ATHLETE'S FOOT ITCH?

Here's instant relief, proved by government hospital!

At first sign of agonizing toe itch, use amazing Ting Medicated Cream! Tests by government hospital prove Ting brings relief three ways: (1) Instantly relieves itching and soothes sore, burning skin! (2) On 60-second contact, destroys fungi that cause Athlete's Foot! (3) Aids healing of cracked, peeling toes. Ting's "dry cream" formula dries quickly to an anti-septic powder that clings... continuing relief for hours! Greaseless, stainless. At all druggists. Only 79¢. Money back if not satisfied. ©1958 Pharma-Craft Corp.

Bag the Buttons

Lavonne Mathison

Tie three buttons on three pieces of string which you have cut into 12-inch lengths. Punch three small holes in the bottom of a paper cup and run the other ends of the string up through these holes. Tie them together in a knot on the inside of the cup. Now hold the cup by the handle and try to flip all the buttons into the cup. If you fix two cups it will be fun to race with another player to see who wins.

WHAT ANIMAL IS IT?

Ruth Dixon

What a shy, graceful little creature this is! He is nine inches long, and his tail is just as long as he is. He loves to hop along on his strong hind legs (though he runs, too). He digs with his long nails and uses his front legs for hands. In his large cheek pouches, he packs away tasty snails, fruit, nuts, and grains to store in his pantry down in the earth! He belongs to the squirrel family and is a North American rodent, but you guess his everyday name. Though he can climb trees when he must, he likes the ground better, and he likes best of all his burrow where he and his wife and his five children live. He digs tunnels under old logs and rocks, and at the end he has a burrow and a pantry, too—a foot high, a foot wide, and two feet long. He and his family sleep all Winter in their underground nest. This is hard for an enemy to find because he carries the loose dirt away when he makes his home. Pretty smart! What did you say his name is?

Let's Draw a Dolphin

Ann Davidow

Godolphin Dolphin, a playful fish,
Breaks the water with a swish,

Swims about the keels of ships,
Winks at sailors, flips and dips.

Fin and back slip into sight;
Then his underbelly white.

These fish companions are a joy
To a lonesome sailor boy.
