MALIN PARENTS AND PATRONS

MALIN—Malin Parents and Patrons honored all the teachers of the Malin schools at a reception on Tuesday evening, September 23, in the high school gym. Mrs. Frank Paygr Jr., president, conducted the meeting.

Introducing the teachers were past presidents of the organization, Mrs. Edwin Stastny, Mrs. Ivan Ottoman, Mrs. Bill Rajnos, Mrs. J. A. Bunnell, Mrs. Hob Wilson, Mrs. Louis Kalina and Mrs. James Ottoman, substituting for Mrs. George Smalley.

The grade school staff includes Charles Hale, principal; Dorothy Gordon, Irene Hill, Margaret McHenry, Irene Jelinek, Elsie Mock, Lois Evans, Cleo Lowry, Michael Lindauer. On the high school faculty are James Conroy, principal; Mildred Toffel, Louise Lindauer, Norman Ottoman, Charles Dobry, Kathy Edwards, George Hanson, George Brady, Don Miller and Bob Croft. Mrs. Lowry also teaches music in the high school. Teachers in the labor camp school are Anita Stephens and Evelyn Hager.

On the program was Shirley Bunnell who entertained at the piano. The Sweet Adelines chorus from Klamath Falls sang several songs and a barbershop quartet presented several selections.

School board members introduced were Jim Ottoman, chairman; Edwin Stastny and Elmont Kenyon. Also present was county school superintendent, Carrol Howe. The school cafeteria staff introduced were Mrs. Joe Illian, Mabel Cunningham and Mrs. Harold O'Riley. Bus drivers this year are Joe Illian, Charles Long and Lester Wilson.

Malin Cub Scouts are sponsored by the Parents and Patrons and Charles Hale presented the Cub Scout charter and special awards to Bob Victoria, cubmaster, and Dorothy Lindsay and Frances Petrasok, den mothers. Mrs. Jerry Brown will also have a Cub Scout den this year.

Each teacher was presented with a corsage or boutonniere which had been made by the Malin Garden Club. The next meeting will be October 21 with slides on the World's Fair at Brussels to be shown by Stanley Randolph of Klamath Falls.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by the mothers of the high school students.

FAIRVIEW

By Mrs. L. V. Wilson

September ushered in a busy and varied program schedule for the Fairview PTA which held its first meeting Thursday, September 25, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Alice Badley, PTA president for the ensuing year, opened the meeting with a flag salute led by Susan Ginder, Penny Howie, and Barbara Cofer, seventh grade students. Following this the parent teacher's prayer was read by Mrs. Donald Smith. Group songs were led by the music teacher, Mrs. Bethmyrl McLin with piano accompaniment by Susan Whytal, sixth grade student.

Mrs. Florence Ollman, principal, personally welcomed all parents and visitors to the meeting and introduced her faculty and staff. New teachers introduced were as follows:
