Sprinkles End 57-Day Drought

PORTLAND (AP) - Wednesday's sprinkles ended a 57-day drought in the city.

The rain here totaled less than .01 of an inch, but the weather bureau recorded one-hundredth because lesser amounts are not listed.

It was the longest dry spell here since 1925 when it didn't rain for 55 days. The record period without rain in Portland was 69 days in 1925.

DEDICATION SERVICES were held Sunday, August 24, at Malin upon completion of the new Christian Center at the Malin Migrant Labor Camp with numerous local groups taking part. The building to be used as a gathering place for Sunday School, family entertainment, and a day nursery for migrant workers was built by a group of young people and their leaders from the Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church, Stockton. Rear on the steps, are Bertril Shogren, Klamath Falls, left, and Burton Hoyle, Tulelake. Center, same order, Mrs. Everett Dennis, Klamath Falls, and Bill Kurtz, Merrill, building project chairman. Front row, left to right, Rev. Kent D. Lawrence, Portland, Migrant Ministry, Oregon Council of Churches; Lynn McKnight, representing the Westminster Fellowship, First Presbyterian Church, Stockton, and Ross Ragland, Klamath Falls, president of the Klamath County Council of Churches. The work here was one of several Christian projects completed by young people of the Stockton Church without pay. Materials for the building were donated by local business firms.

Record Number Of Entries In Dog Show

A total of 407 dogs, the largest number ever entered in an AKC licensed all breed dog show in Klamath Falls, will be in competition on Saturday in the Klamath Dog Fanciers' ninth annual show, according to Kathy McDonald, president of the dog club.

There are several breeds listed in the official program which have never been shown previously in Klamath Falls.

City May Enter Power Business

PORTLAND (AP) - The City Council today considered a step aimed at putting Portland into the power business.

The council was to decide whether to put on the November election ballot a charter amendment that would permit Portland to float a 5 1/2 million dollar bond issue.

The money would be used to build power generating facilities at the city's water storage dams in the Bull Run watershed.

Klamath Falls. Mrs. McDonald, who has raised registered collies at her Kay-Mac Kennels here for many years, says the five smooth collies entered will be the first smooth collies seen here. They are expected from Pebble Ledge Kennels of Cleveland, Ohio.

There are 16 Afghan hounds in this year's show, which is an unusually large number to appear in one competition, she says. Another rarity is the Rhodesian Ridgeback which is expected from Argentina. This will be the second time, Mrs. McDonald says, that Chesapeake Bay retrievers have been entered in the all breed show. Two are coming to Klamath Falls from Northern California.

This year, for the first time, a local Norwegian elkhound has been entered. Mrs. John Meizner's Sneek Dronning Av Norge (Snow Queen of Norway) will be in competition with eight others. The three-year-old dog has not been shown previously. She boasts 25 champions in six generations on her mother's side and her papers go back four years on her sire's side. Norwegian elkhounds were originally wild and have been traced to 4,000 to 5,000 years before Christ. The Norwegian Hunters Association showed elkhounds for the first time in 1877. The British Elkhound Society was formed in 1923 and the breed has been recognized by the American Kennel Club since 1936.

Doors open at the show at 8 a.m. and judging will start promptly at 9 a.m. Three judges will be judging most of the time in three rings so there will be plenty of activity to interest visitors to the show.

Court Takes Span Petition

The County Court accepted Wednesday a petition urging construction of a bridge across A Canal at the southern end of Hope Street.

Harry Ward, a civic leader of the South Suburban area, presented the petition which he said bore 514 signatures. It seeks a bridge and a short extension of Ward Street to meet the bridge approaches.

County Engineer William R. Canton said the county contemplates a bridge crossing at that point and that it has held the right-of-way needed. He said the court still is discussing one plot of land belonging to Caroline Calvert of Bridsville, in the needed right-of-way.

Canton said the proposed 110 foot bridge would cost approximately $60,000, of which the county must provide $12,000. Federal funds would provide the remainder, he said.

The court also was notified that its request for rock and gravel pits on the Klamath Indian Reservation, needed to maintain roads soon to be transferred to the county, had been referred to the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington.

TUNE IS APPROPRIATE

PONTIAC, Ill. (UPI) - County Judge A. W. Tiesburg placed George McClellan, 24, on probation to the tune of "Don't Be Cruel" blaring from a carnival loudspeaker outside the courtroom window.

"It was appropriate because it won't apply if he violates this probation," said the judge.

Soviet Russia, Red China Step-Up Anti-Tito Drive

By K. C. THALER United Press International LONDON (UPI) - Soviet Russia and Red China have stepped up their anti-Tito campaign in new concerted moves to assail Yugoslav revisionism from within and without.

Yugoslav reports said Moscow has refused to supply wheat due under a long-standing agreement, despite the bumper harvest Russia is expecting this year.

Red China in turn was reported to have canceled contracts for Yugoslav tobacco, an important export item in Belgrade's precarious trade balance.

Moreover, Peiping has carried the anti-Tito campaign into the very heart of Yugoslavia and, despite strong protests from the Belgrade government, has declined to halt its propaganda war inside Yugoslavia.

The signs were that once again Red China was forcing the pace in the campaign against Belgrade with Russia following suit.

Several fresh developments have marked a new phase in the campaign which was foreshadowed by the official communique issued at the end of the Sino-Russian secret talks in Peiping some three weeks ago.

In outright violation of diplomatic privilege, the Red Chinese Embassy in Belgrade has recently been circulating pamphlets in the Russian language inside Yugoslavia for his independent socialist line.

Yugoslavia is being bluntly attacked in these pamphlets for its alleged "treason" to the Communist cause, and Tito for having allegedly "sold" the country for American dollars.

The publication, named Druzba, and printed in Peiping by the Chinese-Soviet Friendship Society, has been widely distributed recently throughout the country.

Protests of the Belgrade government in Peiping have apparently had no effect; this was held to reflect Peiping's determination to carry its campaign against revisionism to the extreme.

The pamphlets also contain reports from attacks on Tito in the official Soviet press. This was seen as a calculated attempt of the Peiping regime to drag Russia into the quarrel more deeply and to commit her irrevocably.

The reports also said Red China has canceled contracts for Yugoslav tobacco, which would hurt the country's economy that has been channelling much of its exports to Communist camp nations.
