

Oregon Tech Owls Capture OCC Victory From Vikings

Herald and News SPORTS

Sunday, October 5, 1958 KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON Page 1 Sec. B

Sunday sports shorts gathered from World Series, football, deer hunting and anything else that may be squeezing into the sports scene these days:

It's official, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette is the greatest "Yankee Killer" in the business. When Burdette defeated the Yanks in Thursday's series game, it was the fourth straight World Series triumph over the New Yorkers for Lew.

The previous No. 1 "Yankee Killer" was Art Neif of the old New York Giants when he turned back New York three times—once in each of the 1921, 1922 and 1923 series meetings.

Yankee manager Casey Stengel is probably happy for one thing: Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers and Burdette are not on the same team. Lary made history this past season in American League play by beating the Bronx Bombers seven times.

New York has never been beaten in series history by four straight losses. At this writing, it was possible. In 1922 they did not win a game, since one ended in a tie. There have been only two National League teams to sweep the series in four straight—1914 by the Boston Braves and 1954 by the New York Giants. The Yankees have had six entries to gain a sweep, the latest in 1950.

It was a long time between series appearances for little Murry Dickson, Yankee relief pitcher who worked in Thursday's 13-5 loss. Dickson's last series action was in 1946 when he pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals against the Boston Red Sox. Also playing in Thursday's game and a member of the '46 Cardinals team was Yankee teammate Enos Slaughter.

We're not giving up the sinking ship. But—as the old saying goes something like don't bet against champions (Yankees). We may no longer—bluh, bluh—but Stengel's troops are not dead. There's always another American League race ahead.

The battle royal of professional football is scheduled this afternoon at San Francisco as the host 49ers take on the arch-rival Los Angeles Rams in a National Football League game.

Every time these two NFL clubs tangle, there's blood on the turf. It's rivalry like this that have made pro football interest skyrocket into one of the leading spectator events of the country.

And if you judge pro football and other types of spectator sports on a per-game attendance, it is by far the greatest drawing card on the market. Every year the pro grid ranks swell in attendance figures and money, and from the first week of counting play and the exhibition results, this should be another banner year for the pros.

By the way, this afternoon's meeting between the 49ers and Rams is scheduled for television cameras for those of you who are not out deer hunting.

Oregon football coach Len Casanova is a firm believer in his football players playing basketball. After the Webfoots' great showing against Oklahoma Saturday, Casanova gave some of the credit to basketball training received by his grid-ders in days gone by.

Why? Almost half of the Oregon football team are former basketball players.

The former cagers include: ends Ron Stover, Alden Kimbrough, Paul Bauge, Ron Anderson, Len Burnett and Greg Allenhoffer; tackles Darrel Ashbacher, John Wilcox and Riley Mattson; guard Will Reeve; quarterbacks Sandy Fraser and Dave Groz; halfbacks Charlie Tourville, Willie West and Donn Tauer, the latter from Klamath Union High School; and fullback Dave Powell.

When the KUHS Pelicans went up against Springfield High Friday night, they met up with some of the coaching efforts of Norm Chapman, ex-Medford high prep star and University of Oregon captain of the 1958 Rose Bowl team.

Chapman is now doing graduate work at U of O. Part of his program includes practice teaching at Springfield High School, where he also serves as a football assistant to head coach Hal Whitbeck, working with the Miller linemen.

Eleven players, including nine regulars, were home sick in bed with the flu.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

Football Scoreboard

COLLEGE FOOTBALL SCORES
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EAST
St. Vincent (Pa.) 12, Geneva 12 (tie)
Holy Cross 14, Syracuse 13
Navy 28, Boston U. 14
Amherst 38, Union (N.Y.) 0
Dartmouth 13, Penn 12
Delaware 35, Temple 14
Villanova 21, Boston Coll. 19
Oberlin 21, Swarthmore 12
Massachusetts 36, Brandeis 14
Slippery Rock (Pa.) 14, Clarion (Pa.) 12
Cornell 21, Harvard 14
Army 26, Penn State 0
Rutgers 21, Colgate 7
Princeton 43, Columbia 8
Wesleyan 32, Bowdoin 8
Allegheny 6, Wash. & Jeff. 0
Connecticut 55, American Intl. 6
Middlebury 14, Worcester Poly 17

MIDWEST
Nebraska 7, Iowa State 6
Ohio State 12, Washington 7
Indiana 13, West Virginia 12
Pittsburgh 13, Minnesota 7
Air Force 13, Iowa 13 (tie)
Northwestern 28, Stanford 0
Michigan 12, Michigan State 12 (tie)
Kent State 14, Ohio University 6
Muskingum 33, Denison 15
Central Michigan 33, Illinois Normal 6
Capital 15, Hiran 0
Ohio Wesleyan 13, Akron 0
Case 7, Wayne (Mich.) 7 (tie)
Coe 14, Carleton 0
St. John's (Minn.) 20, Hamline 0
Mankato 28, Moorhead (Minn.) 7

SOUTH
Miami 14, Baylor 8
North Car. State 26, Virginia 14
George Tech 14, Tulane 0
Duke 15, Illinois 13
South Carolina 24, Georgia 14
Clemson 8, Maryland 0
Boiling AFB 20, Fort Belvoir 0
North Carolina Coll. 14, Morgan State 7
Virginia Tech 27, William & Mary 15
Sewanee 47, Millsaps 0
Livingston (NC) 28, Morristown (Tenn.) 0
Emory and Henry 28, Carson Newman 14
Auburn 30, Chattanooga 8
Knoxville (Tenn.) 6, Kentucky State 2
Tennessee 13, Mississippi State 8

FAR WEST
California 34, Washington State 14
Wyoming 15, Denver 12
Oregon State 14, UCLA 0
Idaho State 7, Western (Colo.) State 0
Westminster (Utah) 20, Colorado Mines 13
Western Montana 26, Rocky Mountain 6
Eastern Montana 23, Carroll (Mont.) 7
Western Wash. 21, Whitworth 6
Central Wash. 20, Puget Sound 19

SOUTHWEST
Texas A & M 12, Missouri 0
Notre Dame 14, SMU 6
Oklahoma 6, Oregon 0
Arizona State (Tempe) 16, West Texas 13
Idaho 20, Utah 0
Knox 30, Monmouth 12
Texas Christian 12, Arkansas 7
Texas 12, Texas Tech 7
Tulsa 24, Arizona 0
Xavier (Ohio) 22, Miami (Ohio) 8
Purdue 24, Rice 0
Louisiana St. 30, Hardin Simmons 6

Wilson, Green Lead Ore-Tech 31-21 Win

OREGON COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE
W L Pct. PF PA
Oregon Tech 1 0 1.000 31 21
Oregon College 1 0 1.000 19 7
Portland State 0 1 .000 21 31
Eastern Oregon 0 1 .000 7 19
Southern Oregon 0 0 .000 0 0

Saturday's Results
Oregon Tech 31, Portland State 21
Oregon College 19, Eastern Ore. 7

By CLAYTON HANNON
Herald and News Sports Writer

Coach Rex Hunsaker of Oregon Tech Owls opened their 1958 Oregon Collegiate Conference football season at Modoc Field Saturday night with a 31-21 victory over the visiting Portland State College Vikings.

The opening conference action for the Owls was a spectator's delight, loaded with long runs, punt returns for touchdowns, long passing plays and some hard-driving defensive collisions. In all, the free-scoring battle presented the good-sized "Hunters Family Night" crowd fans with eight touchdowns, plus another TD scamper that was called back.

After the game, Hunsaker was pleased with his club's victory and first conference triumph of the young season, but he was just as dissatisfied with the Owls pass defense which kept the Vikings in the game. Tech's defensive unit—sparked by end Norm Hooper and linebacker Roy Johnson—stopped Portland State's running game up, limiting the Portlanders to 92 net yards rushing.

"Those two quick touchdowns in the first quarter really helped us out, but our pass defense kept us on the run the rest of the game," Hunsaker remarked. "If they had started throwing the ball earlier, I think we would have had a better game."

Charlie "Go Go" Wilson, Tech halfback, gave the Modoc Field patrons their first big treat of the evening when he took punt reverse on his own 31-yard line and streaked through the Portland State tacklers for 69 yards and a touchdown with 8:25 left in the first period. Wilson's romp to pay dirt was set up when teammate Charlie Genter gathered in a punt from Viking kicker Al Parent on his own 30.

Genter's try for point hit the uprights and bounced back into the end zone—a good play.

A brand new play in the OTI offensive book paved the way to a quick second Owl score just four minutes later. After Tech took over on their own 45 following a Portland State punt, the Mill High Campus grid-ders used three big plays to cover 65 yards for a score.

Earl Green circled his own right end for 15 yards and Al (Tiger) Everson rolled up 12 more on the new OTI play, a trap play up the middle, carrying the ball to the Portland State 43-yard line. From here, Wilson ran the same type play, only from the other side and raced the remaining distance to score. This time, Genter's kick split the uprights and the Owls were in the lead 13-0.

OTI had another first quarter Soviet pair of colts.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union Saturday picked a pair of 3-year-old bay colts to carry the Kremlin's colors Nov. 11 in the first Russian participation in the invitational $100,000 Washington, D.C., International Race at Laurel Park, Maryland.

Chosen from a host of Soviet horses for the second invasion of Western tracks in history were Garmy, who won the mile and one-half Russian Derby June 27 at the Moscow Hippodrome in 2 minutes, 31 5-10 seconds, and derby runnerup Zaryad.

Both horses are Russian-bred from English racing lineage and are entries in the Voshkold Stables in the Krasnodar territory.

In the Soviet Union, horse racing is, like all other activities, part of the state program and under the control and direction of the Ministry of Agriculture.

New Bowlers!
Low Average Bowlers!
Both Men and Women —

New Leagues are now being organized to start when the new alleys open — about Oct. 20th.

Mon. 6:45 - Women
Mon. 9:00 - Men
Tues. 6:45 - Men
Tues. 9:00 - Mixed Foursomes
Wed. 6:45 - Women

Housewives' Leagues - Mornings or Afternoons

FREE INSTRUCTIONS
Afternoon Classes - 3 Qualified Instructors!
Ask Us!

LUCKY LANES • Ph. 4-5245
3319 So. 6th

Yankees Slow Braves

Hank Bauer Powers Yanks Back Into Title Contention

NEW YORK (AP)—Bruiser Hank Bauer put the New York Yankees back into the World Series Saturday with the help of shutout pitching by Don Larsen and Ryne Duren and a base-running boner by the Milwaukee Braves. Bauer drove in all the Yankee runs in a 4-0 triumph, their first after two jarring defeats at Milwaukee.

HANK BAUER
... Gotham Hero

The ex-Marine knocked in the only two runs off lover Bob Rush when he barked a single to right with the bases loaded in the fifth. He crashed his third homer of the series with Enos Slaughter on base in the seventh.

The largest series crowd in five years, 71,509, gasped when the Braves pulled a base running blunder in the sixth. For a few seconds it seemed the old Dodgers were back in town.

New York had just taken a 2-0 lead in the last of the fifth and the Braves, still hoping for a four-game sweep, were chewing back in the sixth.

Red Schoendienst slammed a single to right that could have been a double except for fast fielding by Bauer. After Eddie Mathews whiffed off for the third straight time—becoming Larsen's eighth strikeout victim—Hank Aaron went to 3-2 and walked.

Then it happened. Wes Covington ripped a hard drive at first base. The ball glanced off Bill Skowron's mitt to the railing in front of the box seats. Skowron quickly retrieved it as Schoendienst started for home.

When Skowron threw to the plate, Red pulled up and pedaled back toward third only to see Aaron already there.

There was nothing for the red lead to do but make another try at the plate. Skowron's throw to Berra had been relayed to Jerry Lumpe at third by this time. As Schoendienst dashed for home, Lumpe let go with a throw that got past the falling Berra but was caught by Larsen, backing up at the plate.

Big Don, a man with a deceptively lazy gait, ran after Schoendienst and finally tagged him near third base. By this time, Aaron was back on second, probably wondering how he was going to explain all this.

Instead of one run in and men on first and third with one out, there was no run, men on first and second and two out. Just to turn the screws a little harder, Frank Torre then fled to Bauer in right, deep enough to score a punt from third—if anybody were there.

All in all the Braves left 10 men on base in their first futile effort of the series that will be continued at Yankee Stadium Sunday in a fourth game. Warren Spahn and Whitey Ford, who hooked up in a battle of left-handers in the opener, won by Milwaukee, 4-3, in 10 innings, will meet once more.

Getting back to that man Bauer, he left no doubt about stretching his record series hitting streak because he beat out a roller to deep short for a single in the first inning. Until he singled in the fifth that was the only hit off Rush, who pitched a magnificent game until wildness caught up with him.

With a one-hitter going into the fifth, Rush went to 3-2 on Norm Sieberg and finally lost him on a walk. Jerry Lumpe fled out and Schoendienst went far to his left to throw out Bill Skowron on a beautiful play.

Manager Fred Haney's strategy called for an intentional pass to Gil McDougald, although pitcher Larsen is known as a real good hitter. Rush tried to be too careful with Larsen and finally lost him on a 3-2 pitch, loading the bases.

Bauer took a ball, a strike and missed another pitch before he dunked a fast-sinking fly to right. Hank Aaron couldn't quite reach it, picking it up with a scooping motion after it had hit the ground. Both Siebern and McDougald scooted home.

Aaron, incidentally, went hitless breaking his nine-game series streak. The Braves had only six hits, all singles. Schoendienst and Torre each had two, and Del Crandall and Covington one each.

The Yanks made their paltry total of four hits off to a maximum.

Trailing 2-0, Haney sent Harry Hannebrink in to pinch hit for Rush in the seventh when the Braves got men to first and second with two out before Schoendienst fled out.

McMahon, the Braves' speed ball answer to Duren, took over. He struck out McDougald but walked pinch hitter Slaughter. The 42-year-old Enos soon came striding around the bases when Bauer lined McMahon's fourth pitch into the lower stands in left at the 402-foot mark.

DON LARSEN
... NY Winner

Bauer, with 3-for-4 Saturday, now has seven hits for 13 at bats for a .538 series average. He's driven in seven of the Yanks 12 runs.

Once again the hamburger and

(Continued On Page 2-B)

HUNTERS!
We're Open Every Night 'til 9 P.M.

Canvas RED HATS $1.59
Plastic RED HATS $1.89
Canvas Flat Top YELLOW HATS $2.49
Crusher YELLOW $1.98
Red TYROLEAN $2.98

SWEATSHIRTS
$1.98 $2.98
Yellow, Red, Navy, White, Gray

BON BAZAAR
4480 S. 6th Next to Ore. Food

Sooners Fortunate With UO Victory

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Top-ranked Oklahoma ran into the stubborn defense of Oregon Saturday and the Sooners were fortunate to come out with a 6-0 victory.

The well-coached Oregon club allowed the Sooners the game's only touchdown in the second quarter when it lost the ball on a fumble.

The Webfoots held an edge in statistics over the Sooners which were ranked the nation's top offensive team after opening last week with a 47-14 pasting of West Virginia.

Lewis, Clark Blasts SOC

PORTLAND (AP)—Lewis and Clark scored at least two touchdowns in every quarter and rolled over Southern Oregon 60-13 in Saturday's inter-conference football game here.

Gary Grill led the scoring for the winning Northwest Conference team, entering Southern Oregon's end zone three times after sprints of 75, 62 and 38 yards. Halfback Jack Abdie scored twice for Lewis and Clark, racing 42 yards and taking an 18-yard scoring pass from Bill Acker.

Acker placed-kicked six extra points in nine tries.

Larry Vanel caught a five-yard pass from Jack Brown for one SOC touchdown. Jim McAbee caught another for the Oregon Collegiate Conference squad.

Wanted Experienced Car and Truck MECHANICS!

See "Juck" Juckeland Motors, Inc. 11th and Klamath Ph. TU 3-3501

Why? Almost half of the Oregon football team are former basketball players.

The former cagers include: ends Ron Stover, Alden Kimbrough, Paul Bauge, Ron Anderson, Len Burnett and Greg Allenhoffer; tackles Darrel Ashbacher, John Wilcox and Riley Mattson; guard Will Reeve; quarterbacks Sandy Fraser and Dave Groz; halfbacks Charlie Tourville, Willie West and Donn Tauer, the latter from Klamath Union High School; and fullback Dave Powell.

When the KUHS Pelicans went up against Springfield High Friday night, they met up with some of the coaching efforts of Norm Chapman, ex-Medford high prep star and University of Oregon captain of the 1958 Rose Bowl team.

Chapman is now doing graduate work at U of O. Part of his program includes practice teaching at Springfield High School, where he also serves as a football assistant to head coach Hal Whitbeck, working with the Miller linemen.

Eleven players, including nine regulars, were home sick in bed with the flu.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker received some good news from the Webfoots' victory against Oklahoma Saturday.

WHY THE LINE?

Dynautical Design NEW ON ALL SEA-HORSES FOR '59

See the new 1959 Johnson Line

Goes better with your boat... makes your boat go better

New, clean functional design with a brand new smooth and quiet operation throughout the line. Whether fishing, cruising or skiing is your sport there's more for you in a new Sea-Horse. Come in soon and see this great new line, from the powerful V-50 to the 3-h.p. king of the lightweights. Down payments are low and trade-in values high.

MONROES MOORAGE

928 Front St. Phone TU 2-1665