In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

Politics:
Reports to Republican national headquarters indicate that the GOP is the underdog in this year's elections. The reports suggest that the Grand Old Party hasn't come up with the fighting spirit an underdog needs to offset the advantage of the favorite in the political race.

Taking note of these reports, President Eisenhower held a political news conference in Washington this morning. He gave the party leaders a pep talk. He urged them to shake off their campaign apathy and wade into what remains of the campaign with all their might.

Faint heart, he indicated, never won fair lady.
Taking it by and large, that is good advice. If you want something, FIGHT for it. Put everything you've got into the battle. That's about the only way to win.

But—
Looking at the Republican party as a whole and forgetting local issues in the various states and the various regions of the nation, one can't help wondering if the GOP as a national political party knows just what it wants at the present moment in history.
It's hard to win a battle if you don't know exactly what you're fighting for.

How's this for advice to the GOP:

Get a PROGRAM.
Be something.
Be something distinctive.
Don't try to outspend the spenders. Don't try to out-New Deal the New Dealers. Size up the future and decide what our country needs to make it great and prosperous and SECURE.
Then fight for it.
It will be better in the long run to lose on an issue you BELIEVE IN than to win on an issue you don't believe in.

What is such a program?
It might be worth while to take a tip from France.
In France a little while back, General De Gaulle entered the political picture at a moment when the French were DRIFTING. He didn't pussyfoot. He came clear out of the underbrush. He told the French a lot of hard truths.
He won a surprising victory.

U.S. Appeals Court Deliberates On Permanent Integration Ban

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement today a request for a permanent ban against transforming Little Rock high schools into private, all-white institutions.
The three-judge court gave no indication when it will make a ruling.
A hearing on a request by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for an injunction lasted only about one hour.
A government attorney said a temporary restraining order against leasing of the Little Rock school buildings to a private corporation will remain in effect until the appeals court rules.

The NAACP asked for an injunction against leasing the public school buildings at Little Rock or, as an alternative, an order requiring the operation of any private school plan on an integrated basis.
The hearing moved along rapidly, each attorney taking only 10 minutes or less to argue his points.
The government entered the case as a friend of the court, supporting the NAACP.
The hearing was before Judges M. C. Mathews, Harvey M. Johnson and Joseph W. Woodrough, sitting at Omaha last Monday. Issued a temporary restraining order against leasing of the school buildings.

This is the newest action in the long struggle between the U.S. government, Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, and that state's segregationist forces.
In a 25-page brief, U.S. attorneys emphasized two major points:
1. The persistent and resourceful schemes which have been devised for evading the decrees of the federal courts enforcing those rights (to go to public school).
2. "Little Rock has become the testing ground of the rule of law and the capacity of the judicial process to give real meaning and effect to constitutional rights."
They said if Central High in Little Rock is allowed to reopen on a segregated basis, "the harmful effects both to the children and to the country could in no way be undone by the courts."
The judges have been asked to make permanent a temporary order, issued by a federal court in Omaha last Monday, forbidding the leasing of Little Rock schools to a private organization which proposes to operate them, with state funds, as private, segregated schools.
Pending the result of today's hearing, the Little Rock Private School Corp. is going ahead, looking for money, teachers, and buildings. Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, says the private school system will open within the next few days if the Circuit Court hands down the permanent injunction today.
No briefs or intervening pleadings had been filed by attorneys for the Little Rock corporation or the city's school board.
Raney contended in Little Rock last week, "We firmly believe that any interference with our lease of the high school buildings is illegal and constitutes further usurpation of the right of the state of Arkansas and the Little Rock school district to exercise the right of ownership over their properties."

M. T. WEATHERFORD, a wheat farmer who disagrees with Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson on more than one point, arrived in Klamath Falls for a two-day visit "to meet people personally." The Arlington candidate for Congress is on the second of three complete swings through the Second District. Receptions, meetings and "a lot of handshaking" are in store for Weatherford Monday and Tuesday.

Republic Plan Under Study

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Charles de Gaulle today worked on his final decisions on how France will elect its new Fifth Republic parliament next month.
The new constitution became law Sunday when its text was formally published in the government's Official Journal. Today Minister of Justice Michel Debre placed the official seal on a copy embossed on vellum and files it with the previous 14 constitutions that France has had since 1789.
A decree issued by the De Gaulle cabinet last week under the constitution's "effect today" gave police sweeping new authority to crush any fresh outbreaks of Algerian terrorism in France.
The terrorist front was relatively quiet.
De Gaulle returned to the capital Sunday night from a triumphant four-day tour of Algeria and France.

LONDON (UPI) — Television sets in mental homes have sometimes started patients on the road to recovery by re-awakening their interest in their surroundings, a study report said today.

U.S. Welcomes Cease Fire Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today formally welcomed Red China's offer to cease fire in the Formosa Strait and indicated U.S. convoys will stop if the shooting stops.
The cautious U.S. reaction was voiced in a statement by Christian R. Herter, acting as secretary of state in the absence of Secretary Dulles.
Herter said the offer "seems to move in the direction of a cease fire" despite heavy propaganda against the United States.
The Peiping broadcast of Sunday was being carefully studied by the United States in close consultation with Nationalist China, he said.
Herter said the United States hopes the Red offer to suspend bombardment of Nationalist-held offshore islands "foreshadows a permanent cessation of their armed attacks."
"Should this prove to be the case, there would seem to be no further necessity for the convey of supply shipments to the offshore island positions," Herter said. "This question is being given careful consideration."
Peiping announced a seven-day cease-fire, effective last midnight, on the condition that the United States stop escorting Nationalist Chinese convoys to the embattled island.

The cease-fire offer was coupled with a call to Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to negotiate directly on a settlement over Formosa and the offshore islands.
Chiang, in an interview with Cecil Brown of NBC, rejected any such direct negotiations with the Communists. He said the Peiping announcement was a "trick and deception," and he hoped the United States would continue to escort Nationalist supply convoys with its 7th Fleet warships.
Sampson Shen, Chiang's information director, declared the purpose of Peiping's offer was to create a split between Taipei and Washington—and a split appeared to have been the result in the first reaction of officials in the two capitals.
Shen declared the Nationalists distrusted the Communist cease-fire and would ignore it. He said there would be no withdrawal of the Nationalist request for American escorts.
Washington officials, however, privately expressed their delight even at the limited and conditional cease-fire. Washington reports said a rejection of Peiping's announcement was out of the question. These reports pointed out that with a cease-fire the reason for American escorts ceased to exist.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have emphasized the central policy of getting a cease-fire in Formosa Strait and of not bowing to force.
In Washington, a link was seen between Peiping's offer and a sharp statement by Soviet Premier Khrushchev Sunday declaring the Soviet Union would not be drawn into an all-Chinese war on the side of Red China unless the United States attacked the Communist regime. As Washington saw it, Khrushchev was tugging Peiping back from the brink.
High-ranking Nationalist and American officials met to consider the new situation. American sources said a recommendation would come from the conferences on whether to continue or withdraw American escorts.
An official of the U. S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense command said the final decision would probably be made by the National Security Council in Washington, and would depend upon "basic American interests" with "strong consideration" given to the Nationalist viewpoint.
The fact that the Nationalist convoy arriving at Quemoy early today was accompanied to the three-mile limit off the island by American warships did not mean a decision had been made, it was emphasized here.
Officers said the convoy had been formed and was on its way before Red China's defense minister, Peng Teh-huai, announced that the Red guns were being silenced after 44 days of bombardment.
Peng said the halt was ordered out of "humanitarian considerations" for the 130,000 civilians and troops on the Quemoy, whom he pictured as suffering from hunger and cold.
Nationalist officials said, however, that Peng's statement was a smokescreen to cover preparations for a big offensive against the Quemoy and possibly even an invasion. One Nationalist official said the Reds needed a breathing spell to replace supplies and worn gun barrels that have fired 474,967 shells at the small islands since Aug. 23.

Pope Paralyzed; Rallying Slowly

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII suffered a stroke today. A medical bulletin tonight said the Pope's condition later "appreciably improved."
The Pope weakened suddenly during the night after showing improvement from an attack of gastritis, complicated by hiccups. The hiccups that had bothered him for several days vanished.
Then at 8:30 a.m. he suffered a circulatory cerebral attack, a bulletin from his physicians reported.
Unofficial sources said the Pope was paralyzed and could not be moved from his summer palace to Vatican City, where facilities for treatment are better.
Dr. Antonio Basburrini, a specialist from Bologna, was called to the Pope's bedside. This underscored the gravity of the condition of the spiritual ruler of nearly half a billion Catholics.
At about noon, according to unofficial reports, the Pope roused briefly from his coma, opened his eyes and murmured a few words.
The pontiff's immediate family, including his nephews and nieces, were ushered to an antechamber of the pontiff's bedroom.
This was the second serious illness in four years for the pontiff.
News of the latest illness came in the 19th year of the Pope's reign. It halted all administrative activity of the church at the Vatican.
Vatican sources said death might come swiftly or the condition could continue for a long time. In the event of long incapacity, cardinals of the church stationed in Rome would take over many of the duties.

Yanks Snap Burdette Jinx; Turley Spins Five Hitter

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees knocked their nemesis, Lew Burdette, out of the box today and crushed the Milwaukee Braves in the crucial fifth game of the 1958 World Series 7-0.
Bob Turley, the Yankee right-handed ace, yielded only five hits and struck out 10 in taming the Braves and keeping Yankee hopes alive.
The Braves now lead the Yankees 3-2 in games, and had they won today they would have taken the world championship for the second straight year.
Now the two teams must return to Milwaukee for a sixth and possibly a seventh game in the best four-out-of-seven series. Tuesday will be a traveling day and play resumes Wednesday.
Previous to today Burdette beat the Yankees in four straight series games and had he won today he would have set a series record.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.
McDougald bounced to Mathews, Kubel dribbled a ball in front of the plate and beat it out for a single, his first hit of the series.
Logan tossed out Turley.

SIXTH INNING

BRAVES: Bruton singled. Howard made a spectacular catch of Schoendienst's fly and doubled up Bruton who had rounded second. Mathews singled. Aaron struck out.

GIL MCDUGALD

No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

YANKES: Bauer singled. Lumpe struck out. Mantle singled. Bauer racing to third. Berra doubled, scoring Bauer and sending Mantle to third. Howard was given an intentional pass. Skowron singled, scoring Mantle. Pizarro replaced Burdette. McDougald doubled, scoring Berra and Howard as Skowron stopped at third. Kubek struck out. Turley singled, scoring Skowron and McDougald. Turley took second on a wild pitch. Bauer struck out. Six runs, six hits, no errors one left.

THIRD INNING
BRAVES: Burdette struck out. Bruton also fanned. Schoendienst singled for the first hit of the game. Mathews was called out on strikes.

YANKES: McDougald hit a home run, the first hit off Burdette. Kubek struck out. Schoendienst tossed out Turley. Bauer grounded out to Logan.
One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING
BRAVES: Aaron fled to Howard. Covington looked at a third strike. Torre grounded to Skowron unassisted.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKES: The game was held up when three fans ran onto the field with a banner.
Lumpe hit a chopper over the mound and beat it out for a single when Schoendienst could only knock down the ball behind second base.
Mantle grounded sharply into right field for a single. Lumpe, who had to hold up to avoid being hit by the ball, stopping at second.
Juan Pizarro was warming up in the Braves bullpen.
Mathews snared Berra's grounder, stepped on third to force Lumpe and threw to Torre to complete the double play. Mantle going to second.
Torre had to leap for Mathews' throw and Berra argued that his foot was off the bag but to no avail.
Howard fled to Bruton.

FIFTH INNING
BRAVES: Crandall bounced to Lumpe. Logan struck out to become Turley's seventh victim.

Khrushchev Defines Aid To Red China

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Sunday the Soviet Union would go to the aid of Communist China only if the United States attacked the mainland.
The restatement of Soviet policy was accompanied by a declaration that President Eisenhower distorted and wrongly interpreted Soviet Formosa policy in his press conference last week.
The Eisenhower statement to which Khrushchev took exception according to the Soviet Tass news agency was this:
"If that (the Formosa crisis) is civil war, why then did Russia say through the medium of Mr. Khrushchev's message that she is ready to take part in such a war? If that is civil war, it means that I am at a loss to understand the real meaning of the word."
Khrushchev said the "clear and definite" Soviet position was that Russia would stand by Communist China in case of attack but would not otherwise "take part in civil war in China."
Khrushchev said "such tricks (by Eisenhower) are guided not by the interests of peace but for the interests of a certain narrow group... which, for profit, follows a course of growing aggression... and preparing a new war."
"The U.S.S.R. will come to the help of the Chinese peoples republic if the latter is attacked from without: speaking more concretely, if the United States attacks the Chinese peoples republic," the statement said.

Hunter Hits Klamath Man

A Klamath Falls man was critically wounded and a Lakeview woman received lesser injuries while hunting near Lakeview on Sunday.
Leon James Richardson Jr., 35, 1957 Homedale Avenue, was shot by Burt Moore, 46, General Delivery, Lakeview, a timber feller, according to Julian Herndon, Lake County district attorney, who investigated the accident with Lake County Sheriff Tom Elliott.
The 270 calibre rifle bullet went completely through Richardson's chest, hit a rock and ricocheted. Fragments of the rock hit Mrs. Twila Randolph on the side of the head, causing minor injuries. Mrs. Randolph is the wife of Clair Randolph, a Lakeview logger, who was guide for the party of seven.
Richardson and his son, Norman Leon Richardson, 16, and Lyle Haggard left Klamath Falls together to open the deer hunting season in Lake County. They were joined at Lakeview by Sgt. H. D. Morris, U.S. Marine Corps recruiting officer from Medford, the Randolphs and Ted Johnson of Lakeview.

Sheriff Elliott said Richardson was shot from a distance of about 300 yards. Moore, hunting in a party of five, was standing on a private logging road and fired into the brush, the sheriff said. His gun, a 270 calibre rifle, was equipped with a four-power Weaver scope. Elliott added.
The accident happened about 5:10 p.m. Sunday while the Richardson party was hunting about three miles south of Bowers Creek, northwest of Lakeview. It took nearly an hour to get Richardson into Sgt. Mort's panel truck and to the hospital, the sheriff said.
A plane was dispatched to Klamath Falls for Richardson's wife, Mrs. Norma Richardson, a clerk in Klamath County court. An appeal for blood donors for transfusions brought an immediate response from some 20 men in the area, hospital authorities said.
Richardson responded to treatment, according to the three doctors who were attending him and was improved this morning to the point they said he could be moved to Portland. A Mercy Flight came to Lakeview for Richardson this morning and he was being flown to Providence Hospital in Portland for special treatment.

Gunfire Hits Beirut Port

BEIRUT (AP) — Machinegun chatter and dynamite explosions rocked Beirut today as the militant Christian Phalangist party made a desperate attempt to enforce its political demands on Lebanon's new pro-Nasser Premier Rashid Karami.
Four men were reportedly killed in clashes between security forces and Phalangists. Fighting took place near the capital's port area and on the road to Damascus.
The Phalangists are attempting to enforce a general strike in Beirut with terrorism and sniping. They are supporters of former President Chamoun.
The U.S. Army, meanwhile, continued its withdrawal preparations, waiting for the next transport ship to arrive. The date of its arrival was not disclosed.

Yard Orders Cyprus Move

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard today ordered its "terror twins" to fly to Cyprus to "get" the elusive Colonel Grivas, leader of the anti-British EOKA terrorist organization.
Chief Detective Inspector Thomas Butler and Detective Inspector Peter Vibart, two of the Yard's top detectives, were sent to Cyprus police to find Grivas and smash EOKA.
"Both these men have unparalleled experience in the art of interrogation," a spokesman for Scotland Yard said. "They know when a man is lying. They know the tricks which put criminals off their guard. If they are successful, it could be that one or more Yard men might join them."
CORRECTION
J. B. McLelland, 1933 Del Moro Street, is reported in good condition at Klamath Valley Hospital this morning following surgery performed on Friday after he fell in a switching accident in the Southern Pacific yard at Dorris. He is a railroad brakeman.
His injuries necessitated removal of one arm below the elbow and one leg below the knee.
Because of incorrect information received, the Herald and News erroneously stated in Sunday's story that McLelland had initiated divorce proceedings against his wife last week at Dorris.
