Following presentation of the awards by Francis Skinner, Ben Adair acted as master of ceremonies in presenting skits. Following a skit portraying the arrival at college of two freshmen, with Betty High acting the part of the campus lovely and Harry Lanphear as Joe College, Adair made preparations for another skit with a large cast of 4-H Club leaders and members. Adair elected to call it the "Gathering of the Nuts."

The State Leaders Association voted at a recent meeting held in Salem to award a pin denoting honorary 4-H Club membership to those assisting with legislation which was successful in getting a new 4-H Club dormitory and other facilities on the state fairgrounds.

Gene Merritt, president of the Klamath 4-H Leaders Association, presented the award to Earl Wilson, Malin, for the service he had given in representing Klamath County on the State Fair Facilities Committee.

Miss Lillian Hoffman, 4-H extension agent, suggested that if any clubs were interested in performing community services, the Farm Bureau Women would like to have volunteers to dress dolls which will be sold with proceeds going to the OTI Scholarship Fund. Also the County Welfare Department can always use stuffed animals for gifts.

Skinner called attention to the fact that the Poe Valley Cookettes had made the rolls for the dinner served on this occasion and the turkeys were raised by Mrs. Frances Campbell, 4-H leader from Poe Valley. The dinner was prepared by leaders from the Henley, Midland and Poe Valley communities.

ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

LAKEVIEW — The first 4-H achievement program honoring 4-H members for their work in the 1957-58 club year was held at Palsley October 9 at the high school auditorium. It was held in conjunction with a PTA night through the courtesy of the Palsley Parent Teachers Association and members from the Valley Falls and Palsley communities received their pins at this time.

Mildred Scoville, Lakeview, president of the Lake County 4-H Leaders Association, opened the program by telling the boys and girls that the awards they were about to receive ended a successful 4-H year for them and their communities and that the completion of their projects marked a real accomplishment.

County Extension Agent Al Haselbacher then explained that the members pins were given to first, third, etc. year members and that on second, fourth, etc. certificates were given. He also explained that the First National Bank of Oregon provides all pins and certificates for members and complimented them on their sponsorship. Dewey Merydity of the Lakeview branch then made the pin presentations.

Members receiving first year pins were Mark Weaver, Jimmy Roper, Bonnie Whitaker, Palsley; Gayle Carroll, Valley Falls; Richard Bradbury, Kathy Ingles, Judy Swim, Mary Weber, Penny Schmidt, Bruce Neal, Palsley; Melvin Dick, Valley Falls; Hazel Porter and Orville Porter, Palsley.

Receiving second year certificates were Theresa Murphy, Gloria Inslund, Allen Bell, Velma Roper, Palsley; Jay Counts, Valley Falls; Edna Vernon, Bonnie Bell, Alice Green, Billy Nelson, Palsley; Linda Pennington, Summer Lake.

Third year pins went to Susan Brattain, Palsley; Michael Counts, Madge Schfield, Marie Simms, Valley Falls; Ardyth Green, Palsley.

Merilee Pike and Pat Palmer received fourth year certificates and Glenda Branch received a fifth year pin.

Haselbacher then presented the special awards. Honorable mention went to Edna Vernon for her cooking record book in the record book contest. She also received the junior cooking award, a cookbook from the Lakeview Rotary Club for her cooking exhibit at the spring fair. Fair judges picked her exhibit out of all the exhibits in the mealtime fun, easy meals and main dish meals projects for this award.

Alturas Club Holds Meet

ALTURAS — The program presented at the October 13 meeting of the Alturas Business and Professional Women's Club in the Rose Room of the Hotel Niles was in keeping with the national recognition of BPW clubs.

In honor of National Business and Professional Women's Week, Mrs. Wilma Heryford, public relations chairman, chose maps of California, the United States and various countries throughout the world on which she indicated the locations of clubs which unite women with a common interest — earning a livelihood through occupations and professions once held only by the masculine population.

Mrs. Howard Essex, president, appointed Mrs. Chris Starr as chairman of the committee to judge the window paintings on local stores which will be painted by eighth grade children at the opening of the Christmas season activities. Mrs. John Burrichter and Mrs. Heryford will assist Mrs. Essex in contacting business houses for window space to be used by the child painters.

Modoc wild plum jam, made by club members, is for sale at the Hotel Warner, Modern Appliance and Gift Bar and the Bonner Electric Shop. This annual fall activity is the only money raising venture of the club.

Style Expert From France Lauds American Smartness

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Neither New York skyscrapers nor Texas plains evoke undue amazement in the mind of Pierre Cardin, boy wonder of the Paris couture. After a five-week tour of the United States, the youthful Cardin exclaims:

"Such big women you have here in America!"

Pondering further on queen-size Americans, he adds:

"And they all look so expensive!"

Young Cardin, whose recent Paris collection was hailed as the sensation of the French openings, was invited to America by the pattern company for which he has designed a series of high-fashion dress patterns. During his tour he visited Boston, Washington, Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles, Seattle, Houston, Atlanta and St. Louis, in addition to New York. Says he:

"Everything is different here from Europe—especially the women. Here you see fashion in the street. In Paris you must go to the couture salons for this. I have seen more French fashions in America than ever I have seen in France. Here you put them in the show windows. There we keep them carefully out of sight of the public, each designer guarding his own creations."

Cardin also topples a few traditions when he remarks on American-hats:

"American women are much more hat-conscious than French women. In Paris today you see women walking down the street bare-headed, but here every well-dressed woman wears a hat. It is wonderful. They look so much more chic. No costume is complete without a hat, and Americans seem to understand this."

BIRTHDAY CANDLES

If the ends of birthday candles are softened and a toothpick inserted in each you will have no need of birthday candle holders. The other end of the toothpick can be inserted in frosted cake and the candles will stand upright.

STAMP HOLDER

It only takes a few seconds to glue an envelope on the inside lid of your stationery box and you will find this very convenient for holding stamps, labels and addresses.

OHIO SYRUP

Ohio produced about 124,000 gallons of maple syrup in the 1958 season, resuming its third place position as a maple syrup state in the nation.

Connie Collins Weds G. K. Guinty In Reno

Connie Lee Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Collins, 1835 Nimitz Street, became the bride of Gary Keith Guinty in a ceremony held October 11 at the First Christian Church in Reno. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Glenn W. Ricketts at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guinty of Overland Park, Kansas.

For her wedding, the bride chose a powder blue suit with white hat and accessories. A white orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Carol Collins was maid of honor for her sister. Her dress of rose color wool was complemented by white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Clarence Collins served as best man.

Mrs. Collins' dress was navy blue accented with white trim, and worn with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Guinty, wore a black suit with white fur collar and black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of gardenias.

Following a wedding breakfast the party visited Virginia City. The newlyweds are now at home at 930 Post Street, Apartment 17, in San Francisco.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Cleveland High School in Portland.

THE EMPIRE

... the look of the
flattering high waistline

The all-conquering empire is winning hearts as few of its fashion predecessors have ever done ... because nothing makes a woman seem more feminine than the flattery of a high waistline. The effect is achieved by any number of means ... here a bow, there a band ... now a button, now a rose. Hems, of course, rise up for the empire ... it makes the proportion of bodice to skirt just that much more attractive.
