Milt Plum Sits Atop Quarterback Class

HIRAM, O. (NEA)—Paul Brown called his quarterback seminar together at Hiram and this time there was no doubt who would sit at the head of the class. The place with the professional Browns belongs to Milt Plum on the basis of his performance as a recruit last year. In fact, Plum looked so good after taking over as a starter in the late stages of 1957 that Coach Brown indicated the Penn State alumnus would be number one this fall even if Tommy O'Connell had returned. As the course opened here, the Browns were resting their near future in Plum's ruggedness as well as his ability. One of Otto Graham's many virtues was the fact that he always reported ready to work. In 10 illustrious seasons with the Browns, the Northwestern product never failed to start because of an injury.

'11 Marathon Series Holds Length Mark

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Come cold, rain or high water, the 1958 World Series will have a tough time topping the 1911 marathon that ran from Oct. 14 to Oct. 26. The current series between the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees may have to struggle with chilly winds, topcoats and long underwear but the boys should be out of the trenches in time to enjoy the last half of the football season. Back in 1911, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants played the longest series ever. For a while one week they played pinocle in a Philadelphia hotel lobby watching the rain stream down the front windows. After the third game it rained exactly a week before they could resume. The boys finally crawled home in time for the rabbit season.

Kaiser Wins Senior Crown

YAKIMA (AP) — A two-under 33 on the final nine holes Tuesday gave Henry Kaiser of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, the Northwest PGA senior golf crown and the right to represent the area in the national senior tourney at Dunedin, Fla., in January. Kaiser had a 143 total for the 36-hole tournament, played over the Elks Golf and Country Club course. The Coeur d'Alene Country Club pro was one over for the 36 holes and defeated defending champion Frank Sadler of Bellingham, Wash., by two strokes. Host pro Sid Harman came in third with a 147 total. Others who shared the prize money were Bob Pinnell, Sunnyside, 148; Roy Moe, Spokane, 149, and George Howard, Seattle, 150.

PCC Football Roundup

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — The University of Idaho Vandals, who play the University of Utah at Salt Lake City Saturday, have lost second string halfback Bob Eyer for the season. Coach Skip Stahley said Eyer, who suffered two broken bones in last week's game, will be hospitalized for at least four weeks. The coach did not name a probable replacement.

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford is still trying to figure out who to use in the starting backfield when his Indians play North-western Saturday at Evanton, Ill. During Tuesday's practice session, Curtice alternated 10 men in the backfield. They included quarterbacks Bob Nicolet and Dick Norman, fullbacks Gil Dowd and Doug Dick, and halfbacks Jim Byer, Roy Stephens, Jerry Bowers and John Bond.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The San Jose State Spartans have an open date this weekend — and Coach Bob Titchenal hopes to take advantage of the extra time to prepare his team for the game against Cal Poly on October 11. The Spartans are still looking for their first victory of the season. They dropped games to Washington and the University of Hawaii.

Working Press Picks Yankees

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The men in the press box are stringing along with the New York Yankees in the World Series. Thirty-nine of the 68 writers polled by United Press International picked the American League champions. Most of the writers believe it will be a six-game Series. Sixteen chose the Yankees to win in that number and 15 picked the Braves. There were 15 writers who believe the Yankees will win in seven. Ten picked the Braves to take it in seven. No one predicted the Braves would win in four straight, but two selected the Yankees to do so. There were four who picked the Braves in five, and six who thought the Yankees will wrap it up in five. Plum's physical make-up does not indicate delicacy, however, for

Oklahoma Army Leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. To the surprise of no one, particularly West Virginia and South Carolina, Oklahoma and Army ranked 1-2 today in total offense according to National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics.

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The Oregon State Beavers worked for two hours behind locked gates Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's game with UCLA. Coach Tommy Prothro said he worked the team in an effort to eliminate the bad passes from center. He pointed out that the three players rotating at center snapped 17 bad passes last week against Kansas.

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — First string right guard Charlie Johnson of the University of California may miss the Bears' game against Washington State Saturday because of leg injury, according to Coach Pete Elliott. The Bears held a short workout under the lights Tuesday night, concentrating on pass defense. They also worked on offensive patterns and held a brisk tackling drill.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Coach George Dickerson, outspoken opponent of the new point-after-touchdown rule, today hoped to solve UCLA's conversion problem before the Bruins meet Oregon State at Corvallis Saturday afternoon. Dickerson worked on the problem Tuesday in PAT drills for his squad.

The postponement that had the most serious effect on a series result came in 1951. The Yankees and Giants were engaged in one of those old-fashioned neighborhood duels.

After three games, the Giants led 2-1. More important, the Yankees already had used Allie Reynolds, Eddie Lopat and Vic Raschi. Casey Stengel was caught short with nobody for the fourth. Because Leo Durocher had gambled and won on Dave Koslo in the opener, the Giants had Sal Maglie ready for No. 4.

It poured that Sunday morning and continued during the afternoon. Commissioner Ford Frick viewed the field and finally had to call it off.

Monday turned out to be a good day and they resumed. Maglie still was ready, perhaps over-ready, for he was bumped 6-2. Stengel now had Reynolds set with three days of rest. Allie won, and the Yanks took the next two for a 4-2 series victory.

National Ski Patrol Grows

MOUNT SHASTA — The National ski patrol, organized in the Mount Shasta area in 1953, now has a strong group of eight members who have qualified to act in the rescue of all who need help in the snow belt. The added activity in winter sports on the mountain is sure to bring a need for such an organization.

With the recent development in the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl, more winter sports fans are sure to venture beyond their capacity, or may be victims of natural accidents. There may be times when national patrolmen from other areas of the west may be called to aid in the search, or rescue of dire cases, such as that of the Sierra Club climber, Emily Hatfield, on Mt. Shasta's slopes in 1957.

Beside patrol leader Fletcher E. Hoyt, James Nile, assistant leader, Howard Guenther, William Herbert, Jo Herbert, Thomas Blankenship, Russ Lurdon and Gus Odegard are all national patrolmen. Local patrolmen are: Harry Watkins, Velma Nile and Eldon Ramshaw.

These local patrolmen may attain national status after serving as local members for two years, and by passing all the first aid tests required.

Boosters Hear Coach Comment

At the regular weekly breakfast session of the Pelican Booster Club in the Willard Hotel this morning, a group of Klamath Union High supporters saw movies of the recent KU defeat at the hands of the Shasta Redding Wolves, spiced with a commentary by head football coach Andy Knudsen.

Reporting on the success of the Klamath Jayvees, who turned in a muddy victory at Tulelake Friday night, was coach Bob Johnson. Gene Strehlou gave a brief resume of the Pel Frosh victory over the McLaughlin Junior High squad which was played on Modoc Field Saturday afternoon.

The frosh accomplishment heightened the hopes of the Pel backers for future teams. Earl Brinson, Dave Stippich and Ted Steiner were particularly singled out for praise by the staff observers.

Knudsen, Jack Peterson and Jim Inglesby teamed in giving a rundown on the scouting reports of the Springfield-North Bend game played in Springfield last weekend. The Pels will meet the Milers this Friday night on Silke Field.

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Carver Gayton, the University of Washington's fleet halfback, has recovered from a leg infection and will be ready for action against Ohio State this weekend. Coach Jim Owens drilled the Huskies on Buckeye offensive patterns Tuesday and scheduled another tiff session for today. The team will leave for Ohio early Thursday.

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Coach Jim Sutherland of Washington State says two Cougar regulars and a flashy second-string halfback may not see action Saturday when the Cougars play the California Bears at Berkeley. Regular right guard George Somnis dislocated all the fingers on his left hand in the North-
