

International Church Meet To Act On Plans For Peace

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The International Convention of Christian Churches acts today on a tentatively stated plan for world peace.

It excited more discussion than anything to come before the 8,500 ministers and laymen attending the six-day convention.

The practical steps it suggests contemplate birth control education in overpopulated areas of the world and admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

Both these ideas were attacked when the 13-page document was processed by the convention's Committee on Recommendations.

This panel of 201 men and women elected by state conventions of Christian Churches, and by provincial conventions in Canada, resisted efforts to tone down the resolution. It was passed on to the convention's General Assembly as a statement of position. Some sought to label it merely a document for study.

"What is needed today," it says, "is the moral and ethical leadership which should be coming from an informed Christian community."

The statement urges universal disarmament under a United Nations inspection system. It calls for a suspension of nuclear weapons tests. It urges limits on the production and storage of long-range missiles, international control of the production of nuclear materials and U.N. control of space exploration.

Several of its proposals are designed to strengthen the United Nations — "The world's greatest political hope for peace."

To build the foundations of peace, the plan suggests: equality of opportunity for the races, freedom of communications, free international trade, financial and technical help for have-not nations and independence for colonies and satellite nations.

Today's preoccupation with peace broke into a mounting convention emphasis on Christian unity. Most speakers have castigated the Christian Churches themselves for losing sight of their heritage and adding to denominational divisions with their own brand of doctrinal pride and prejudice.

The convention climaxed this Monday with five declarations on Christian unity. One asked the churches to examine their own unity. The other four:

Asked the churches to increase their financial support of the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

The convention climaxed this Monday with five declarations on Christian unity. One asked the churches to examine their own unity. The other four:

Asked the churches to increase their financial support of the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

Asked church leaders to take more steps toward a merger with the United Church of Christ, itself a still-in-process merger of the Congregational-Christian Church and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Commended the Disciples Student Fellowship for its progress toward merger next year with the work of the United Presbyterian Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church at colleges and universities.

Endorsed the prospective merger in 1961 of the World Council of Churches and the International Missionary Council.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The International Convention of Christian Churches acts today on a tentatively stated plan for world peace.

It excited more discussion than anything to come before the 8,500 ministers and laymen attending the six-day convention.

The practical steps it suggests contemplate birth control education in overpopulated areas of the world and admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

Both these ideas were attacked when the 13-page document was processed by the convention's Committee on Recommendations.

This panel of 201 men and women elected by state conventions of Christian Churches, and by provincial conventions in Canada, resisted efforts to tone down the resolution. It was passed on to the convention's General Assembly as a statement of position. Some sought to label it merely a document for study.

"What is needed today," it says, "is the moral and ethical leadership which should be coming from an informed Christian community."

The statement urges universal disarmament under a United Nations inspection system. It calls for a suspension of nuclear weapons tests. It urges limits on the production and storage of long-range missiles, international control of the production of nuclear materials and U.N. control of space exploration.

Several of its proposals are designed to strengthen the United Nations — "The world's greatest political hope for peace."

To build the foundations of peace, the plan suggests: equality of opportunity for the races, freedom of communications, free international trade, financial and technical help for have-not nations and independence for colonies and satellite nations.

Today's preoccupation with peace broke into a mounting convention emphasis on Christian unity. Most speakers have castigated the Christian Churches themselves for losing sight of their heritage and adding to denominational divisions with their own brand of doctrinal pride and prejudice.

The convention climaxed this Monday with five declarations on Christian unity. One asked the churches to examine their own unity. The other four:

Asked the churches to increase their financial support of the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

The convention climaxed this Monday with five declarations on Christian unity. One asked the churches to examine their own unity. The other four:

Asked church leaders to take more steps toward a merger with the United Church of Christ, itself a still-in-process merger of the Congregational-Christian Church and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Commended the Disciples Student Fellowship for its progress toward merger next year with the work of the United Presbyterian Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church at colleges and universities.

Endorsed the prospective merger in 1961 of the World Council of Churches and the International Missionary Council.

"I know her INTIMATELY. We have the same cleaning woman!"

Greece's Queen Frederika Arrives For America Tour

NEW YORK (UPI) — Greece's vivacious Queen Frederika arrives today with two of her children for a 40-day coast-to-coast private tour that will include lunching with President Eisenhower and launching the world's largest cargo vessel.

It is the Queen's second visit to the United States and her children's first.

The 41-year-old Frederika was accompanied by 18-year-old Crown Prince Constantine, a lieutenant in the Greek army, and her elder daughter, Princess Sophie, who will celebrate her 20th birthday in Salt Lake City Nov. 2. The Princess is a carbon copy of her curly-haired mother.

Constantine, who bears the classic title of Duke of Sparta, has been invited to tour important U. S. continental defense installations by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, and will travel separately from his mother and sister.

The royal ladies will visit 13 cities, visiting friends, inspecting social service institutions, sight-seeing and taking part in a few social functions.

The royal party will go Thursday to Washington. President and Mrs. Eisenhower will entertain them at lunch and the Queen will play lunch hostess to Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles at the Greek Embassy, where she will stay. She will visit the American Red Cross headquarters, the Atomic Energy Commission, and attend a press reception in her honor.

The highlight of the Queen's national tour will be the launching of a 70,700-ton tanker, as yet unnamed, at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. shipyards in Quincy, Mass., Nov. 15. Frederika will be the first reigning queen ever to launch a ship in the United States.

Frederika and Sophie will visit Pittsburgh Nov. 2-3; Chicago Nov. 4, 18 and 30; Cincinnati Nov. 6 and 9; Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 7-8; Boston Nov. 13-17; Salt Lake City, Nov. 19-20; Los Angeles, Nov. 21-23; San Francisco, Nov. 24-26; Richmond, Calif., Nov. 27; and Williams, Ariz., Nov. 28-29.

Even some Geishas are taking to the links, apparently figuring

Geishas Running Second To Golf Game In Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—The tea house is being deserted for the teeing-off in a new type of "golf widow" in Japan.

She is the Geisha girl, the trained entertainer who increasingly finds herself competing with the golf course for the executive's attention and spending.

The men head for the links to discuss business deals because it's cheaper. A Geisha party at a top-ranking tea house runs about $30 a head, and a successful party involves five or six persons. This adds up to a pretty penny — even on an expense account. Golf still is called the "rich man's game" here, but an executive who is a member of a club can figure on about 3000 yen (less than $10) for each guest on the course. Membership in a club runs from $300 to $500 annually.

Hochi Shimbu, a sports and entertainment daily, estimated there are 300,000 men golfers in Japan today, plus 10,000 women. The number of addicts for President Eisenhower's favorite sport is growing here at the rate of 50,000 per year.

Even some Geishas are taking to the links, apparently figuring

if you can't lure 'em, join 'em.

In turn, the Geisha population has dropped, although the decline is due more to economics than golf competition, said Kenji Goto, secretary of the Domei Kai, headquarters of the Geisha Federation.

Goto said that many a Geisha found that her earnings—an average of 60,000 to 70,000 yen per month barely covered cost of upkeep for kimonos and cosmetics.

Japan now has some 10,000 Geishas, a 50 per cent drop from the pre-war total.

How does a girl become a Geisha?

She may be given over by parents who are poor and need money; she may have been born in a Geisha house; or a relative or friend is a Geisha and influences her.

Talking with Geisha apprentices at a school in Kyoto, I found them ultra-modern, once they shed the traditional makeup, the wigs, and kimonos.

NY Police Reveals Clues In Cop's Slaying Of Four

NEW YORK (AP)—Policeman James McDermott was barred for obnoxious behavior six months ago from the restaurant on Broadway where he shot four men to death.

His murderous outburst occurred on his first visit to the Pie-a-Rib Restaurant since then, owner Lou Olman told police.

Detectives in search of clues to a motive for the killings early Sunday also learned that McDermott had been seen drinking in at least three bars before going berserk and that he knew three of his victims—one a convicted loan shark and two others with minor police records.

But detectives insisted they still lacked enough evidence to pinpoint a reason for McDermott's action.

McDermott, 34, remained in critical condition, unable to speak, in Roosevelt Hospital. He was reported improving slightly from gunshot wounds suffered as he dined with pursuing policemen on his flight from the restaurant.

McDermott, described by shocked neighbors Sunday as having given up drink five years ago, had been ordered out of the Pie-a-Rib after he made himself obnoxious with loud, boisterous behavior, Olman told Inspector Frederick Lussen.

Detectives who tried to retrace McDermott's steps from the time he left his home to the time he appeared in the restaurant 12 hours later said he had drunk at least two beers and three whiskies in three different bars. Witnesses at the bars said McDermott did not seem intoxicated nor did he appear to be looking for anyone.

The three victims acquainted with their killer were Edmund Leahy, 50; Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55; and Lawrence Davion, 63.

The fourth man slain, Eugene Cronin, 60, Jersey City, N.J., was described as just a "jolly fellow" who stopped in the restaurant bar and offered to buy drinks for the other three.

Leahy recently completed a prison sentence for usury. O'Hare had once been acquitted of a burglary charge and Davion had been convicted of bookmaking.

Checking on the possibility that McDermott may have been squeezed on loan interest by Leahy, police found the policeman's only debt was a bank loan to pay for a new car.

McDermott, married and the father of four, lives in a $14,000 home in the Flushing section of Queens. His 10-year record as a policeman was previously unblemished.

The Police Department confirmed that McDermott had complained to police doctors of violent headaches after he was involved in a radio car accident last December, and had been on sick leave for two months of this year.

Husbands! Wives! Get Pep, Vim; Feel Younger

Thousands of couples are weak, worn-out, exhausted because they lack iron. For new younger feeling after 40, try Oxtrel-Tone Tablets. Contain iron for new pep, vim; plus high-potency dose Vitamin B₁₂ in a single day; Oxtrel supplies as much iron as 16 cow-rust tablets, 4 lbs. of liver, 16 lbs. of beef, 3-day get-acquainted size only $6.95. Or get Economy size, save $1.07. All drugstores.

MATERNITY FASHIONS

A fine selection at low, very low prices.

- Dresses
- Tops
- Capri Pants
- Lingerie
- Pedal Pushers
- Skirts

LaPointe's
IT'S A WONDERFUL STORE

Vote For R. R. (Bob) Walker
Democratic Candidate For County Commissioner

I will work to make our own Klamath County No. 1 in Oregon. 27 successful business years and 4 years mayor of Merrill.

HEY KIDS!
Enter Oregon Food's
Hula Hoop Contest
Saturday, Oct. 25th

Entries must be in by Friday, Oct. 24. Get entry blanks at any Oregon Food Store. No Obligation - Nothing to Buy.

FASHION TEST FOR PHONES—how we check new designs with you today so your phones will give more pleasure tomorrow

What would you like your telephones of tomorrow to look like? What shape? What size? What design? These are questions phone man Arland Snarr, top picture, is asking Mrs. Helen Hoffman. She's helping us test new phone designs for beauty and convenience. Of course, you can't get these phones today. The bedroom phone, front in the top picture, and the other with the novel dial, are strictly test phones. Mrs. Hoffman kept each in her home for a month. Now she's giving her opinion of them. Her answers, plus those of hundreds of other style-testers, will guide us. They'll help us do a better job for you—help us design phones for your home that you'll like both for beauty and convenience.

These seats swing out to invite you in!

The moment you open the door, you discover the newness and the greatness of the '59 Dodge. You discover new in-and-out ease — Dodge Swivel Seats swing out to invite you in. You find new push-button ease — a touch of a button controls both driving and weather. There's new handling ease — Level-Flite Torsion-Aire smooths out the road, levels the load. New ease of visibility — outside mirrors adjust from the inside, inside mirrors adjust themselves electronically. There's even new ease of maintenance — a Lustre-Bond baked enamel finish that keeps its sheen twice as long. For the newest of everything great, see and drive the new '59 Dodge.

New '59 DODGE

CUNNINGHAM & RICKEY MOTORS • 677 So. 7th Street

The men and women of Working together to serve you better
Pacific Telephone in Klamath Falls
Your business office: 700 Main St., TU 2-3401