traps.

Bill Davis won his second leg on the E. E. Driscoll trophy and Nelson Reed and John Lichtenstern split the honors on the doubles in the other action of the day. Davis fired a 44 of 50 score while Reed and Lichtenstern shot 41s.

Members of the club are concentrating on sharpening their shooting eye for the registered shoot to be held here August 16-17. A number of the state's leading trapshooters will be on hand.

First To Quality

Maverick Turns In 119.956 Time In Hydro Cup Warmup

SEATTLE (AP)—Bill Stead of Reno, Nev., whipped the monstrous mahogany Maverick up to 119.956 miles an hour Tuesday and opened Seattle's annual week of speedboat madness by becoming first to qualify for Sunday's 51st running of the Gold Cup race.

Miss Pay 'n' Save, one of nine Seattle entries, became the second qualifier, barely beating the minimum with a 95.832 miles an hour average.

Although there was little to see and long gaps of dull time between the appearances of the big unlimited hydroplane, thousands of persons elbowed one another for vantage points on the sunny shoreline of Lake Washington.

The official parking lot, which holds 1,200 cars, was crammed to capacity.

As the boats came out for trial runs or qualifying attempts, a yellow Coast Guard helicopter lifted from its perch on a barge near the pits to patrol the route. Coast Guard cutters and small craft lined the three mile course, ready to rush to the aid of troubled drivers.

And several were troubled. Hawaii Kai III reeled off one lap at 119 miles an hour and caught fire in the second lap. Driver Jack Regas and nearby coast-guardmen doused the blaze. Thriftway Too had engine trouble after a 101 mph lap and had to be towed ashore.

Miss Spokane romped one lap at 108 and retired with mechanical trouble.

Nineteen boats had entered the race but everyone must qualify by clicking off three laps at an average speed of 95 miles an hour or better. Few will be content to settle at 95, the drivers shooting for the Cooper trophy which goes to the speediest qualifier each year.

Stead cracked his own qualifying record set last year at 117 mph, giving the other drivers a tough target. Wildroot Charlie, the Buffalo, N.Y., entry, turned one lap at 97 and pulled off the course.

Miss Bardahl of Seattle got in a lap at 100 before heading for the pit for tuning.

All of this year's entries are capable of making the basic 95 miles an hour. If all get in, the first two heats of the Sunday race will have to be split into three sections each. Race rules limit each running to seven boats.

The best seven will qualify for the final 30 mile heat of the 90 mile race.

Pope-Young Bow Test Set

Hunting archers from throughout Oregon will gather August 23 and 24 north of Corvallis for the annual Pope-Young Archery Meet to sharpen their aim for the year's hunting season.

The meet annually held Labor Day weekend has been scheduled a week earlier than usual because of the early opening of the archery season.

The Corvallis-Benton Bowmen will host the meet on their field and entrants will compete in the ward, clout and Pope-Young animal round to test their skill. Numerous prizes will be awarded in each class and for various age groups.

Tackle used in this tourney will be bows and broadhead arrows of legal weight as prescribed by the game commission.

Ruler Retired By Fitzsimmons

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI)—Bold Ruler, a four-year-old colt who gained sports fame in less than two years of racing, has been retired by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, 84-year-old dean of thoroughbred trainers.

Bold Ruler earned $764,204, won 23 of 33 starts and was voted "horse of the year" in 1957. Fitzsimmons announced Monday that Bold Ruler has been stopped by an ankle injury.
