East-West Gridders Termed Even Match

By WAYNE SCOTT
Herald and News Sports Editor

The Shrine East-West All-Star football game scheduled for Saturday night in Pendleton figures to be an even-up contest, stated Al Keck of Merrill High, who was picked for the job of line coach for the East.

Said Keck in a telephone conversation from La Grande, where he is working with the Eastern Class B school players, "The West has about an eight or ten pound weight advantage over us—but we are generally conceded the speedier club and it should be a fairly even match. The West will present a tight T with a balanced line while we will probably run out of a split T."

Club for the annual benefit game. One shadow has been cast over the East training camp, Keck reported. Strunk, who was to have seen a lot of action, both defensively and offensively, has been suffering from a pulled leg muscle and may have to be replaced on the All-Star roster. Since replacements from alternates may be made right up until game time, the decision as to what will happen to the Bonanza ace will be made after late scrimmages Thursday evening.

Keck, who with the five Klamath County players chosen to the All-Star squad has been in La Grande since August 11, is working with head coach Gary Burton of Stanfield and assistant coach Tom Cox, of Sisters.

Perry Laney and J. D. McMurry of the 1957 Merrill team which notched a State runnerup title, Jasper Strunk, flashy lineman from Bonanza, Richard Steyskal, the husky Malin tackle, and speedy Steve Pope, who served as a receiver for Chiloquin, are the Basin representatives who made the trip with Keck as guests of the Shrine

Virgil Akins Nails Smith

CHICAGO (AP)—Welterweight champion Virgil Akins saved face last night with a 10th-round technical knockout of hardy Charlie (Tomstone) Smith.

He didn't have much face to save.

Smith, a gangling 4'11 underdog, opened cuts at the corner of Akins' eyes. By the 10th of the nationally televised show, the champ's face was a crimson mask.

The end came suddenly for Smith, eighth-ranking contender from Los Angeles. Tomstone had a big lead on all official cards as he christened the rusty Akins with long, popping lefts and digging rights.

In the 10th round, Akins charged Smith furiously at the bell and pummeled him with rights and lefts.

A left hook decked Tomstone for an eight count. He arose fog-bound.

Then Akins drove him into a corner. He landed 15 rights and lefts without Tomstone fighting back. Referee Frank Sikora stopped it at 1:18.

The crowd of 862 booed and threw some trash into the ring. "I'll admit I was a little dazed," said Tomstone afterwards. "But they shouldn't have stopped it. I knew all I had to do was last it out to win. I think I could have done it."

Akins said it was hard to get inside Smith because of his height and pressing tactics. Smith is a six-footer.

"I'm certainly not satisfied the way I looked," he added. "I was heavy and rusty."

In making his first ring appearance since winning the welterweight title last June, Akins weighed 150 to Smith's 148.

Kubs, Legion Tilt Delayed

An untimely thundershower forced postponement of the Wednesday night baseball game at Gem Stadium between the American Legion and the Klamath Kubs.

The game, an exhibition contest, was to have served a dual purpose. Kub manager Irv Whit wanted the game to serve as a warmup for his league-leading Kubs' Friday night match with Scott Valley and for their entrance Sunday into the President's Cup playoffs.

Legion manager Hi Hatfield was eyeing the game with interest because a number of Babe Ruth League players that would be eligible for his organization next season were to be allowed to see action.

Pre-game plans included the switching of pitchers with the idea that with Kub hurlers working for the legion and vice versa, the teams would have been more evenly matched.

Arrangements are being made to hold the game on Wednesday, August 27, at Gem. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Friday night at Gem, the Kubs return to league play as they face Scott Valley in a makeup contest caused by a previous rainout. The game marks the close of regular season play for both clubs.

The outcome of the Scott Valley clash can have no bearing on the league standings at this point; Klamath Falls owning a 10-4 mark as compared to the tied-for-second place Weed and Mount Shasta teams' 9-6. Both Weed and Mount Shasta have finished their seasons. Scott Valley rests one place out of the cellar with 5-9.

BONUS PLAYER MOVED UP
DES MOINES, Ia. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers have moved bonus baby Ron Fairly from Des Moines in the Class A Western League to St. Paul in the Triple-A American Association. Fairly batted .297 for Des Moines and had 13 home runs.

Basilio Sure, But Cautious

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Battle-scarred Carmen Basilio, looking forward to retirement from boxing in about a year, was confident today he would whip Art Aragon in their outdoor bout Sept. 5 at Wrigley Field.

The durable Basilio, former New York union farmer and a veteran of 10 years in the ring, took a verbal swipe at the talkative Golden Boy of California boxing Wednesday at a press conference.

"I don't think Aragon is going to be the smartest guy I've fought," Basilio said. "Sure, I didn't think much of him as an opponent last Winter when I was asked if I would meet him. But a $50,000 guarantee changed my mind."

The former middleweight and welterweight champion said he got the impression several years ago when he saw Aragon in a televised fight that his opponent was a pretty good puncher.

Basilio guessed he should be cautious with Aragon but he said he was confident he would whip the Golden Boy, the victim of fighters who the New Yorker said he had beaten. He cited Billy Graham as an example.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By Clayton Hannon

The 1958 fall hunting season has been completed now with dates set for deer and other big game, upland birds and migratory waterfowl. And from all indications Oregon hunters, especially those in this section of the state, should have a good year.

The Oregon State Game Commission released its 1958 synopsis of hunting regulations. These booklets can be picked up, free of charge, at any license agency. Hunters are urged to look over the synopsis very carefully and to understand the regulations governing all of the different seasons coming up.

Hunting seasons set by the game commission are:

Antelope—All three areas open August 23 through August 27. Permits have already been mailed to winners of tags given out in public drawings. There are 200 permits issued for each area.

Buck Deer—October 4 through October 26 for deer having not less than a forked antler in that portion of Oregon west of the summit of the Cascade Mountains, including all of Jackson County and that part of Klamath County south of State Highway 230 and west of U.S. Highway 97. East of the Cascade summit, any deer having visible antlers may be taken.

Unit Deer Hunt—October 18 through 26. Hunters need an unused general deer tag plus a permit for the unit they are hunting to take one deer, buck or doe.

Keno Archery Deer Hunt—August 30 through September 21. Regular archery hunting regulations prevail and a general deer tag is needed. The description of the Keno archery area is: Beginning at Keno, thence southeast along the Klamath River to Klamath Strait, thence east along the Klamath Strait to U.S. Highway 97, thence southwest along U.S. Highway 97 to the Oregon-California state line, thence west along the state line to posted road at Owens Ranch in section 17, township 41 north, range 8 east, thence north along posted roads to State Highway 66 in section 1, township 40 south, range 7 east, thence east along State Highway 66 to Keno, the point of beginning.

Hart Mountain Archery Hunt—September 6 through September 14. All hunters are required to check in and out of the area at Hart Mountain Refuge headquarters.

Elk—The season opens November 1 for all three areas—Coastal, Cascade and Northeastern. The season closes November 15 on the coast and November 15 on the Cascade and Northeastern regions.

Hunters should consult the synopsis for further details on controlled deer, archery and elk seasons that are not covered above.

Ducks and Geese—October 11 through January 13. Duck hunters can take nine birds this year, providing at least four are wildfowl or pintails. Since this is good-pintail country, most migrants will be filling a complete limit of nine. Remember a federal duck stamp is needed to hunt migratory waterfowl.

Pheasants—October 11 through November 16. Limit of four cocks a day, 12 in possession. In Malheur County from November 8 through 16, one hen will be allowed in daily bag limit or in possession.

Quail—Valley and Bobwhite quail season is open October 11 through November 16, west of the Cascade summit except Linn County. Limit of 10 a day, 20 in possession. Mountain quail season is open September 27 through October 19 west of the Cascade summit, or 10 in possession. Mountain, Valley and Bobwhite quail season east of the Cascade summit is open October 11 through November 16 with a bag limit of 10 a day, 20 in possession.

'If' Man Signs Detroit Contract
HUNGARIAN and Chuker Partridge—Season east of the Cascade summit is October 11 through November 16, with limits of 10 per day, or 20 in possession.

Blue and Ruffed Grouse—Season west of the Cascade summit September 27 through October 19. Season east of the Cascade summit August 30 through September 5, with a limit of three a day or six in possession.

Sage Grouse—Lake, Harney and

Malheur counties and that portion of Baker County south and west of U.S. Highway 30 open August 30 through September 7 with a limit of two a day, or four in possession.

Mourning Doves—All counties west of the Cascade summit except Jackson open September 1 through September 28. All counties east of the Cascade summit and Jackson County open September 1 through September 14, with limit of 10 per day or 20 in possession.

Upland bird hunters in the Klamath Falls area should take special notice of the division of the east and west sections of the state. This year, all upland game bird seasons will be governed by the following dividing line:

Western Oregon consists of all counties west of the summit of the Cascade Mountains including all of Jackson County and that part of Klamath County south of State Highway 230 and west of U.S. Highway 97. Eastern Oregon consists of all counties east of the summit of the Cascade Mountains except those portions included in the above description.

Grouse hunters in the Aspen Lake and Sevenmile areas will be governed under regulations affecting western Oregon for the first time. Game officers have issued a warning to all upland bird hunters to be careful of the east-west division line this season.

We had a talk with Milt Guyman of the Oregon State Game Commission's Portland office Tuesday and he passed on the news that the game headquarters was flooded with mail Monday, the deadline for the unit hunt permit requests.

Guyman said the Monday mail delivery was the greatest single-day delivery ever received by the Portland office. "We are still trying to dig out from under the envelopes and get straightened around for the drawing to be held Monday, August 25 for the unit hunt areas," Guyman reported.

The game commission public information and education staff member also informed us that the three local units—Greensprings, Klamath and Interstate—were jammed with applications. Same areas in the state didn't receive as many requests as there were permits, so those applying will automatically draw one. In the case of the Greensprings, Klamath and Interstate units though, a drawing will be needed.

Fishing interest has slowed down greatly with the smell of fall hunting fever in the air.

Anglers had some very fine results on Wood River this past week. Some big "linkers" were taken on worms and nightcrawlers. A few nice catches were also caught on spinning lures, copper and brass colored proving the best.

The Williamson River has been picking up. The stream has been hot in spots for the big fish with several rainbows scaling near the 10-pound mark being taken on worms. Fly fishing has also been fair to good in the evening hours for big fish, but unless you know how to handle your fly rod and light tackle, don't try and tangle with the "old granddaddies" of the Williamson. It's a good way to loose tackle and poles.

Lake of the Woods, which was good earlier in the year, then tapered off for a couple of weeks, was back up last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Some real nice limits were bagged trolling with worms and flat-fish.
