Man Uninjured In Truck Mishap
WEED — Robert Kirk Anderson, 22 Bryon, California, luckily escaped death and serious injury Wednesday afternoon when he rode his freightliner and set of doubles over a 35-foot embankment one mile north of Weed on Highway 99 and landed on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks.
The two trailers were loaded with empty fruit box crates that dumped onto the tracks in the pile-up. Approximately 20 Pacific Telephone and Telegraph lines were ripped out as the rig went over the roadside, and nine guard posts and rails were torn out of the ground, one six-foot rail rammed completely through the truck's fuel tank.
The driver for the trucking company at Lafayette was headed for Medford. He stated the truck went out of control on the uphill curve and he attempted to remain on the roadway but lost control and went over.
California Highway Patrolman Gus Kehrer, investigating officer, stated a low right front tire is believed the cause of the truck going out of control.
