

General Medaris is the first commander of America's new Missile Command. He has been a member of the Armed Services since 1918, when he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps at the age of 16. Prior to that he worked as a newspaper boy in Springfield, Ohio—and supplemented this with another job: turning gas street lamps on and off along his newspaper route!

A salute to America's newspaper boys from a former member of their ranks—Major General John B. Medaris, Commanding General, U. S. Army Ordnance Missile Command

"You're a mighty important young man. First, because you keep us supplied with one of the most vital needs of our day: news of the world. We know we can depend on you for that. Second, because you are one of America's future leaders. And we already have evidence of your ability to "sell America" in the way you and your fellow carriers have helped sell Savings Stamps and Bonds ever since 1941. Today thousands of carriers are investing part of their weekly earnings in Stamps and Bonds—saving for the future.

This is more important today than ever. Every U.S. Savings Bond or Stamp sold helps strengthen America's Peace Power, by providing money to keep our country strong, to advance science and education, and to keep our economy healthy.

So—in honor of Newspaperboy Day, 1958, I salute you. You and your circulation managers are doing a great job. Keep up the good work!"
