Neuberger Turns 700

PORTLAND (AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) took a ride on the Portland Zoo Railroad Wednesday, just six days after undergoing surgery for cancer.

A small, malignant tumor of the testis was removed here Friday. Neuberger, a longtime Republican, was in the city for the annual convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma chapter, which represented Oregon members at Minneapolis early in August. A final announcement for the rummage sale to be held in the Pelican Theater Building on September 16 will be made by Lillian Brandt and Esther Dellar, co-chairmen.

Ore-Cal Growers

our fresh market, and now they are asking us to ship in competition." Cliff Jenkins, Tulelake, cautioned that the marketing agreement was the growers' means of controlling the potato supply. "If you release No. 1 B's and No. 2's," he said, "there is no use having a marketing order. The marketing agreement is the finest machinery to regulate supply."

While it was true, he pointed out that processors might still get their No. 1 B's from Utah and others, "but they don't produce enough to affect the market materially," he said. "I think it's poor judgment in the face of a big crop. The diversion program will pay more than will the processor," he concluded.

Louis Lyon pointed out that the move would only benefit those growers who have contracts with the processors. "Setting up such a move," he said, "would only benefit the grower with a contract. In years, it could mean that the growers would get less and less even for their No. 1 B's."

Don Trimble, representing Wash-ington growers, stated, "Our group had the same discussion at our meeting. We maintained the same regulations as last year. They argued that such exemptions wouldn't compete with the fresh market, but the group felt that pre-peelers should meet the same fresh marketing regulations."

Kenny pointed out that the Tulelake people are opposed to opening the door. "I'm in favor," he said, "of opening it a little bit. They will get No. 1 B's one place or another. If they're willing to come here for them, maybe they'll buy more of our No. 2's and No. 1's. However, I'm not for allowing any more No. 1 B's to get out on the fresh market."

Portland

Al Henry, field marketing officer of the Department of Agriculture in Portland, cautioned the group that before any action was taken they should determine (1) what is a pre-peeler? and (2) what control does the grower have from the shipping point to the consumer? He pointed out that a department survey of improper use of No. 1 B's by Klamath Basin growers showed that out of 73 shipments of No. 1 B's destined for canning, freezing or export, 38 shipments by two handlers were diverted to the pre-peelers by a Los Angeles broker.

Don Griffin, Macdoel, summed up one side when he commented, "Better our No. 1 B's than someone else's."

Action to permit the sale of U.S. graded No. 1 B's only, came at the conclusion of a session that also set a n d a r d minimum requirements for other grades for the coming crop.

They agreed that No. 1's would be two inch and No. 2's would be eight ounce minimum. These minimums would apply to Districts 1, 2 and 4, but not District 3 which includes all counties in Oregon except Malheur, Central Oregon, Klamath and Lake counties.

In District 3, requirements were set as two inch or four ounce by weight for No. 1's, and one and seven-eighths inch for No. 2's, all varieties.

Requirements on round varieties would be two inch or four ounce by weight on No. 1's. Maturity was classed as "slightly skinned" or better for all districts, and co-mingling of No. 1's and No. 2's will be permitted as has been.

Potatoes for chippers were further qualified as having to meet standards of two inch minimum No. 2 grade or better except for hollow heart damage.

The group decided earlier in the day to hold its spring meeting in the Boardman area.

Growers and handlers from all parts of Oregon, and Northern California's Siskiyou and Modoc counties were represented at the session.

First Meeting Set By Group

The first meeting of the year for Delta Kappa Gamma will be held in the Pelican Party Room on September 6, with luncheon to be served promptly at 12:30 p.m.

Marguerite Parker, the new president, will present an overall picture of the plans and projects to be undertaken during the ensuing year. Other important business will include the report of Eva Burkhalter on the program schedule.

At this session also, the recommendations for new members will be given, and selections will be made by the group from this list.

Beulah Elliot, the state first vice president, will be featured in her account of the International Convention of Delta Kappa Gamma at Denver, which she represented Oregon members at Minneapolis early in August.

A final announcement for the rummage sale to be held in the Pelican Theater Building on September 16 will be made by Lillian Brandt and Esther Dellar, co-chairmen.

Fire Business Termed Slack

The fire business was slack for city firemen Thursday with only one small fire, which damaged a garage wall at 747 Key Street.

To use their ingenuity Thursday morning, when they extinguished a 7-year-old girl from a toy car in which she was stuck.

Carlene Pool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Pool, 1334 Pleasant Avenue, was visiting with her mother at the home of friends at 607 Upham Street, when she got involved with the car. She somehow got her leg caught in the pedal works and by the time firemen arrived she was firmly pinned by a cotter key which had worked its self an inch into her leg.

Forest Rangers Extinguish Fire

The Klamath Forest Protective Association reported Friday morning that it had put out a small fire in the Beaver Marsh area the previous afternoon. The fire was apparently caused by someone's dropping hot ashes on dry grass—a dangerous procedure, particularly in this dry season.

Other grass fires yesterday included one in the afternoon along the Southern Pacific right of way in Wees, and one in the evening at the M. W. Bleak residence, 1782 Kane Street. The first was dealt with by the county fire department, the second by the South Suburban Fire Department.

No damage resulted from any of these three fires.

Officer Nabs Wanted Pair

A state police officer who stopped for a routine investigation of a parked car, and who was "sassed" for his trouble, came up with at least two men wanted elsewhere on former charges.

Officer Harold Sliger noticed a car parked along U.S. Highway 97 just north of Klamath Falls about 11 p.m. Wednesday. Thinking some travelers might need assistance, he stopped.

The occupants, three men and a 3-year-old boy, wanted no help at all, Sliger reported. Instead the men insulted him, and produced what proved to be false identification. Sliger brought them in.

At the sheriff's office, they were probed to be Lloyd Smith, 29, Stockton, California, wanted in Medford on a charge of "uttering and publishing a forged bank check." Joe Dale Dodson, 27, Lynnwood, California, wanted in South Gate, California, on suspicion of passing forged and stolen checks; and Claude Smith, 32, Compton, California, Lloyd's older brother.

The trio admitted that they were part of a two-car party heading for Hood River to pick fruit. The cars became separated along the way, police said, and the Smith brothers stopped to check bearings.

A deputy sheriff from Jackson County returned Lloyd Smith to Medford Thursday afternoon, and Dodson and Claude Smith were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on vagrancy charges.

State police said the 9-year-old boy, whose parents were in the missing second car, spent Wednesday night in the juvenile home. The parents showed up Thursday, picked up their boy, stopped by the jail to borrow $10 from Dodson, and left town, police said.

STATE FAIRGROUNDS, Salem —Three saddle-wire riders out of eastern Oregon won the 4-H horsemanship contest with more than 100 youngsters and their mounts competing from 25 Oregon counties.
