Premier Kassem Of Iraq Moves To Solidify Backing

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq is reported to have moved to consolidate peasant backing for his revolutionary regime with a land reshuffle while removing a potential rival.

The Middle East News Agency, which is controlled by the United Arab Republic, said in a dispatch from Baghdad that Kassem had announced the land program in a broadcast.

Kassem said the plan would free Iraqi peasants from feudal domination, the agency reported. The government will break up big land holdings during the next five years.

Big landlords were a bulwark of the royal government of the late Premier Nuri Said which Kassem overthrew July 14.

The No. 2 man in the revolt and the new republican regime, Brig. Abdul Salam Arif, has been relieved of his post as deputy premier, the news agency said. Arif has been named ambassador to Germany.

No reason for the demotion and, in effect, banishment of Arif was given. There have, however, been rumors of difference between him and Kassem. News from Baghdad is censored.

Arif has been believed advocating close Iraqi ties with President Nasser's U.A.R. while Kassem's public actions indicate an intention to maintain a separate course within the over-all pattern of Arab unity.

Without indicating at whom his remarks were aimed, Kassem said in his reported broadcast: "I consider it my duty to reaffirm that I and the revolutionary government will be on the lookout for anyone who tries to hinder the work on the path to revolutionary aims."

Land redistribution is the principal basis for building social reform, Kassem was quoted as saying.

The news agency said the Iraqi government plans to expropriate during the next five years private holdings in excess of 620 river-irrigated acres and 1,240 rain-irrigated acres, paying owners over a 20-year period at 3 per cent interest. Anyone not properly cultivating redistributed land will be imprisoned up to a year or fined or both.

Five days ago Nasser introduced a land redistribution program in the Syrian province of his U.A.R. which adjoins Iraq.

Negotiator Tough, Sharp

DETROIT (AP) — Teresa Merlo, the only woman on the United Auto Workers' national bargaining committee, is a tough, shrewd and stubborn negotiator.

She can quote a contract at the drop of a fringe benefit.

Chrysler negotiators says she's "kind of cute." Her union colleagues call her "The Little Bulldozer."

Five feet tall and weighing only 102 pounds, the 34-year-old Teresa has the physical and mental stamina to put many a male to shame.

After a recent marathon negotiation, she c r u s h e d a wearied male cobargainer by reminding him: "Don't forget, we have a local meeting tonight."

Teresa is employed as a machine operator in Chrysler's Automotive Body Division. A nine-year employe, she is a committeewoman for UAW Local 212 and represents 600 office workers she helped organize.

She is dedicated to her union work and is the first woman to hold the position she has with the UAW.

Helping merchants and individuals sell more goods by bringing news of merchandise and services to Klamath Basin consumers is the job of the Herald and News advertising staff.

H&N classified (want - ad) columns are the market place of the Klamath Basin. Last year the paper published 91,713 individual classified ads – more than one for each man, woman and child in the Basin.

The classified department is composed of Manager "Buck" Totton, who also serves as outside salesman, and three girls who assist advertisers who telephone their ads.

Jus McDonald heads the display department which helps merchants and service firms plan advertising, write copy and make layouts. Four account executives and two dispatch aides make up this service and sales department.

These advertising experts recognize that timely, informative, honest advertising serves you best and is most productive for the advertiser.

Killing Ruled 'Justifiable'

ATLANTA (AP) — An Atlanta police officer was justified in killing a Negro last month during a disturbance that became a near riot, the Fulton County grand jury has ruled.

The jury refused Tuesday to indict Patrolman W. O. Dempsey and agreed that the officer acted in defense of himself and his fellow officers when he shot Joe Franklin Jeter Sr. Sept. 13.

Leaders of the Negro community and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People had accused Dempsey and other police at the scene of brutality and claimed there was no excuse for the shooting. They had asked a sweeping investigation.

Police estimated that a crowd of between 300 and 500 Negroes assembled after they arrested a Negro suspected of attempting to hold up a Negro clerk in a drugstore in northwest Atlanta.

Officers said they made other arrests during the ensuing disturbance and that Jeter was shot only after he knocked a policeman to the ground, jumped on him and grabbed his revolver.

After declining to indict Dempsey, the jurors said in a statement that serious consequences for both white persons and Negroes could result from similar situations. They asked that responsible leaders refrain from presenting inflammatory statements when such incidents occur.

Wash Exhibit Plans Snafu

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Romaine Fielding's plan to show off a U.S. laundry at a Moscow fair went down the drain. But he cleaned up in the Soviet Union anyway.

Fielding, a 38-year-old dealer in laundry equipment, flew home to Los Angeles to await arrival of $30,137.

Where's the money coming from? The Russians.

"It all started as a potential tax-free junket to Russia," Fielding said. "I heard there was to be an American trade fair there and signed up for a laundry exhibit. Then I gathered together four accounts to supply the machinery and put everything aboard a ship bound for Helsinki, Finland."

Fielding's laundry was still on the high seas when he got news the Moscow fair had been called off. He went on anyway and made a deal to demonstrate his equipment at a Moscow housing project.

"We couldn't put up one of the modern type American laundries," he said, "but we took over a basement and hung out a sign. Practically everyone high in Russian circles except Khrushchev and his Cabinet visited our exhibit. They all marveled at the speed with which our American machines worked, especially the shirt-pressing equipment."

Fielding's laundry had been cranking away for about two weeks when a Moscow city Soviet official approached him and asked what he'd take for the works. He named his price and that was it.

Everyone was happy except Mrs. Fielding. While her husband dazzled the Soviets with Yankee washing machines, she did their personal laundry by hand.
