Offers Besiege Inventor Of No Air Collision Device

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Inventor Elmer Meukel, debt-ridden "dreamer" whose idea for a device to prevent aircraft collisions aroused wide interest, was a key figure today in a race to develop his device.

Where before, the lanky, self-educated Meukel had trouble interesting anyone in his electronic motion detector, his main problem now was considering offers and protecting his interests.

Shortly after returning over the weekend from three months wandering that took him to a Reno, Nev., hobo jungle, the inventor to-day contacted attorney Leonard Weinberg.

Weinberg planned to go over the contract Meukel signed with the Polaris Engineering Company before leaving home in a "mental funk" last June to escape creditors.

The pact calls for Meukel to receive 2 1/2 per cent in royalties if his device works. The total could amount to $35,000 a year.

Polaris officials were anxious to reach an agreement with the inventor so company engineers could start work on development of the invention.

Meukel scoffed at a million dollar damage suit filed against him.

High Cost Of Top Stars Headache To Film Studios

Editor's Note—The fabled studio tycoons, who since the beginning of Hollywood time exercised autocratic authority over every facet of movie making, are gone or fading. A new set of faces has taken over, faces familiar to all who watch the silver screen.

By BOB THOMAS AP Motion Picture Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—These are the men who now rule the movie industry: Marion Brando, Gary Cooper, Tony Curtis, Kirk Douglas, Clark Gable, Gary Grant, William Holden, Burt Lancaster, Gregory Peck, Frank Sinatra, James Stewart and John Wayne.

A golden dozen. They hold the balance of power in Hollywood just as surely as the town was once ruled by the pioneering producers. The pioneers are dying and the strength of the major studios has steadily ebbed. The top-draw stars have moved into the vacuum.

If there is any doubt about the strength of this talented 12, you have only to ask the major and independent producers in town. They are screaming over what they have to pay those stars to get their services.

Workers Die From Fumes

DETROIT (AP)—Gas fumes in a forge plant furnace of Chrysler Corp. killed two workmen Monday.

The two, Joseph Bonk, 42, of Hamtramck, and Fred Bradshaw, 44, of Detroit, were overcome by carbon monoxide gas while cleaning the furnace. The furnace had been shut down since Friday for cooling and cleaning.

Company officials called in experts to determine the source of the gas. The furnace cleaning is routine work and gas masks are not normally needed.

Another employe found Bonk and Bradshaw on the furnace floor.

Couple Robs Rug Dealer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The well-dressed couple seemed pleased with four antique Oriental rugs which Mrs. Josephine Potter, an 83-year-old invalid, had advertised for sale.

They looked at them Sunday and returned Monday with $210. While the man carried the rugs to his car, the woman stayed inside the house with Mrs. Potter, who will enter a hospital next week for hip surgery.

"When the man came back he grabbed up the $210 and took $10 from my purse," Mrs. Potter said. Then the couple left, taking along two linen table cloths and a china soup tureen for good measure.

Grandma Boss Sheds Shawl

CHICAGO (UPI)—The retiring president of the National Federation of Grandmother Clubs of America said Monday night the modern grandmother has shed her shawl in favor of the sack.

Mrs. Thomas Stalcup, 69, Akron, Ohio, said before the federation was formed grandma's place was in the rocking chair and baby sitting. She said grandmother's now don't have time to rock because they're too busy taking part in community affairs through social and welfare organizations.

And, she added, "we don't let our children push the baby sitting chores off on us all the time." Mrs. Stalcup said not only have some grandmothers abandoned their gray hair and shawls, they "have gone so far as to wear sack dresses and tint their hair."

The federation, holding its 20th annual convention here, received a message Monday from President Eisenhower, a grandfather.

"As homemakers, mothers and grandmothers you have an important role in directing and building the character of our citizens," the President's message read in part.

Local Strikes Paralyze GM

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors' car building operation was paralyzed by local strikes for a third work day today since GM's national contract agreement last Thursday with the United Auto Workers.

The few local settlements thus far sent back to work less than 10,000 of the 273,000 production workers idled in strikes across the country.

Troubles elsewhere in the industry continued to impede the production of new 1959 model cars. Both Chrysler and Ford were affected. They, too, have agreed nationally with the UAW.

One Chrysler strike, that at the Twinsburg, Ohio, stamping plant affecting 1,000 employes, was settled overnight.

At the same time Chrysler's 4,000 office workers in Detroit who are represented by the UAW served notice they will strike Wednesday unless their contract demands are settled. The company and union had settled on all but Detroit office workers among the company's 75,000 employes.

Ford had no strike anywhere but a parts shortage interfered with its production.

GM's only settlements sent back 4,000 workers at Lockport, N.Y., 2,500 at Dayton, Ohio, 2,000 at Saginaw, Mich., and 1,000 at Vandalia, Ohio.

Nations Back America Plan

NEW DELHI (AP)—Britain, West Germany and other nations threw their support today behind a U.S. proposal to increase the International Monetary Fund.

The fund supports trade in the non-Communist world with a pool of the various foreign currencies from which nations can borrow when short of exchange to pay for imports.

Derick Heathcoat Amory, British chancellor of the exchequer, proposed at the annual meeting of the fund that its 67 member governments increase their quotas of contribution to the fund by 50 per cent.

Heathcoat Amory's speech heightened the general belief that an increase of fund quotas is likely. The members were expected to direct their Executive Board to study the situation and report by December.

Beirut Police Subdue Mob

BEIRUT (AP)—A club-swinging mob of several hundred today attempted to grab control of the coastal village where President Faud Chehab lives. Lebanese security forces smashed the attempt.

It was the 18th day of the general strike and rioting which is being led by anti-Nasser Phalangist party members. Most of their wrath is directed at the Cabinet formed by Premier Rashid Karami, who helped lead the rebellion against former President Camille Chamoun, a Maronite Catholic. The Phalangists, who are Christians, are demanding more representation in the Cabinet.

Steam Smothers Two Children

DETROIT (AP)—Three-year-old Yvonna Patillo and her brother, Kenneth, 2, suffocated Monday night when steam poured out of a pipe and filled their bedroom as they slept.

Their mother, Ardina, 26, told police she left the children alone for a few minutes to go to the grocery.

Police Sgt. Clifford Briney said the steam apparently escaped from a screw-type valve left open on a steam pipe in the bedroom.

City Clinics To Stay Open

DETROIT (AP)—Emergency clinics will be open day and night in Detroit and Wayne County this week to give Salk antipolio vaccine against the area's polio epidemic.

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Detroit and Wayne County health commissioner, said six new polio cases were reported in Detroit Monday to bring the total thus far this year to 542, with 16 deaths. This compared with 170 cases and two deaths at the same time last year.

Molner said surrounding Wayne County reported eight new cases Monday to bring the county toll to 155 cases for the year with 67 cases and one death for the same period last year.

UNFLAGGING PRANKSTER JOILET, III (UPI)—Police are hopeful this town's latest prankster will quit before he runs through the entire United Nations. A Guatemalan flag was found flying Monday morning from a hospital flag pole and a Peruvian flag was hoisted to the top at St. Francis Academy. Flag poles on other private and public buildings have recently sported the flags of Denmark, Tunisia, France and Japan.
