

Cal-Ore Builds Pilot Plant For Asbestos

MOUNT SHASTA — The prospects of asbestos mining making a major contribution to the economic growth to southern Siskiyou County are good, according to Archie Adams, owner of the Cal-Ore Asbestos Company.

Adams is now building a pilot plant for asbestos recovery on his holdings near Weed and doing core drilling on Mt. Eddy. He owns some Mt. Eddy property and has leased other mining sites from Ralph L. Smith Lumber Company.

Eighteen months of exploration on the slopes of Mt. Eddy have uncovered indications of at least three million tons of asbestos ore with a six to eight per cent asbestos content, Adams said. Test drilling will continue and he hopes to uncover a substantial deposit, 20 million tons or more.

If ore deposits are large enough, the firm may develop a plant to manufacture asbestos cement pipe and other products. The pilot plant will simply refine the ore on a small scale with actual production planned in about 90 days. A six man crew is working at the mine six and one half miles west of Weed and an all-weather road is under construction to this site at $200 per ton, Adams noted.

Mining will be done on an open-pit basis, according to Adams, and the plant when in operation will process up to 400 tons of ore per day with an output of about 36 tons of refined asbestos fiber daily. The current market value is about $200 per ton, Adams noted.

Directors Withhold Award Of Remodel Contract Now

No contract will be awarded at this time for remodeling of the building by First Federal Savings and Loan Association at Sixth and Main streets, it was decided at the recent meeting of the First Federal's board of directors.

Instead, invitations will be prepared for bidding on the remodeling of the recently acquired three-story building next door and the present bank building as the same project, George W. McIntyre, association president said.

Announcement of the purchase of the property at 530 and 532 Main Street from Albert W. Schmeck by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association was made on August 3.

The three-story brick building has a frontage of 50 feet and half of the street level is expected to be taken over for banking purposes. Hal's Sport Shop presently occupies the space at 532 Main Street which has a 25-foot frontage. Plans call for remodeling the second floor, now occupied by the Empire Hotel, into office space for business and professional men and possibly converting the third floor into apartments.

McIntyre directed the architects, Morrison and Howard, to notify the general contractors who had submitted bids that all bids have been rejected because of the board's desire to incorporate the additional space into one remodeling job. John Howard said the new plans and specifications will be available in about two months.

"We were very pleased," McIntyre declared, "with the bids received as they were well within the estimated cost of the remodeling work. It seems advisable, however, to let a contract for the entire job at one time."

State Files Two More Land Suits

Two more suits have been filed in the county clerk's office to obtain land at the intersection of Van Ness and Montpelier streets for the proposed West Side Bypass of U. S. 97.

The condemnation proceedings were filed on behalf of the Oregon State Highway Commission against R. W. and Alice Smith, William R. and Dorothy Smith, and Wendell A. Smith.

The defendants have been named in one or more of five suits to obtain property owned by the family.

Other suits filed: Helen U. Mick (M & M Diesel Service) vs. Tom Aldrich, demanding payment of $691 for truck rental and $686 for an alleged check without sufficient funds, plus interest and attorneys fees.

Amy E. Ohles, administratrix of the estate of Irving Todd Morris, killed in a highway accident August 23, 1956, on Arundale Road, vs. George Long and Steven Dunn, for $20,000.

Benefit Rummage Sale To Be Held

The benefit rummage sale for Herbie Cobb, who needs more schooling and therapy at the Crippled Children's School at Eugene, will be held in the Pelican Theater building on Eighth Street between Klamath Avenue and Main Street, September 10-11 and until noon September 12.

Rummage may be left at the building all day September 9. Those desiring to give cash instead of rummage may leave it at the U.S. National Bank in the fund for Herbie Cobb.

Mrs. Philip Cole is sponsoring the benefit sale.

Herbie, 12 years old, who could not stand erect before recent surgery, now wears braces on his legs which he can remove only twice a week. He sleeps with the braces in place.

Money from the sale will send him back to school.

Firemen Answer Two Minor Calls

Fire activity in the area was restricted to two small fires within the city limits through Saturday.

City firemen answered a call to 399 Commercial Street at 1:08 p.m. Friday where a storage shed behind the residence of Ray Somers was damaged. The fire apparently was started by spontaneous combustion.

At 6:05 Friday firemen extinguished a small grass fire at 1910 Oregon Avenue.

Air Agents May Strike

The Air Line Agents Association, International (affiliated with the Air Line Pilots Association, AFL-CIO) has announced that a vote taken among the station personnel in the employ of West Coast Airlines was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike "in the event such action became necessary."

"The purpose of the strike vote," said Victor J. Herbert, ALAA president, "is to enable station personnel of West Coast to conclude an employment agreement which will allow them to obtain and enjoy the same rates of pay, rules and working conditions paid by other companies in the air line industry."

"All efforts of the association," continued Herbert, "in direct negotiations and mediation under the Railway Labor Act . . . have failed. . . . After receiving a refusal to arbitrate from West Coast, the National Mediation Board, on July 23, terminated mediation under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act. The 30-day cooling-off period ends on August 23."

According to Herbert, a strike date will be selected within the next few days to effect a peaceful withdrawal on or after August 23.

No statement of the company's position was available in Klamath Falls Wednesday afternoon.
