Two victims of a Saturday night automobile accident east of Beatty were discharged from Klamath Valley Hospital over the weekend.

Hospital attendants said Walter M. Thorne Jr., 19, 1770 Siskiyou Street, and Melvin D. Hunt, 28, Merrill, were discharged Sunday.

A third person admitted after the accident, Franklin Long Jr., 22, Route 2, was reported "doing fine." His injuries were confined to multiple lacerations, the hospital said.

State Police said Thorne and Long were in a pickup truck that collided with a flatbed truck driven by Hunt on Highway 66.

Also reported "doing fine" was George Chubb, 36, of 924 Jefferson Street, who city police said was injured when he attempted to break up a fight. Hospital attendants said Cook had a fractured vertebrae.

FLIP IS SLIP

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bartender Dale L. Davenport emptied the cash register while the gunman nervously waved his revolver. The gun fell open, Davenport leaped across the bar and, with the help of a patron, subdued the bandit. Davenport explained that when the gun flipped open, he saw only a cap compartment where the bullets should have been.

Water Suit Nears End

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Testimony about another disputed piece of land along the Colorado River was to be presented today in the final stages of the Colorado River water suit.

The land in question was 2,000 acres of the Fort Hohovav Indian Reservation. The dispute arose over a misplaced stone marker.

The trial resumed Monday after a three-week recess with testimony about 6,000 acres held along the river by California.

Walter Jiechel Jr., a Department of Justice lawyer, explained the boundary of the Colorado River Indian Reservation was set in 1876 as being the west bank of the river.

However, the river has changed its course several times since then and now is east of the old position. The federal government claims the difference.

But Californians have been farming this land in the belief that they had clear title. The largest stockyard west of Kansas City, Mo., is located in the disputed portion.

Jerome Muys, California attorney, objected to the government's testimony. He said special Master Simon H. Rifkind would have no right to decide the ownership of the land when its supposed owners were not parties to the litigation.

"Very well, I'll take note of the objection," Rifkind said.

The boundary question was introduced because it affects the number of acres for which the government can claim water. It asks about 20,000 acre feet for the disputed portion of the Colorado River reservation.

The water suit was filed by Arizona in an attempt to clarify rights to 2,300,000 acre feet of the river's main flow, just west of the Gila River system.

If Arizona wins the suit, California stands to lose from a million to 1,500,000 annual acre feet of its share of the water.

Desertion Hearings Set

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Aug. 21 for three persons held on child desertion charges in the swapping of a 5-month-old boy.

Held in lieu of $5,000 bond each are Richard Readdy, 26, Shamokin, Pa., and his wife Helen Margaret, 20. They pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of child desertion.

Jesse L. Burger, 41, El Dorado Springs, Mo., is held on a $2,500 bond after pleading innocent to a charge of aiding and abetting the Readdys in their alleged offense.

Paul Andrew, 5-month-old son of the Readdys, is at the Tulsa Juvenile Shelter, his future still undetermined.

The Pennsylvania couple is accused of trading the infant to Burger for the man's 1957 pickup truck.

The swap allegedly occurred after Burger, en route to Tulsa, picked up the young, jobless, almost broke couple as they hitchhiked to California.

In Shamokin the woman's father, William Murphy, said he wants the child if granted custody. He added: "I will be glad to make a home for my daughter, her husband and the baby if they want to come home. I think they are confused and mixed up and need someone to look out after them."

Small Damage In Lumber Fire

The lucky chance that last night's fire at the plant of Klamath Hardwoods, Incorporated, on the Weed Highway, broke out during a change of shifts, resulted in small damage from what might otherwise have been a terrific blaze.

The fire started with a carelessly lit match, in the oil house situated between the two mills. The match caused some acetone to explode, setting fire to the oil. The oil house was soon burning merrily about 12:15.

The mills would have been threatened, except for the fact that the small graveyard shift had just reported for work, and not all the swing shift had yet gone home. Thanks to this circumstance, it was possible to muster about 20 men to battle the fire hoses. One was brought to play on the burning building from each of the mills, and by the time the Stewart Lenox Fire Department arrived at 12:40 the fire was under control with Klamath Hardwoods short one oil house.

Youth Arraigned In Dorris Court

DORRIS — Norman Dale Cox of Klamath Falls was arraigned in justice court here Monday on a charge of failing to stop and render aid at the scene of an accident.

Judge Les Chase placed Cox under $1,000 bond and ordered him sent to the Siskiyou County Jail in Yreka in lieu of bond. Chase said Cox had requested the services of a county defender.

The charge against Cox grew out of an automobile accident north of Weed on U.S. 97 on June 15, 1957.

At a hearing in Klamath County District Court last week, Cox contested the legality of an extradition warrant from Oregon. However, authorities said, Cox later agreed to accept extradition, and was returned here Monday from the Klamath County Jail.

Demos Pick Candidates

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Idaho Democrats chose a candidate today to run against Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie in November.

Smylie, 43, who is completing his first term, was unopposed in the GOP column.

The four-way race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination has been highlighted by the controversial gambling proposal of A. M. Derr, a state senator and lumberman from Clark Fork.

Derr, 55, wants Idaho to license, on a local-option basis, gambling casinos such as those in neighboring Nevada. He says this would bring in needed money through taxes on the gambling and through increased tourist trade.

Derr's two principal opponents are John Glasby, 43, former state Democratic chairman from Mountain Home, and State Sen. Max Hanson, 38, a wheat farmer from Fairfield. Both denounced the gambling proposal. So did Smylie.

Tokyo Blasts Atom Policy

TOKYO (AP) — Socialist Party Chairman Masaburo Suzuki accused the United States today of trying to dominate the world with nuclear weapons.

The leader of the opposition to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government addressed the opening session of the fourth National Conference Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs. Some 6,000 Japanese delegates and representatives from 22 foreign countries attended.

Suzuki charged the United States with stationing nuclear weapons in Europe and other parts of the world and with aggression in the Middle East. The predominantly leftist audience applauded frequently.

Queen, DiMag 'Just Pals'

SMITHFIELD, Va. (AP) — Beauty queen Marian McKnight of Manning, S.C., says ex-Navy Yankee slugger Joe DiMaggio is "a very charming and a very wonderful man" but "we are not thinking of marriage."

This was Miss America of 1957's reply to reporters' queries after she saw the former baseball great off at Norfolk's Municipal Airport last night.

The pair were in a group spending the weekend at the farm near here of V. G. Monette, owner of a food supply firm.

Bonnie Miss McKnight said her arrival with DiMaggio at Norfolk on a plane from New York Saturday was a coincidence. She said there is no romance between her and DiMaggio, an ex-husband of movie queen Marilyn Monroe. She insisted most of her attention is for her studies at UCLA and that "I'm not interested in latching on to anyone right now."

She said she and DiMaggio met in 1956 and that they had not seen each other again until their encounter in New York.

Miss McKnight said she will work in public relations for the Monette firm, which supplies food to the armed forces, when she graduates from UCLA.

IMPROVED

Improvement in the conditions of both Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Conrady, 2139 Orchard Avenue, was reported by Klamath Valley Hospital authorities Tuesday morning. They were hospitalized Sunday evening when riding struck the side of an oncoming car. Both were severely cut. Conrady had a broken collarbone, and his wife a broken leg. "Better" was the word used to describe their conditions this morning.

SAM RITCHEY

Ritchey Joins UF-RC Crew

Another prominent Klamath Falls business man joined the ranks of United Fund-Red Cross volunteer workers, when Sam Ritchey, local California Oregon Power Company manager, agreed to head the special services division for this year's drive.

The drive's selection committee felt that Ritchey's experienced leadership would assure a bang-up job in the special services division, one of the smallest, yet most important, divisions of the campaign.

Ritchey came to Klamath Falls in 1927 and immediately went to work for Copco. During the intervening 31 years he has been very active in community activities, serving for over 12 years on the advisory board of the Salvation Army, of which he is a former chairman. He has also devoted many years of service to the Boy Scouts, in which he is now Klamath District commissioner within the Modoc Area Council. He is a past vice president of the Community Chest, past president of the Rotary Club, and a member of the chamber of commerce.

4-H Fair Plans Told

Klamath Falls Rotarians viewing nearly 300 head of livestock and committee inspecting flower and vegetable gardens raised by Klamath County 4-H and Future Farmers of America members, predicted that the 1958, 23rd annual Klamath Junior Fair will bring in some of the finest exhibits to go under the eyes of judges in many years.

Dates of this year's event to be held in the Klamath County Fairgrounds are August 17, 18 and 19.

Some 200 spots were made by two teams of Rotarians to farms where boys and girls are growing 100 head of beef animals, dairy animals, 110 sheep and 75 hogs.

The garden tour this week was conducted by 4-H agents, Lillian Hoffman and Francis Skinner.

Following receipt of livestock on Saturday, August 16, at the fairgrounds, procedure will continue in the routine of previous years, through livestock judging, showmanship and herdsman contests, flower arranging, food preservation, vegetable judging, flower judging, contests, vegetable and food preservation contests and other features of the show.

Final day of the show will conclude with the grand entry of exhibitors and livestock before the grandstand during serving of the invitational barbecue, announcement of winners in all divisions, crowning of the garden king and queen and the livestock sale in the livestock arena.

Admittance to the grandstand for the barbecue is by ticket only with 4-H, and FFA exhibitors, their parents, club leaders, buyers and invited guests. Beef for the barbecue is to be furnished by a group of Fort Klamath cattlemen. Fib Fleet will supervise the barbecue detail.

Bob Rhodes, Klamath Falls auctioneer, will cry the sale.

'Girl Scouters' At Wrong Place

Times have changed in Klamath Falls, two young men learned early Tuesday morning.

City police said the men approached a hotel clerk at about 4 a.m. "looking for girls."

The clerk insisted that they were looking in the wrong place, and in the wrong town, for that matter.

Not entirely satisfied, the frustrated visitors "beat up" the clerk, police said. The victim's injuries were not serious, officers said, and their investigation is continuing.

Department Tells Grass Fire Hike

The grass fire frequency stepped up Monday, after a weekend full, with local fire departments putting out four such blazes during the course of the day.

The first two were handled by the city fire department: One in the morning at 227 Lowell Street, and another in the early afternoon in the 2500 block on Berkeley Street.

The county fire department took care of the other two, both in the afternoon. One was located on property of the Bedford Cemetery at Seven Springs Ranch in south Poe Valley; the other was at the Klamath Gun Club, Route 3, Wocuc. The county truck was assisted by two from Oregon Technical Institute, at the latter fire.

No damage resulted from any of these fires.

RANCH FIRE

A barn, a shed, 70 tons of hay and 75 sacks of fertilizer—these were the losses of R. N. Brett in a fire at his Langell Valley ranch early Monday afternoon. The county fire department went to Brett's address, Route 1, Box 88, Bonanza, to put out a barn fire of undetermined origin. By the time the blaze was brought under control, the barn and the hay and fertilizer it contained, as well as a small shed, had been destroyed.

U.S. Needs Spectacular Argument Presentation

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Foreign News Analyst

A spectacular and even daring presentation is needed if the United States is to drive home its arguments in the critical U.N. Assembly debate opening tomorrow.

The message which the West can hope to impress on the Arab East, the most important audience for this Assembly session, is this: the primary objective of the Soviet Union is to prevent peace from breaking out in the Middle East and to keep the area off balance.

American and British troops in Lebanon and Jordan provide Moscow with an easy target. But the presence of the troops inhibits direct, violent assault by extremists upon those two governments. The Soviets want the troops out.

Jordan is another matter. Young King Hussein's life already is in danger. The peril would be multiplied many times if the British were to withdraw suddenly. And in Jordan there is little of the sentiment one finds in Lebanon for neutrality in Arab quarrels. Jordan's nationalist extremists seek to push the country directly into Nasser's arms.

Then the pressure on Saudi Arabia and Kuwait would be enormous. And Israel, ringed by Nasser, might be moved to forceful, if desperate, measures which could touch off a new Middle East war.

Jordan seems a dying nation now. Perhaps the only thing the West can do is to insure a decent burial. Possibly the best that can be hoped for is to keep the patient alive until a safe legatee turns up. The West pick Iraq as the beneficiary, if that country's new revolutionary government does not bury itself in the U.A.R. While such a union is still possible, both the Iraqis and Nasser seem to have been dragging their feet in the matter of prospective merger.

With their combined resources and far sounder economies, Iraq and Syria could overbalance the Egyptians in the U.A.R.

Nasser likely has considered this. And Iraq might hesitate to surrender control over her resources to Egypt. Loose federation, with no loss of sovereignty, may be the ultimate answer.

Many an Arab nationalist, apart from the violent extremists, is interested in keeping the door to the West ajar. Nasser himself cannot be considered an ally the Soviets can trust.

The United States' primary interests in the Middle East are stability, political security and sound economic development. The moderate nationalists' door might be opened wider if President Eisenhower demonstrates dramatically that the U.S. objective is far different from that of the Soviet Union.
