Wanda Murdock Weds T. Carter In Malin

MALIN — In the picturesque garden of her parents' home Wanda Jean Murdock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Henderson, became the bride of Terry Carter, son of Mr. Willis Carter of Provo, Utah, on Saturday afternoon, August 9, at 3 o'clock.

The nuptial service was read by the Rev. Robert L. Greene of St. Paul's Episcopal Church on the beautifully decorated patio against a background of a silver patio canopy accented with clusters of white wedding bells. A white fence with arrangements of white and apricot gladioli on the back pillars and low arrangements of bells of Ireland and ivy on the front pillars outlined the place for the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Rudolph Pavay was organist and accompanied Mrs. Albert

Herringshaw of Klamath Falls who sang "Because" and "A Wedding Prayer."

Escorted by her stepfather who gave her in marriage, the pretty bride wore an all-white gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves tapering at the wrist. The fitted bodice accented the bride's small waistline and the bottom fullness of the bouffant skirt was of net with appliques of the lace in a rose design. A small lace cap trimmed with seed pearls held her veil of silk net edged with lace which was her "something borrowed" from her sister, Mrs. Alice Mackay, of Salt Lake City. She carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis on her white Rainbow Bible.

The other traditional touches included an Irish penny in her shoe and blue garter. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls centered with three rhinestone circles, a gift from her parents.

Mrs. Wayne Rick was groomed in a waltz length sleeveless dress of peppermint green chiffon tulle with a low draped neckline and the full skirt caught in a drape on the side, trimmed with a bow of the same material as the dress. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Eddie McAuliffe and Mrs. Donald Sarutski, wore identical gowns to the matron of honor's except in the apricot color. They all wore small white hats of ribbon and net and their flowers were cascading arrangements of apricot carnations for the matron of honor and green carnations for the bridesmaids.

Flower girls, Sharon and Sandra Mackay, nieces of the bride, wore bouffant dresses of mint green tulle with green velvet sashes. They carried baskets of small French marigolds. Best man was Wayne Rick and Eddie McAuliffe and Clark Unruh seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Henderson chose an afternoon dress of light blue silk crepe with a hat of pink feathers and white accessories. Her corsage was of small pink roses.

The reception followed the ceremony in the lovely garden area of the bride's home with the refreshment tables decorated in the color scheme of apricot and peppermint green chosen by Wanda for her wedding. The tiered wedding cake, encircled with fern and apricot gladioli flowers, was served by Mrs. Leslie Unruh. At the punch bowls were Mrs. Alice Dokken, Mrs. Clark Unruh and Mrs. Ronald McKay. Mrs. Doyle Haskins and Vernette Dokken poured coffee.

Mrs. Robert Meek registered the guests and at the gift table were Mrs. Robert Meek, Mrs. Vernon Shuck and Karen Mackay, the bride's niece.

All the decorating for the patio and the tables was done by Mrs. Karl Kujac, a family friend.

The couple honeymooned at Crater Lake and in the Rogue River Valley. For going away the bride chose a two-piece black linen dress with large white collar and black accessories. The bride is a graduate of Malin High School and the bridegroom of Provo High School, Provo, Utah.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mackay, Kyle, Karen, Sharon, Sandra and Terry of Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meek of Brookings, Oregon; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sarutski, Alhambra, California.

Previous to their wedding, Wanda and Terry were feted at a picnic supper in Malin Park planned by some of Wanda's former classmates at Malin High School.

St. Barnabas Church Scene For Stolte-Romtvedt Wedding

BONANZA—Ruth Alvild Romtvedt, daughter of Mrs. Sondre Romtvedt and the late Mr. Romtvedt of Bonanza became the bride of Alfred Stolte, Richland, Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stolte of Gifford, Idaho, in a double ring ceremony August 16 in St. Barnabas Church in Langell Valley. The Rev. Emil Stolte, uncle of the bridegroom and pastor of the Lutheran Church at Cornelius, Oregon, officiated at the 2:30 service.

Bases of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and lighted tapers decorated the church. White satin bows marked the pews.

Joan Keyser played an interlude of appropriate music during the seating of the guests.

The bride was escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her brother, Eric Romtvedt, of Pearl City, Illinois.

The petite blonde bride was lovely in a ballerina length gown of embroidered tulle, with scalloped Sabrina neckline and wrist length sleeves. Her veil was float length illusion net from a crown of scalloped lace, woven with seed pearls and rhinestones.

Her bouquet was white phalaenopsis orchids on a white prayer book with streamers of stephanotis. The blue garter was given to the bride by Mrs. Gerhart Stolte and she had a lucky penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Ben McCracken, sister of the bride, Kirkland, Washington, was matron of honor and wore a crown of street length pale yellow embroidered organza over pale yellow cotton, her headband matched the material in the dress. Her bouquet was a colonial

For a wedding trip to the coast, the new bride wore a pink two piece chemise with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Alvild, a graduate of Bonanza High School and Pacific Lutheran College, is a teacher at Richland. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pacific Lutheran College and he also teaches at Richland. They will live at 713 Winslow, Richland.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Haneke, Martha Stolte, of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rockstad, Rocky Rockstad and Greta Johnson, of Puyallup; Mrs. Einar Kjesbu and sons of Bandon; Mr. and Mrs. Art Young and children of Jennings Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCracken and children of Kirkland; Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart Stolte and Jackie of Yakima; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanson of Redwood City, California; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Romtvedt and sons of Pearl City, Illinois; the Rev. and Mrs. Emil Stolte and David of Cornelius; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stolte, Henrietta and Walter of Gifford, Idaho.
