News Pictures Travel At Speed Of Light

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One of the most remarkable electronic systems in the world is the Associated Press Wirephoto network.

Its development in the past quarter of a century has enabled news pictures to travel at the speed of light. Where once they appeared in newspapers days after an event, now they often are in print within an hour.

Some 600 newspapers and television stations simultaneously receive AP newsphotos over high fidelity wires. For other newspapers, it has cut days and hours from publication times by speeding the pictures to key centers around the world, from which they can be sent in print or matrix form by fast mail or courier.

A picture with a descriptive caption is wrapped around a cylinder on a sending machine. The cylinder revolves and moves along an axis so that it passes slowly before a photo-electric eye.

Bank Records Show Hike

Total deposits of $800,948,941 and loans amounting to $405,219,945 were recorded September 24 at the 78 offices of First National Bank of Oregon, it was revealed by C. B. Stephenson, bank president, following a call for statements of condition by the controller of the currency.

They represent an increase of $10,588,194 in deposits and a decrease of $5,361,377 in loans since the October 11, 1957 bank call, Stephenson said.

Wire Service Chief Says Communism Roots Deep

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—There is no strong evidence that Communism in China has rooted itself permanently in the minds of its 600-million people, Frank H. Bartholomew told a group of civil and industrial leaders here Saturday.

Bartholomew, president and general manager of United Press International, said evidence seems to support the contrary view that the masses consider themselves under the rule of "still another war lord."

"They go about their business as they have for thousands of years regardless of whose flag is flying."

"Private armies have marched and counter-marched across the land through all recorded history, and to the Chinese peasants the present armies of Mao and Chiang Kai-shek may be more of the same."

"There has been speculation as to what will happen to free China when Chiang Kai-shek dies. Perhaps curiously, there has been little speculation as to the future of Communism on mainland China if Mao and Chou En-lai were removed by death. These events themselves will reveal whether for the first time a foreign ideology has really rooted itself into China, or whether Mao and Chou En-lai are merely passing war lords who held the reins of government in their time because no stronger war lord successfully challenged them."

Meantime, he said, UPI is preparing to cover stories of Communist agitation throughout Asia.

"As far back as July 3," he said, "our correspondents were reporting impending trouble in the Quenoy-Fornosa area."

"There is trouble along the border of Red China and Burma. The atmosphere in Hanoi is tense. In Indonesia, the situation is far from settled. India is in desperate economic straits. With her 400-million people, India is a logical target of Communism."

"Even in Japan, the big industrial nation of Asia, Prime Minister Kishi is very worried about the growing strength of the extreme leftists."

"On the other side of the world, our correspondents report an increase in Arab nationalism."

"We may not have seen the last country fall under Nasser's sway. Western diplomats are agreed the Arab nationalism Nasser represents cannot be stopped. However, they also agree he is his own man, although in practice he gives the appearance of being hostile to the West. This may improve in the next few months."

"The Jordanian position is most delicate. Jordan could not survive without outside help."

"Our European correspondents tell me Eastern Europe is now in the greatest ferment since the autumn of 1956, before Polish October when Gomulka came to power, and 'Bloody November' when Hungary rose."

"But perhaps the biggest story there will be the running feud between Yugoslavia and the Communist bloc."

"We all are looking forward with interest to the congress of the Soviet Communist Party, now moved up to January, 1959, from 1960."

"At the previous congress, in February, 1956, Khrushchev made his surprise indictment of Stalin."

Bartholomew spoke before a group of San Francisco industry presidents at a lunch at the Cliff Hotel co-hosted by Earle Le Masters, president of the Pacific National Bank, and Herbert Cerwin of Herbert Cerwin & Staff, public relations consultants.

"I must say, for a size 9 overshoe, it certainly put up a fight!"

Crane Falls; Workmen Die

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP)—A huge crane toppled into a 22-foot-deep sewer trench Friday night, trapping two workers. Both were killed, presumably from drowning as water poured into the ditch from a broken main.

First aid squads, Civil Defense forces and other volunteers, digging under searchlights, brought up the bodies Saturday some nine and a half hours after the accident.

Three other men scrambled out as the sides of the trench gave way and an air compressor and the 23-ton crane tumbled in. Two of them were injured. Michael Lizado, 24, of Elizabeth, and Fred Zanca, 45, of Ruthersford, were killed. They were laying a 24-inch sewer line in the excavation.

Hypnotist Joseph Duninger Asked To Aid Chain Smoke

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI)—Chain smoker Harold Scott, half-convinced a long-distance telephone call helped him cut down on his cigarettes, has challenged Joseph Duninger, a pioneer in the use of clinical hypnosis, to finish the job.

Scott said late Friday that Duninger contradicted himself in his recent remarks about the unsuccessful attempt to cure Scott of smoking. Scott, 45, had spoken with English hypnotist Henry Blythe of Torquay, England, via transatlantic telephone, for 10 minutes Thursday.

At the conclusion of the interview, Scott promptly lit up a cigarette and was back on the habit again. However, he said, he no longer enjoys smoking and now smokes only a half-pack a day instead of his usual three or four.

Scott told United Press International Friday that Duninger had condemned hypnosis via phone as both impossible and dangerous.

It can't be both, Scott said, in challenging the "mental marvel."

These were Scott's terms:—Duninger or his TV sponsor must post a $25,000 bond that the hypnosis will not injure any other part of his brain.

—A doctor must be available at all times.

—If Duninger or his TV sponsors will pay Scott's expenses to and from Reno, plus a fee of $10,000, Scott would be willing to face the hypnotic powers of Duninger in person.

Scott apparently didn't stand to lose anything except his habit.

Bank Records Show Hike

Figures released by the Klamath Falls and South Sixth Street branches of First National show that on September 24, 1958, deposits at the two local branches were $20,090,258 and loans were $15,520,506, according to R. H. Tisdale and Myron E. Shannon, managers of the respective branches.

Released at the same time were comparable totals for the branches for a year ago. On that date, deposits were $19,610,826 and loans totaled $14,807,183.

Figures released at the Merrill branch show that on September 24, 1958, deposits at the branch were $2,237,676 and loans were $1,536,261. Comparable totals for the branch for a year ago show that on that date, deposits were $2,249,266 and loans totaled $1,490,549.

On Wirephoto, the receiving equipment has its own photo-electric eye which exposes either a negative or positive paper, which already has been wrapped around a cylinder.

The receiving cylinder rotates and moves along its own axis at a speed synchronized perfectly with the sending machine, an inch a minute. Thus it takes just eight minutes to transmit an 8x10 picture from coast to coast.

Once a Wirephoto transmission is completed, the negative or positive is developed just as it would be if it came from a camera.

The new AP Photofax machine automatically receives each picture by the same transmission method, but since no processing is required, it is ready for engraving immediately upon receipt.

Much of the Wirephoto and Photofax equipment was developed in The Associated Press' own electronics laboratory, established in the mid-'50s.

The main line of AP Wirephoto is used for pictures of national and international importance. In addition, The Associated Press operates 25 state Wirephoto networks, on which pictures of state or regional interest can be transmitted.

Photographs are sent to and brought in from foreign countries by radio. Here the picture tones are transmitted by radio waves instead of electrical impulses.

Banking Firm Deposits Told

Figures just released by the United States National Bank of Portland show a deposit total of $782,153,706 as of September 24. This is an increase of 38 million dollars over the October 11, 1957, report.

The Klamath Falls and Town and Country branches reported combined deposits of $14,030,811.63 according to Lester C. Offield, manager of the downtown Klamath Falls branch.

Loans and discounts for the home-owned statewide banking system increased more than 14 million dollars in the same period. U.S. National now shows a loans and discounts total of $352,457,659.

Total loans and discounts for the two Klamath Falls branches stood at $7,708,388.36 as of September 24, Offield stated.

Reflecting the growth of the state it serves, U.S. National also showed an increase in total resources as compared with the comparable call a year ago. Total resources for the 66 banking offices are now $863,892,991—an increase of better than 41 million dollars.

Continuing its policy of providing complete and modern banking facilities throughout the state, U.S. National has opened two new branches during the past five months and has announced plans for another. A second branch was established in Eugene, in the River Road section, in August and a new branch was opened in the Menlo Park section of northeast Portland in May.
