

Patterson Keeps Crown

Floyd Stops Harris In 12th

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, dissatisfied with his gory title knockout over Roy Harris, said today, "I want to get busy now, and so I may defend soon in England."

The champion believed he should have disposed of game Harris, from Cut and Shoot, Tex., before the 12th round Monday night, even though the kayo in that session had tagged the blood-smearing challenger with his first defeat in 23 bouts.

Floyd's victory before an estimated 17,000 at Wrigley Field was his 15th knockout in his last 16 fights. But he was dissatisfied with his own trip to the canvas in the second round and displeased because his bleeding opponent had survived four knockdowns.

"I want to get busy now," said the 23-year-old champion.

MANAGER AGREES — "That's right," agreed manager Gus D'Amato. "And our next defense may be for promoter Harry Levene in London. We've given him our word we'll fight for him if there's a good European challenger. It looks as if there'll be a good one over there soon."

Apparently D'Amato was referring to next month's fight between Sweden's unbeaten Ingemar Johansson, European champion, and Eddie Machen of San Francisco, second-ranking contender. D'Amato is reported to believe Johansson will win the fight at Goteborg, Sweden, and be available as challenger.

Floyd Takes Look At New Canvas Style

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The haunting thought that people may regard him as a "cheese champion" brought some baleful self-reflection from Floyd Patterson for "my canvas style of fighting."

Young Floyd made the "canvas style" crack in his dressing room Monday night, when asked to explain how or why he had been knocked down for a count of four during the second round of his 12-lant Roy Harris.

Patterson hung his head sheepishly and his words were laden with self-criticism.

"It seems that I've been going down so much lately. I dunno what to think," he answered soberly. "I thought it was more of a slip than a knockdown because I know I wasn't hurt."

But it seems I've been constantly slipping lately. It must be my canvas style of fighting."

He was thinking not only about Monday night, but also about being decked by amateurish Pete Rademacher last August in Seattle and also about his training camp knockdown by a little-known spartan named Jose Torres two weeks ago.

He spoke with the realization that as long as he is knocked to the canvas by second-rate challengers and takes longer than the prescribed time to dispose of them, he will never be regarded in a class with such great recent champions as Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano.

Oregon Youths In JC Golf Play

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—All four of Oregon's entrants still were in the running for berths in the annual Jaycee junior golf tournament today.

Bill Lovett of Portland and David Munro of Beaverton were leading the way. Each had 72, two over par. Mickey Shaw of Milwaukee had a 77 and Lynn Yurris of Ontario a 78.

A field of 190 will be trimmed to 100 by another qualifying round today. Match play will begin tomorrow.

Dickerson Gets UCLA Grid Job

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—George Dickerson, 45, the late Henry R. (Red) Sanders' chief assistant, is the new head football coach at UCLA.

His appointment was announced Monday night by athletic director Wilbur Johns, who said the Board of Control of the UCLA Associated Students had approved a contract with Dickerson which was "in no way on an interim basis, but extended for a period of more than one year." The board also announced retention of the present coaching staff in its entirety as recommended by Dickerson.

Exact terms of Dickerson's contract were not revealed.

The new coach has been on the UCLA coaching staff of 13 years.
