Lovely Garden Blooms In Presbyterian Church Setting For Malin Rites

MALIN — Malin Presbyterian Church was the setting for the pretty summer wedding of Elizabeth Laura Bunnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bunnell of Malin, and Rodney Ivan Ottoman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan F. Ottoman, former Malin residents now living in Tulelake. They were married July 26.

The 2 p.m. ceremony was read by the Rev. Ethen Whitman before a background of basket arrangements of gold chrysanthemums, the color scheme chosen by the bride for her wedding.

Mrs. George Fabianek sang "Through the Years," and "How I Love Thee," accompanied by organist, Mrs. Ab Herringshaw, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an all-white gown with the very full skirt of cystallette falling from an empire waistline. The lace top was fashioned with short sleeves and sweetheart neckline outlined with a band of cystallette matching the band around the waistline. Her fingertip veil of illusion net held in place by a small open crown edged with pleated tulle and accented with seed pearls and iridescent was borrowed from her sister, Mrs. J. Patrick Madden of Corvallis.

She carried a graceful spray arrangement of white roses accented with white satin ribbon.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Shirley Bunnell, whose sheath-style dress was made of white lace over gold taffeta with a cummerbund of gold taffeta at the waist. Bridesmaids were Mrs. J. Patrick Madden, also a sister of the bride, Alice Ann Stiles of Antioch, California, and Carla Irene Norman of Rainier, Oregon, both of whom were college friends and teachers with the bride in Pittsburg, California.

Their turquoise dresses were similar to the maid of honor's. All attendants wore floral headbands of white carnations and carried bouquets of chiffon daisies dyed to match their dresses.

Ronald John Bunnell of Merrill, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Norman Ottoman, cousin of the bridegroom; Kenneth Hershefelt of Klamath Falls, Wayne Rick and Donald Uruh. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs.

Bunnell chose an afternoon dress of beige lace over rose taffeta with beige accessories and rose-colored matching jewelry. Mrs. Ottoman wore a blue lace dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the community hall. The beautifully decorated cake made by Mrs. Schmidt was served by Mrs. Earl Taber and Mrs. Harold Young, aunts of the bride. At the coffee service was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Mikolas of Eureka, California. Serving punch was Mrs. Emil Schiesel, also the bride's aunt. Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Wayne Rick. Mrs. Ronald McVay was at the gift table and Mrs. Ivan Vaughn assisted with corsages and other flowers.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a white linen sheath dress trimmed with beige, a beige duster and white accessories. After a honeymoon in a summer home on Hood's Canal in Washington, the young couple will be at home in the Kalina Apartments in Malin.

The bride is a Malin High School graduate and was graduated from Oregon State College in 1957. The past year she has taught at Parkside Elementary School in Pittsburg and plans to teach in the Malin grade school this fall. Rodney attended school in Malin and graduated from Clover Park High School in Tacoma. He has recently completed 15 months service in the Army in Alaska and is now farming in the Malin area.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stiles of Antioch; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mikolas of Eureka, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Phoebe Hawkins, Crescent City, the bride's aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Vaughn of Ashland; Marcia Prescott of Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. J. Patrick Madden of Corvallis, and from Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Al Thomas and family and Miss Kay Johnson.

Rebekah Official In McCloud

McCLOUD—Mrs. Mildred Lockart of Dunsuir, Rebekah District 69 deputy, made her official visit to Shasta Lily Rebekah Lodge No. 345 in McCloud Thursday.

She was presented a gift by local lodge noble grand, Lourene Bishop. The presentation was made in a heart shaped entrance to a flower garden, formed from bouquets of flowers carried by Thelma Welch, Margaret Stoner, Gertrude Gist, Ruth Sisk, Daisy Downens, Ruby Schumacher, Julia Olovson and Hilda Stone. The presentation was made up by Julia Olovson.

Tables were set with open Bibles and candles, the latter in the deputy's colors. Refreshments were served by committee chairman, Julia Olovson, Hilda Stone, Thelma Welch, Daisy Downens and Gertrude Gist. Thelma Welch was on the decorating committee.

About 35 members and guests attended.

Epicurean dessert: English wafers-biscuits—we'd call them crackers—served with cream cheese and fine preserved strawberry jam or the French Bar-le-Duc (a preserve made from seeded currants).

EAST OF THE SUN formed the decor for the luncheon given by the Klamath Falls Rotary Anns in honor of Mrs. Leslie White, Albany, wife of the president of the Southern Oregon District of Rotary Clubs, at the Yacht Club on Friday, August 1. As individual favors, small Japanese fans with vari-colored summer flowers carried out the Oriental theme. A trio, composed of Mrs. Robert Egge, Mrs. Lyle Kellsfron and Mrs. George Dugan, entertained the guests with several songs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kathy Halaas. Seated at the head table, from the left, are Mrs. Adolph Zamsky, whose husband is president of the local Rotary Club; Mrs. White; and Mrs. Rodney Murray, wife of the social affairs chairman of the Klamath Falls Rotary Club.

Lucy Cornelius Weds D. H. Morris

Baskets of yellow and white gladioli and large yellow chrysanthemums formed the setting of the afternoon wedding of Lucy Cornelius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Cornelius, 2361 Vine Avenue, Klamath Falls, to Duane Harold Morris, son of Mrs. Alice Morris, Racine, Wisconsin.

The Rev. Raymond Redal officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, July 26, in the Klamath Lutheran Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length dress of white embroidered Swiss silk organza over net and taffeta. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil. She carried a small white Bible, topped with three white orchids surrounded with stehantotis.

Patricia Isensee, maid of honor, wore a frock of ice blue taffeta with matching satin slippers. Her lovely long blonde pony tail fell through a circle of shattered carnations and net. Her bouquet was of pale yellow roses, ice blue net and yellow shattered carnations.

Richard Christiansen of Racine Wisconsin, performed the best man duties for the bridegroom, and Don Isensee seated the guests.

Mrs. Cornelius, mother of the bride, chose a pale blue sheath with which she wore white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Morris, donned a pink dress trimmed in lace and she also had white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white rosebuds with pale yellow accents.

After the wedding, the guests gathered at Sari's Restaurant for an Italian dinner. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. E. D. Isensee.

Charlote Isensee registered the guests.

The newlyweds will make their home in Klamath Falls until October 12 when Duane will report for active duty in the U.S. Air Force in Texas as a second lieutenant.

Lucy is a graduate of Augustana Academy, Canton, South Dakota.

Leftover cooked rice in the refrigerator? You can glamorize it by mixing it with well drained crushed pineapple and folding in sweetened whipped cream. Have the pineapple chilled before adding and garnish the dessert with cherries.
