SCOUT NEWS

WEED GIRL SCOUTS

WEED — Girl Scout activities in Weed will not resume until the need for leadership is met, Mrs. Bernice Scribner, Weed neighborhood chairman, announced recently.

A total of 111 local girls, second through eighth graders, registered for the local scouting program at the recruiting session held at the Weed Elementary School all-purpose room recently.

The registration of 111 girls will break down into seven organized troops of Brownies, Intermediate and senior groups; two more leaders and nine assistants are needed before the program can be officially instituted on a full scale basis.

Grades and the respective leadership needed, include: third grade leader and two assistants; fourth grade, one assistant; fifth grade, one assistant; sixth grade, two assistants; and the seventh grade, leader and two assistants.

The neighborhood chairman extends a welcome to all interested persons and mothers to attend the Girl Scout neighborhood meeting slated at the Weed Court Club Monday night from 7 to 8 o'clock.

TAX DEDUCTION CLAUS

LONDON (UPI) — A tax official ruled recently that cats kept in shops as mouse-catchers may be deducted as business expenses.

Every year, U.S. newspapers publish more than 300 million individual classified ads — roughly two for every man, woman and child in the nation.

In a study of teen-agers by Eugene Gilbert and Company, the newspaper was shown to be a big influence on their living and spending habits.

Wagner's opera, "The Ring of the Nibelung," is composed of four separate music dramas. Similar characters and musical themes link the four together.
