

Women Report To Builders Front Doors Need Drama

WASHINGTON (AP) — The women told the builders from doors of America's homes are too commonplace. They want "more drama" in them.

The builders are listening intently to ideas tossed around by the 33 selected women attending a three-day housing conference sponsored by the National Assn. of Home Builders and the United Industry Committee.

The women said make the doors bigger. They said natural wood is good, but they thought some gay color might be even better and suggested red and maybe aqua as starters.

The front door should have something special to reflect the taste of the people inside and be unique, they said.

Conferring in the modernistic atmosphere of the National Housing Center here, the women hold 40-minute sessions. They give their own ideas and answer questions bothering the building industry. At the blast of a whistle they take a 10-minute break and then start again.

Every word they say is being taken down in shorthand so the builders can mull it over later. They made it plain at Tuesday's opening ground that they'd put as many bathrooms in their homes as they could afford.

They told the builders to take the medicine cabinet off the wall above the sink—where bottles can fall out and break, and put it somewhere else—with a lock to keep youngsters from getting into it. Over the sink in its place, they advised, a big mirror.

U-shaped kitchens were preferred and just nobody seemed to want a rotisserie as part of the kitchen equipment.

They'd rather have natural wood instead of steel cabinets. Steel is too cold looking and shows finger marks, they said.

Better floor and counter top materials, pleaded a few delegates. Get counter surfaces that don't burn when a cigarette or hot pot goes down.

And as for the floor, get something that doesn't need wax and won't show dirt.

Game Agents Foil Escape

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Ray Clemens and Bob Leeson of the Conservation Department were tipped that someone was hunting out of season. They were waiting when Hobart Godbey, 24, strode from the woods holding two dead squirrels.

Then, in quick order, Godbey: Began backing his car away when he saw the two agents but lost control and it tumbled down a 35-foot embankment.

Jumped through a smashed window, dashed down the hill and ran smack into a barbed wire fence.

Leaped to his feet and lit out again, his clothing in shreds, only to be tackled from behind by Clemens.

Stood more than slightly bushed before Magistrate Lonnie Gates and got a $80 fine before limping off to the nearest hospital.

Centennial Aide Schedules Talk

Featured speaker at the October 18 luncheon meeting of the American Association of University Women will be James Boyle, Boyle, who is a member of the State Centennial Commission and chairman for Klamath and Lake counties, will portray plans for the forthcoming centennial celebration.

In keeping with the centennial theme, Mrs. Willard Duncan as chairman of the program has announced the program will include a "Centennial Ballet" by Betty Jean Kerns and Gayle Carnini. Mrs. Helen Hoffman will present a tribute to Oregon. Music chairman Mary Van Vactor has arranged for Marie Obenchain and James Chance to provide music appropriate to the occasion.

Special invitations to this meeting have been extended to new faculty members and faculty wives at the OTI campus. Reservations for members and guests may be made for the 12:30 luncheon at Reames Country Club by calling Evelyn Dibble at TU 2-4038.

Principal Issues Dismissal Threat

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — The boys at Moscow High School got the word: Buy a belt, hitch up your pants or face dismissal.

Principal Francis Nonini complained of the "slouch-look" style in boys pants at a meeting of the School Board. He said some of the youths have been wearing their pants draped over their hips in a beltless, almost "half-mast" fashion, and he asked the board what to do about it.

The board ordered a ban on the fad effective at once.
