Portland Woman Luncheon Speaker

A luncheon meeting at 1 p.m. of the Klamath Chapter Daughters of the American Colonists at which Mrs. John Y. (Ruth Rose) Richardson, state regent, will be guest speaker, has been announced by Mrs. Arch G. Proctor, regent of the local chapter.

Mrs. Richardson is well known nationally as well as statewide, as she is a past national officer of DAR and an honorary state regent. She is an attorney as well as public accountant with offices in Portland, her home city. At present, she is working enthusiastically as chairman for the restoration of the Dr. Robert Newell house committee. It is hoped to have this work completed in time for the Oregon Centennial celebration of 1959.

Mrs. Richardson has held many Portland city offices. She was city judge for five years and served as the woman representative on the City Zoning Commission and City Inter-racial Commission. Her only daughter, Ruth Rose, is head of the English department and public relations director at St. Helens Hall.

Mrs. George McIntyre will present Mrs. Eugene Favell in vocal selections following the luncheon which will be at the Pelican Party Room on September 27.

Martha Marie Beasly Bride At Church Rites

MERRILL—The First Presbyterian Church of Merrill was the setting on Saturday, September 6, for the marriage of Martha Marie Beasly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Beasly of Merrill, and Kenneth V. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Martin of Klamath Falls.

Large baskets containing arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums formed the background for the impressive single ring ceremony. Officiating at the 8 p.m. nuptials was the Rev. Lloyd Henderson.

Mrs. Ab Herringshaw, organist, played the incidental music and traditional wedding marches. Cora Enman, vocalist, sang two numbers before the wedding party approached the altar and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride's beauty was emphasized by her waltz length gown of heavy white lace over satin. The sheath fitted skirt featured a drop waistline in back and an added ruffle of a satin bustle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over her wrists. Martha's shoulder length veil, borrowed from her sister, was held in place by a close fitting cap encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried an arrangement of white roses on a white Bible.

Mrs. Leroy Johnson (Esther Beasly), sister of the bride, was the bride's only attendant. She was gowned in a frock of beige nylon chiffon accented by patterned flowers in a deeper shade of mauve. The full skirt had back detail of flowing panels. The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. On her head she wore a matching beige headband with a short veil. The matron of honor's bouquet was an arrangement of talisman roses.

Best man was Leroy Johnson of Klamath Falls and brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Tom and Bill Beasly, the bride's brothers, and Duane Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Beasly chose a green two piece suit with brown accessories. Mrs. Martin was attired in a blue two piece ensemble with matching accessories. Each mother wore a talisman rose shoulder corsage.

A reception in the church parlor room for the 150 wedding guests was held immediately following the ceremony. Serving the three-tiered wedding cake were Pauline Clark, Pearl McPherson, Louise Beasly and Marilyn McPherson. Presiding at the coffee service were Nancy McPherson and Mary Lou Loveness. The punch bowl was attended by Arlene Trotman and Loretta Chesne.

At the gift table were Nancy and Bobby Merrillees, cousins of the bride. Assisting with the guest book was Kathryn Barnes.

All the reception arrangements were undertaken by Mrs. Clovis Story, Mrs. Wendell Moore, Mrs. Don Barnes and Mrs. Leonard

Johnson, close friends of the family.

For her going-away outfit, the new Mrs. Martin wore a green paisley ensemble, black velvet hat and complementing accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Merrill High School, attended St. Luke's School of Nursing in San Francisco from which she graduated in 1957. The bridegroom, a graduate of Klamath Union High School, attended the University of Colorado before entering service in 1955. He is now sergeant in the Marine Corps stationed at Camp Pendleton, California. The couple is at home at the base until Martin's discharge in February.

Out of town guests attending the event were Mrs. David Seed and daughter, Kathy, El Cerrito, California; Mr. and Mrs. John Seed, Dunsmuir; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kidwell, Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beasly and daughters, Central Point; Mrs. Hazel Bowman, Central Point.

Pre-nuptial events included a personal shower held early in August with Mrs. Delbert Dehlinger as hostess. On August 27 a miscellaneous shower was held at the Merrill Presbyterian Church with numerous close friends as hostesses.

Teen-age Party In Bonanza

BONANZA—Mrs. Roy Fernlund gave a party at the Bonanza Library the evening of September 6 in honor of her daughter Joan who was celebrating her 13th birthday that day.

The party was a "sockhop" with decorations carrying out that theme. The birthday cake was pink and white with rock 'n' roll songs written all over the top and musical instruments of plastic were around the edge.

Scott Wooten brought his record player and records and the 22 teenagers enjoyed dancing until 11 o'clock. Joan received many nice gifts from her friends.
