Russians Will Cheat, Say Parachute Jumpers

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

BELGRADE (NEA) — "If the Russians cheat at sport, they will do anything."

This is the reaction in Belgrade to the World Championship Parachute Jumps, recently held in Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, at which Russia went out of her way to humiliate Yugoslavia.

The average Yugoslav may not understand fully why Yugoslavia has been singled out for the combined attack of Soviet Russia, her Eastern European satellites and Red China.

But of one thing he considers himself to be a judge: good sportsmanship and fair play.

Nothing Russia has done in months of economic pressure and political slander against Yugoslavia has so outraged the people of Belgrade as Russia's manipulation of the parachute meeting.

In the eyes of this nation of 16 million sports fans, Yugoslavia clearly deserved second place at the meet, a finding borne out by independent witnesses.

First, the Soviets stacked the deck by making sure that only Czechs were named as judges. Then, according to the Yugoslavs, the Soviet and Eastern European teams started claiming unfair advantages. For example, the Russian star performers refused to jump unless the wind suited them, while other competitors were forced to chance their luck.

Not content with relegating Yugoslavia to fourth place through these tactics, the referees altered the score two days later to demote Tito's team to fifth place.

The sports meeting may not be important in itself, but it is seen in Belgrade as an indication that the Soviet world will go to any lengths to crush Marshal Tito. Objects of the Moscow-Peking offensive as seen from here:

To discredit Marshal Tito and "Titoism" with the Eastern European satellites, many of whom have looked longingly to this "other path to Socialism" in the past.

To undermine Tito's leadership and authority among the uncommitted nations of the Afro-Asian group, who have looked to Tito for a lead in steering a middle course between rival blocs.

To create disaffection among the Serbs, Croats, Macedonians and other national groups which constitute Yugoslavia, in the hopes of bringing Tito down.

Fair from succeeding in this last purpose, the Moscow-Peking offensive seems to have stiffened popular resistance to Soviet-Chinese browbeating and blandishments alike.

Yugoslavs now appear resigned to a complete rupture between themselves and "the rest of the Communist world," as they put it. They still consider themselves Communists.

Many Reports Plague Police

City police activity over the weekend fell into general classifications of breaking and entering, business firms, thefts from parked cars, and lost billboards.

In addition to the usual drunk arrests and stolen bikes, police reported:

Breaking and entering — Two gasoline plants, side by side in the 2900 block of South Sixth Street, produced a most unusual lot. The Signal Oil and Richfield Oil plants were entered with the aid of tin snips, drawers in both offices were searched, and from both offices paper staplers were stolen.

Also missing were a quart of antifreeze from the Richfield plant and a quart of champagne (antifreeze of a more palatable nature) from the Signal plant.

Two other adjacent business firms were entered over the weekend. They were the Packer-Scott Company and Rogers Roofing Warehouse in the 800 block of Main Street. Nothing was missing from Rogers Roofing, but a cash box containing about $2 in coins was missing at Packer-Scott.

Thefts from cars — Police were told a 13-year-old boy was arrested for stealing rifle shells from the car of Dr. George D. Massey, parked in front of Klamath Valley Hospital Sunday morning; Dave Groves of Balsiger Motors said two jackets worth $32 and four floor mats were stolen from his car in a grocery parking lot Saturday night; and Gary Fronke, Route 3, said someone broke the front window of his car parked near Ellingson's Mill early Saturday morning and stole his lunch box and coffee thermos.

Billboards — Lost or stolen, said their owners, were billboards containing: Nothing but a Social Security card and an unemployment book, said Clifford Wilson, 913 Alameda; $60 said Donald Yadon of Tillamook, who said he had visited several taverns Saturday night; $70 said Lindsey Groll, another hotel visitor; and $100 said Roy Stockton, another hotel guest who said he invited a stranger to his room.

Accidents reported include a collision between cars operated by Edward Michael May, 432 North Fifth Street, and Olive Fraley, Dairy, at Main and Broad streets at 3 p.m. Saturday, no citations; parking accident involving cars operated by Pete T. Anderson, 632 North Tenth Street, and W. F. McClure, 1004 Eldorado Blvd., at Seventh and Main streets at 4:29 p.m. Sunday, no citations; Frank Reicher of Bly and Roy Leonard Martensen, Route 4, at Sixth and Commercial streets Friday, Reicher cited for following too closely; and a bird dog struck by a car driven by H. F. Sweeney, 4641 Bisbee Street, at Sixth and Elm streets Sunday, the badly injured dog taken to the county pond.

Additionally, a boy said he was fired by a ricocheting B-B pellet fired by a small boy, who was lectured by police; and Bradford Dean Howell, 21, was charged with disorderly conduct after officers warned him to stop drinking beer at the Friday night ball game and confiscated the remainder of his six-pack, only to notice Howard remove his confiscated beer from a police car and drink again.

Wreck Injures Lakeview Man

Oscar W. Steel, 56, an employee of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company living at Lakeview, apparently escaped with multiple lacerations of the head and face when the car he was driving went off the road and turned over late Sunday night, a few miles north of Bly.

Steel told his attending physician that the accident must have occurred at about 11 p.m., when he apparently went to sleep while driving on the Old Pine Road, near Weyerhaeuser Camp Nine. He lay unconscious in the vehicle for about an hour. When he came to, he walked along the road to the ranch of Frank W. Obenchain, who drove him into Lakeview where he arrived about 2 a.m. His condition was described as "good" late Monday morning at Lakeview Hospital, but diagnosis was not yet complete.

This accident came to the attention of the public authorities at about 3:40 a.m., when Deputy Sheriff Jess Bryant of Bly was notified that there was an overturned car lying in the ditch off the Old Pine Road. When Bryant arrived there about 25 minutes later, he found that someone had already "relieved" the disabled automobile of its two rear wheels. Bryant was somewhat concerned to find a considerable amount of blood in the front seat, but when a wrecker from Lakeview came to take the car into town, he deduced, correctly, that Steel, whose name he knew through the registration document, had somehow made it into town and ordered the wrecker.

Stulor Buys Two Stations

KLAMATH FALLS (AP)—Interstate Radio Inc. says it has sold its stations at Alturas, Calif., and Klamath Falls for $97,000.

The firm said the two stations were sold to the Stulor Corp., to which licenses were assigned by the Federal Communications Commission.

The stations are KFLW in Klamath Falls and KCNO in Alturas.

Double Charge Hangs By Hair

A Klamath Falls man nearly escaped arrest by a hair, in the most literal sense, Sunday night.

State police officers said they arrested John Reagan Boyer, 39, Route 3, on a petty larceny charge after he allegedly helped himself to a brand new, 6-ply tire at the Schulze Tire Service, Main and Spring streets.

Boyer, police said, went to the company Sunday and asked to buy a used tire. Told the company was closed for business on Sunday, Boyer later returned and stole a new tire, police said.

Officers investigating the report removed the tire from Boyer's car, and in so doing noticed a hair sticking to the tire. The hair led to a closer look at the trunk, which showed evidence of more hair and blood. It appeared to be the hair and blood of a deer.

Further investigation resulted in the discovery elsewhere of a deer hide and some venison, officers said. Most of the meat was gone, but Boyer nevertheless faced two charges: petty larceny for the tire and illegal possession of untaxed venison for the deer.

Another multiple arrest reported by state police was that of Roy Raymond Compton, 18, Eugene, who first was arrested on a charge of burglarizing a house in Gilchrist.

Subsequent investigation, said Patrolman William Avelline, revealed that Compton had been AWOL from the Navy since September 4, and in that time had stolen three cars.

Compton, officers said, has been charged with car theft and faces charges on the other violations.

Both Compton and Boyer were sent to the Klamath County Jail.

Crash Kills LaPine Man

A LaPine man was fatally injured late Saturday night when the car in which he was apparently driving alone ran off Highway 31, about 15 miles east of the junction with Highway 97.

Preliminary reports from state police indicated that Ray Yeager, 61, may have fallen asleep at the wheel of his car before going off the road.

Klamath Couple Demolishes Auto

Minus one new car but apparently not seriously injured were Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Murphy, 722 Duly Street, after an accident which took place at about 9 p.m. Sunday, five miles south of Diamond Lake Junction on Highway 97.

According to state police, Murphy reported that something resembling a coyote crossed his path as he was driving south, and that he braked too hard on the power brakes of his new car.

The result was, police say, that he lost control of the car, which wound up, virtually demolished, in a pit by the side of the highway.

Authorities at Klamath Valley Hospital reported Monday morning that Murphy had sustained rib and back injuries of which the diagnosis was not yet complete. Mrs. Murphy was also undergoing X-rays to determine whether or not she had any broken ribs.

Forgery Trial To Start Today

The trial of Glen Charles Hatch, 41, Chiloquin, opened before Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg today with Hatch's waiver of a trial by jury.

Hatch is accused of forging the name of rancher Ora Summers to a $125 check last January. He was returned here August 29 from Sacramento by Deputy Sheriff Dale Mattson, and pleaded innocent September 2.

Hatch waived trial by jury through his attorney, David Card. The state was represented by District Attorney Arthur A. Beddoe.

Accident Victims Said Recovering

Erling L. Nelson, who was critically injured September 22 when he was struck by a car while walking in the street along Washburn Way, is "much better," authorities at Klamath Valley Hospital said Monday morning.

The condition of Oscar Carlson, seriously injured Wednesday in a lumber loading accident, was also reported as "better" Monday at the hospital.

TEMPTATION
ATLANTA (AP)—Temptation proved too much for a brown and white goat. As a result, he landed behind bars.

The animal charged into a man waiting at a bus stop Friday. The victim picked himself up and called police.

The goat was hauled off to the Grant Park Zoo.

Ullman Backs OTI Retention

Congressman Al Ullman Saturday strongly challenged efforts to move the Oregon Technical Institute from Klamath Falls. At a meeting of students and faculty members the Second District congressman backed the proposals of the Legislative Interim Committee on Education to keep the Technical Institute at Klamath Falls, moving it down to the floor of the valley adjacent to the city.

"OTI is rendering a unique and valuable service not only to Oregon, but to the nation," Ullman said. "Graduates are becoming increasingly in demand throughout the country. Any attempt to absorb this fine institution into any larger college or university would be contrary not only to sound educational practices, but to every principal of fairness and justice."

Ullman spoke about the Community College Bill which he originated and sponsored in the 85th Congress. Describing the "wide-spread support" it has received throughout the nation he predicted that "some action will be taken on the bill by the education committee in the next Congress."

"The Community College, by bringing college training closer to home, will open the door to college attendance to many thousands of young people now deprived of that opportunity," Ullman told the group.
