Detroit, Bunning Beat White Sox

Giants, SL Cop Triumphs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When the last out was made in the All-Star Game, the National League had only one hero in defeat, Philadelphia's relief ace Dick Farrell.

He had shut out the American League without a hit, striking out Jensen, Skowron, Malzone and Ted Williams in a near-perfect two innings that came too late.

Farrell had been just as effective for the Phillies. He had been in half their previous 30 games and had figured in more than half their 18 victories with a 5-0 record and five saves in a month-long battle from seventh place to fourth, just 2½ games shy of the lead.

He's been yesterday's hero since. He has won only once in seven decisions and has managed just four saves in 22 appearances. He's been battered for 25 earned runs in 29 innings over that span.

The kid right-hander took his lumps again last night, getting tagged for four runs on four hits as Milwaukee whipped the Phils 9-5 in 10 innings.

That kept the Braves' lead at nine games over San Francisco as the Giants broke a tie for second with rain-soaked Pittsburgh by winning Los Angeles 13-3. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2 with Sam Jones becoming the third NL pitcher in 30 years to strike out 200 in one season.

In the American League, idle New York gained a 12½-game lead as Detroit rapped the Chicago White Sox 11-4. Boston beat Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Cleveland 2-1.

Braves 9, Phils 5

The Braves built a 5-1 lead on Wes Covington's 24th home run, a two-run shot in the fifth, then nailed it in the 10th on singles by Casey Wise and Hank Aaron, a walk, Frank Torre's tie-breaking, two-run single, and Billy Branton's two-run triple, handing Farrell a 7-8 record.

The last-place Phils, had swung for 12 hits off Lew Burdette, chasing the big right-hander with four runs in the fifth for a 5-1 tie. But they managed just one hit the rest of the way off southpaw Juan Pizarro (5-2).

Giants 13, LA 3

Willie Mays had three hits, one his 28th home run, for the Giants, who scored eight runs in the first inning. Stu Miller (5-7), the little junk man, went all the way, giving up five hits. Carl Furillo drove in all the Dodger runs, with a sacrifice fly and two-run single. Johnny Podres (12-12) lost it.

Cards 4, Cubs 2

A pair of unearned runs in the fifth inning did the job for the Cards against loser Dave Hillman (4-7) as they tied Cincinnati for fourth. Jones (12-11) gave up five hits, with one Cub run unearned, and struck out eight for a total of 201. The old Cardinal high was 199, set by Dizzy Dean in 1933. No one had fanned 200 in the NL since Johnny Vander Meer whiffed 202 with the Reds in 1941.

Weekend Dog Trials Underway

The annual fall retriever trials sponsored by the Shasta-Cascade Retriever Club opened Friday morning with the first action of the three-day weekend meeting. The trial will continue through Sunday afternoon.

Derby dogs, under two years of age, competed today, with the Qualifying Stake also started. Saturday, the Amateur and Open All-Age divisions will start. Sunday's schedule calls for the completion of the Open.

The public is invited to attend the trial sessions any time. The trial grounds are located on the Oregon State Game Commission's management land 10 miles south of Klamath Falls on the Miller Island Road. Signs will be posted leading people to the trial grounds.

Richard B. (Rick) Ferrell, newly-appointed director of minor league personnel for the Detroit Tigers, had a lifetime batting average of .281 in 18 years in the major leagues.

An excellent opportunity for Klamath football fans, who are anxious for the 1958 season to get underway, is coming up this Saturday night when the Klamath Union Pelicans divide and tangle in the annual Red and White game on Modoc Field.

Not only do the fans get in free, they will be served coffee and doughnuts after the game and get a closeup chance to talk to the coaches.

The squads are not divided into first and second teams, as such, for this "showcase" game—they are evenly divided so that both clubs will have a balance of power. . . . An ideal situation for the fans who want to see the actual overall power of the club.

Fans who turn out for the Red and White clash will undoubtedly be treated to a first-class hassle, what with the current battle for starting slots on the Pelican varsity. . . . and the season opener only a short week away. . . . Marshfield, next Friday.

The game will be a regulation affair with both sides going all out for a win. . . . Coach Knudsen will be in the press box casting an eagle-eye at the whole affair. He'll get a lot of the answers.

Athletic director Jim Johnson also plans to have on hand the master chart showing the available seats left for season ticket buyers.

A Washington State College grad, who is working for his masters in physical education, has come up with a scientific approach to the answer to an old baseball question. . . . Does a ball thrown on the fly from the outfield get to the plate faster than the one that takes a bounce first?

Chuck Brayton, a '50 grad of WSC now coaching at Yakima JC, has set up a field laboratory on the Cougar diamond to dope this out. He has a battery of assorted high-speed cameras, a squad of outfielders and all sorts of additional paraphernalia rigged to find the solution.

After he photographs "X" number of throws; both bouncers and non-bouncers, all he has to do is to examine several hundred feet of film and compare the six with timing apparatus and he will have his answer.

Just what he will do with his answer probably introduces a whole new field of endeavor. He may be able to convince his own club that one way or the other to throw is the best. . . . but where does he go from there? Can't you just hear Casey Stengel agreeing to change the style of his outfielders?

The Medford Black Tornado received a blow in the loss of end Lowell Dean to this year's football squad. Dean has been sidelined because of a hernia operation. . . . the injury being attributed to the baseball season.

Coach Speigelburg has a pretty fair reserve to slip into Dean's place however; Jerry Anderson, a 6-3, 180-pounder.

Dean has been one of the real standouts on the Tornado teams, not only in football, but baseball and basketball as well. He was named to the Southern Oregon Conference All-Star hoop squad and was a stickout on the baseball team. A boy who will work as hard as Dean obviously has, in two or three high school sports, is highly appreciated by his coach.

He may be able to return to duty before the season is over.

One of the most deserving and probably the least publicized athletes in Klamath County is Jim Jackson. Jim, a 28-year-old OSC student, recently pushed Herald & News tennis tournament singles champion Bill Rose to the limit in the title match on the Moore Park courts.

During his career he has beaten some of the best in the country. . . . in fact he is the only player in the Northwest who holds a convincing win over the seemingly invincible Rose. He also is ranked as the number one man on the OSC courts. . . . the community may well be proud of him. It would be well to keep an eye on him in the future.

Speaking of tennis. . . . the man responsible for running the Herald & News tournament in such a smooth fashion is Earl Brooks. Brooks is to be complimented for his efforts in making the H&N tourney a well recognized meet. His cooperation, smooth efficiency and quiet, unobtrusive attitude is very much appreciated by all concerned.

Another local tennis star who deserves praise. . . . is junior singles winner, John Bousquet.

KUHS Football

Notice is called to the fact that a previously published Klamath Union High 1958 football schedule was in error. The KU-Central Point game will be played on Klamath's Modoc Field October 31, making a total of four games played at home and four games away.

KU Athletic director, Jim Johnson, notes that potential season ticket purchasers may see the available seating arrangements on a chart which will be displayed Saturday night at the annual Red and White game on Modoc Field.

Unsold season tickets will be placed on sale next Tuesday morning at the chamber of commerce. The tickets cost $6 and cover all KU home games.

Idle NY Yankees Up Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Bunning is finding the American League's no-hitter jinx a tough whammy to whip.

The lean right-hander who won 20 for Detroit last season seemed to be back in form when he pitched his 3-0 no-hitter against Boston July 30. It was his sixth victory in his last seven decisions.

Since then things have been rough, just as it was for Bobo Holloman, Mel Parnell and Bob Keegan—the last three to pitch no-hitters in the AL.

Holloman got his in his first major league start with the St. Louis Browns back in 1953. He didn't complete another game in the majors and was out of business two months later.

Parnell, the hard-luck guy of the Boston Red Sox, got his in 1956—then went into self-imposed retirement because of injury less than a year later.

Keegan was the only major leaguer to pitch a no-hitter last year. The Chicago White Sox sent him to the minors this season.

Bunning hasn't been able to pitch a complete game in nine starts since his big day in Boston, and has lost four of six decisions.

Yesterday he won for the only second time since the no-hitter, beating the White Sox 11-4. But he again wasn't around for the finish—after pitching perfect ball for the first four innings.

The loss dropped the Sox 12½ games behind idle New York again and reduced the Yankees' pennant-clinching magic number to nine.

Boston beat Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Cleveland 2-1 in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

Tigers 11, Sox 4

Bunning (10-10) gave way after the seventh inning, when Earl Torgeson, who had three of the Sox's eight hits, swatted his solo seventh home run. Hank Aguirre mopped up for the Tigers, who scored four runs in the first inning, three on Gail Harris' 16th home run. Ray Moore (9-6) lost his third straight.

Boston 5, Birds 2

Pete Runnels drove in a pair of runs for the Red Sox as Baltimore dropped into a tie for fourth with Detroit. His double tied it 2-2 in the fifth, and he singled home the winner in a three-run seventh against loser Milt Pappas (9-8). Rookie Bill Monbouquette (2-4) gave up only three singles, all the Orioles managed as Murray Wall pitched a hitless three innings of relief. Both Bird runs were unearned.

KC 2, Indians 1

Roger Maris broke up a shutout duel with his 24th home run, a two-run belt in the sixth, as the A's ended Cal McLish's winning streak at six. McLish (14-7) allowed only four hits in his seventh inning, giving up a single to Bill Tuttle ahead of the homer. Ralph Terry (9-11) was the winner with a nine-inning, losing a shutout in the eighth on Vic Power's triple and an infield single by Minnie Minoso.

Carmen Basilio 4-1 Choice To Whip Aragon Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ex-champion Carmen Basilio is favored at 4-1 to win his comeback start tonight against Art (Golden Boy) Aragon in a TV 12-rounder which may set a new California gate record of more than $235,000.

Champion Sugar Ray Robinson has promised to defend his middleweight crown against the winner in January or February — if he doesn't retire.

When craggy-faced Basilio squares off against swarthy, black-haired Aragon of Los Angeles at Wrigley Field at 10 p.m., e.d.t., their duel of left-hookers will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC.

There'll be a TV blackout on a radius of 300 miles from the ring. Cal and Alleen Ealon, the husband-wife promoting team, expect a crowd of more than 21,000 for this match between Basilio of Chittanooga, N. Y., probably the world's most popular fighter today, and the very unpopular Aragon.

Red-White Contest KU Weekend Feature

Klamath Union High School's annual Red and White football game, which is scheduled for Modoc Field at 8 p.m. Saturday, September 6, will provide fans, parents and boosters with a "coach's eye-view" of the 1958 Pelican potential.

The contest, a full regulation game between evenly-matched squads of KU varsity prospects, combines the elements of a showcase preview of the coming regular season with a get-acquainted session allowing fans and parents to discuss the situation with the KU mentors. Following the game, coffee and doughnuts will be served the spectators. There is no admission charge.

Head coach Andy Knudsen stated that the two squads are not divided into first and second teams but were chosen in a manner that will display a balance of power and allow nearly all the players to see action.

Also slated for a warmup in the pre-season match are the members of the Klamath Officials Association. All 15 of the association's football members will divide the officiating chores.

Knudsen will observe the overall game from the press box having delegated the coaching assignments for the game to Jim Inglesby, who will direct the White squad, assisted by DeLance Duncan and Hank Smith; and Jack Peterson, who is to handle the Red club aided by Gene Strehlou and Joe Roberts.

Chosen to make up the White team are ends Gary Kraenburg, Glyn Michaels, Wayne Dennis, Larry Johansen, Jack Mitchell and Bill Majors; tackles Nick Insley, Don Bunker, Larry Baderek, Richard Ford, and John Heyden; guards Bert Frewing, Gary Hancock, Dick Ewing, Ralph Williams and Ralph Nidever; centers Gerry Herman, Rich Moore and Rich Koberstein; quarterbacks Jack Riley and Roger Ballard; halfbacks Bob Egge, Ron Olyera, Greg Jones, Dell Smith, Steve Siles and Ron Reinmiller; and at fullback John Hancock and Cliff Paugh.

On the Red roster are ends Eslin Kiger, Gary Burt, Larry Banyard, Dick Putnam and Jim Mathis; tackles, Ron Ybarra, George Vins, Roger Eastman, Loren Ambers, Merle Sine and Richard Erlich; guards Ron Weber, Eddie Mattmiller, Brian Walker, Joe Cox and Sam Hinzl; centers Charleton Currin and Art Mills; quarterbacks Blake Griggs and Pat Salvadori; halfbacks Don Story, Bill Santo, Dean Dunson, George Flitcraft, Trenton Douglas and Benji Gup-till; fullbacks Ron House and Les Husted.

The Klamath Union gridders will round out their first two weeks of pre-season drills Friday afternoon. Two practice sessions a day devoted to fundamentals and scrimmages, specialist training and conditioning drills have been the order of work for the Pels since the opening workout was called on August 25.

Jim Johnson, KUHS athletic director, will have a seating arrangement chart at the Red and White game showing available seats for season tickets.

Owl Hoots Open Season

The Owl Hoots, Oregon Tech booster organization, kicks off the 1958-59 sports season Monday night at the Winema Hotel in the first meeting of the year. Meeting time is 6:30.

President Dick Gallagher has urged all Owl Hoot members to be on hand Monday evening for the year's first meeting. Any person in the Klamath Basin interested in Oregon Tech's athletic program, and in sports in general, is welcome to attend.

"We feel we are going to have one of our best years with football and basketball prospects both looking very bright," Gallagher said, "and we would like to encourage all Owl Hooters to be with us to open the year Monday night."

The Owl Hoots will meet every Monday evening through football and basketball seasons. Special speakers and programs are planned throughout the year.

Head football coach Rex Hunsaker and his two assistants, George Miller and Ralph Carr, will be on hand Monday night to give the boosters a preview of the 1958 Owl football club, which opens practice Monday morning.

"Arrogant Art" thrives on unpopularity as did ex-heavyweight champion Jack Sharkey back in the 1930s. The fans—particularly Los Angeles Mexicans—came by the thousands to see him get "moldered."

Aragon, 30, alienated the Mexicans early in his career by announcing: "I'm pure Spanish—not Mexican." And he rankled other followers of the sweet science by his "wrestling-villain" conduct in the ring and his escapades outside it.

But his unpopularity paid off and made him the "Golden Boy" to the tune of nearly two million dollars in gates during his 14-year career. He turned professional at 16. He is the greatest drawing card in California ring history.

Basilio, 31, is making his first start since he lost the 160-pound crown to Robinson by a split decision at Chicago March 25. In that fight, Carmen suffered such a ghastly closed left eye that he spent nine days at Chicago's Wesley Memorial Hospital for treatment.

He protected the eye with a face mask during training at nearby Long Beach. Whether hard-hitting Aragon can close the eye again is the big question of the fight. Carmen, ex-welterweight and middleweight champ, was not impressive in his final sparring drill last Monday.

Aragon, an upright fighter, is a mediocre boxer but a good puncher. He seeks his 16th straight victory and his sixth of 1958. He registered 53 knockouts while winning 81 of his 101 bouts. He never took the count although he was stopped once on cuts.

Carmen never was stopped in his 72 bouts. He scored 25 kayoes while winning 52 starts. His hell-for-leather fighting in the two classics with Tony De Marco and the two with Robinson made him probably the most popular boxer in the world today.

Eight-ounce gloves will be used tonight, and the mandatory eight-count after a knockdown has been waived. A referee and two judges will score the bout on a 10-point basis.

Yes, it could be you. You might easily be the careless citizen who started a major forest fire, destroying vital timber, ruining recreation areas, killing wildlife and forest rangers. It doesn't take a big display of carelessness. Such a simple act as flipping a cigarette out a car window can set a whole mountainside ablaze. Fact is, 9 out of 10 forest fires are man-caused. And with more people visiting the forests than ever before—10 times as many as in 1946—the need for care and caution is greater than ever.
