

Eligibility Rules Told

Any farmer who has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay is eligible to participate in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Klamath County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

Using Conservation Reserve regulations, the chairman defined "eligible" and "ineligible" land for the program as follows:

Eligible land includes: (1) Any land from which a crop was harvested or which was in regular crop rotation in 1958, and (2) land from which tame hay was harvested for hay or silage in either 1957 or 1958. Tame hay is defined as "a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established for hay by land preparation and seeding."

Non-eligible land includes (1) That planted to small fruits, vineyards, nursery stock, orchard or nut trees, and land between rows of these crops; (2) any land owned by the federal government or a corporation wholly owned by the federal government; and (3) land in noncrop open pasture, range, woods, or in the farmstead.

In Klamath County, Chairman Wilson said, the smallest amount of land that can be put in the Conservation Reserve is five acres. If the entire acreage to be put in the program is to be planted to forest trees, however, as little as two acres may be planted.

Canadian Mountain Named For Mount Shasta Lawyer

MOUNT SHASTA — L. N. Lorenzen, Mount Shasta attorney, has been notified that a peak in British Columbia has been named Lorenzen Mountain in his honor. This was done because of his climbing the granite cliffs that years of age to bag a record mountain goat near its granite summit.

The difficult peak is located in the Selkirk range near Golden, B. C. Lorenzen has hunted there previously, and had killed other big game animals in the area, but this goat was unusual specimen and could be reached only by climbing the granite cliffs that years of age to bag a record mountain goat near its granite summit.

What the Canadians did not know is that Lorenzen was raised in Shasta County, California, and celebrated the centennial day of the discovery of Bleasney River, and had lunch at the base of Mt. Lorenzen Mountain.
