

Graham Documentary Film To Be Shown Sunday Night

"Miracle in Manhattan," the documentary film account of Billy Graham's New York crusade will have a night showing at the Altamont Junior High School Sunday, August 10, at 7:30 p.m. Jinx Falkenburg and Tex McCrary report the 16-week coverage of Evangelist Graham's largest crusade for Christianity. This popular "Mr. and Mrs. New York" team head their own NBC television program emanating daily from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

They set the stage with a photographic tour of Manhattan, followed by the excitement of the crusade's opening night in Madison Square Garden. Successive meetings in Brooklyn, Central Park, Forest Hills, Harlem and Wall Street's financial district emphasize greater New York City's spiritual interest in the crusade.

In the gigantic sports arena of Madison Square Garden where men like Rocky Graziano and Joe Louis once punched their opponents into unconsciousness, the film offers a front row perspective of the Graham team in spiritual combat. The arena becomes a cathedral and the dynamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of the massive choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

Nearly two million persons attended Madison Square Garden during the 16 weeks of crusade activity, making this "spiritual campaign" the largest sustained effort for evangelism in the history of the church. The film is released by World Wide Pictures, Hollywood, the organization which produces and distributes all of the Billy Graham films.

The doors to Altamont Junior High School will be open at 7:10 p.m. All seats are on a first-come basis, with no admission charge.

SOC Summer Classes Set

ASHLAND — Post summer session classes at Southern Oregon College are scheduled to begin August 11 and will conclude August 22 it was announced by Mrs. Mabel Winston, registrar.

Students may enroll in either methods and research materials in social studies or methods and research materials in music. Both courses may be taken by elementary and secondary teachers, and may be taken for graduate or undergraduate credit. If desired, the music course may be taken as music 383.

The social studies will be taught by Miss Vera Larson, a visiting member of the faculty and principal of Sacajewea primary school in Portland. She was graduated from the University of Oregon with a B.S. in elementary education in 1946, and received her master's degree from the same school in 1956. She is active in the professional organizations and was chairman of the committee that produced the spelling that has been in use in the Portland system since 1953.

Miss Helene Robinson will guide the music workshop in the post session, and is a regular member of the SOC faculty. She spent the first part of the summer at the University of Southern California working on her doctorate.

In addition to the regular post session, the Institute of Renaissance Studies of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival will offer courses in the field of humanities which may be taken for SOC credit.

E. NELSON SANDGREN

Prof To Lead Art Workshop

An Oregon State College associate professor will direct the 1958 Klamath Art Workshop beginning Monday, August 11.

E. Nelson Sandgren, the workshop director, has exhibited paintings in different museums in this country, in the International Exchange Prints Exhibits in Italy, and in France and Great Britain.

At the Klamath Art Workshop, Sandgren will offer two weeks of instruction in the use of oils, water colors, and other art media. Much of the workshop's program will be held outside, taking advantage of Klamath Falls scenic attractions and their subtle color shading.

The institute will be held on the campus of Oregon Technical Institute and offers students attending full-day sessions three hours of college credit. Two hours credit is offered those attending half-day sessions.

Further information on the workshop, jointly sponsored by the extension division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education and the Klamath Art Association, may be obtained by writing Klamath Art Workshop, Box 955, Klamath Falls.

Drama Critic Views Plays

ASHLAND — Henry Hewes, a leading theatrical critic, and drama editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, focused critical attention of the highest rank on the Oregon Shakespearean Festival at Ashland this past week. Hewes attended productions of "The Merchant of Venice," and "Troilus and Cressida" during the regular theatrical playing of these Shakespearean dramas at the theater. The drama critic lectured on his views of the American Theater at one of the regular sessions at the Gresham Room of the Ashland Public Library. Hewes discussed the aims and methods of the festival with its key personnel during a staff luncheon meeting while in Ashland.

He has traveled widely and has a scholar's knowledge of the working theater. He has often been described as "a shrewd, keen, and sensitive writer, without the acid edge so many have a capacity for." He has also been praised for his ability to understand the aims and the methods of the theater. He criticizes Saturday Review is acknowledged to be one of the leading exponents of arts and ideas throughout the world.

Festival officials have expressed pleasure at this opportunity to stage their productions for one of the world's leading theatrical critics.

SISTER DIES

BEVERLY HILLS Calif. (AP) — Composer Hoagy Carmichael's sister died in her sleep at her home here, apparently of natural causes. An autopsy has been ordered. Mrs. Martha Clayton, widow of author John Bell Clayton, would have been 77 today. She had been under treatment for a nervous condition.

ROY GARRISON and JIM ROBINETTE

Two Local Students Study At College In Mexico City

Summer school in Mexico offers more attractions than summer school at home, two Klamath County students decided, so they went to Mexico City College for their needed credits.

Roy Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garrison, 2508 Hope Street, Klamath Falls, and Jim Robinette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Robinette, Route 1, Klamath Falls, both are students at Oregon State College in Corvallis.

But this summer they decided to mix travel with formal education at Mexico City College, an 18-year-old American school in Mexico's capital city which offers a standard curriculum acceptable to most colleges in the United States.

The usual attractions of Mexico City and its environs—ancient Toltec pyramids, castles and cathedrals from the Spanish period, fascinating archeological digging—are augmented by the modern museums, buildings, theaters and other attractions in one of the world's most cosmopolitan cities.

The fascination of living and studying in a foreign country is heightened even further by the faculty at Mexico City College, which offers all-English courses taught by scholars from Europe and South America as well as Mexico and the United States.

Garrison will be a senior upon his return to Oregon State this fall. He is an agriculture economics major and a 1955 graduate of K.U.H.S. Robinette, a 1955 graduate of Henley High School, is an engineering student.

GRANGE NEWS

NEW PINE CREEK — The East-side Grange met in regular session Saturday night, August 2. The members voted to put in a booth at the Lake County Fair. Fred Fisher volunteered to help the booth committee with the work of installing it, and Lee Bernard will furnish the lumber.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinsey of Lakeview were guests. Kinsey is the master of the Summer Lake Grange.

The next meeting of the grange will be August 16 with a watermelon feed as a special feature. Mrs. Wanda Slimmer is assisting with soliciting donations of usable articles from church members and friends.

Mental Health Association Names New Program Head

The Mental Health Association of Oregon has secured the services of Hope Spencer to fill the new position of state program director, working out of the Portland office at 204 SW 11th Avenue.

Miss Spencer started her first tour of official visits to organized chapters of the association and interested groups by making a trip said in making the announcement of her appointment. "She has wide experience in both community organization and mental health."

Prior to becoming state program consultant for the Oregon Heart Association, her most recent position, Miss Spencer was for seven years executive director of the Greater Vancouver (B. C.) Health League. During much of that time, the program was focused on initiating a home for emotionally disturbed children, increasing the number of mental health coordinators and founding a mental health association. She also has had experience carrying out research in community organization, doing health education with government agencies and in fund raising.

Miss Spencer has a Master of Arts degree in sociology from the University of Toronto and obtained her BA from the University of Alberta.

Mrs. Geary, who is chairman of the Klamath County Child Guidance Advisory Council in addition to her position with the state mental health association, commented that Miss Spencer's new duties will be of great assistance to the child guidance work here. The advisory board will resume regular meetings in September, Mrs. Geary said.

HOPE SPENCER

this week to Southern Oregon. She was a Klamath Falls guest on Wednesday to meet Mrs. E. A. Geary, only local member of the state board of directors of the association. While here, Miss Spencer visited the Klamath County health offices which are headed by Dr. S. M. Kerron; the welfare department, tuberculosis and health department, United Fund office and called on the superintendents of the city and county school systems.

"The board is very fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Spencer," Howard Van Nice, association president at Portland,
