The Northside Garden Club members held their monthly meeting in Moore Park with 15 members, three visitors and 21 children participating. All enjoyed the potluck dinner.

The children made good use of the wading pool and other facilities of the park.

John Tribe, district surveyor, soil conservation district, was our guest speaker. Mrs. Earl Redmond displayed her bird book which won third prize at the state meeting.

Margaret Valk and Bea Johnson, chairmen for the rummage sale which was held August 16, asked for donations of clothing and houseware. Other activities of the club have been coffee, which were held at Kathleen Deen, Georgiana Guldi, Margaret Valk and Eppie Haddock's homes.

Opal Ferguson, vice president, has shown her beautiful garden to many visitors.

ALTURAS GARDEN CLUB

By Mrs. Paul Decker

Twelve garden club members gathered at the home of Mrs. Paul Decker on Thursday, August 11, for their regular meeting.

Mrs. William Rush presided and roll call was answered by each member naming a miniature plant she had grown or would like to grow.

It was with regret that the resignation of Mrs. C. J. Hunter as vice president was read. Final plans for the club's fair booth were discussed and it was agreed that we should enter our litterbug float in the fair parade.

The club voted to donate grass seed for a new lawn at the Scout Hall and bulbs were also offered for planting there.

The program for the day was presented by Mrs. Guy Young who brought out the desirability of growing miniatures of the bulb world, as well as miniature roses, gladioli and dwarf asters. Mrs. Russ Enderlin and Mrs. Young displayed miniature arrangements and Mrs. Decker had two varieties of miniature gladioli to show.

Mrs. Young also explained the new classification for iris which will be used subsequently in all catalogs.

Members offered Oriental poppies, iris and bulbs for exchange.

Plastic Suit Slackens Pain

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - A plastic decompression suit is being used at Witwatersrand University to speed up labor and minimize the pain of childbirth. Research workers say reduction of atmospheric pressure lessens pain and benefits the child because of shortened labor and less strain. The expectant mother operates a valve which activates a pump and reduces the atmospheric pressure on her abdomen. Scientists explained that the abdomen enlarges under decompression. This enlargement relieves muscular pressure on the spine and abdomen, thus minimizing pain. The suit, made of chemically treated nylon, is used only during the first stage of childbirth.
