Cadets Continue Poll Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Army, which added Virginia to its growing list of victims last Saturday, retained a firm hold on the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press college football poll today.

The sports writers and sportscasters taking part in the balloting gave the Cadets 90 first-place votes and a total of 1,446 points. Ohio State, which moved from third to second place, drew only 14 first-place votes but had 1,188 points.

Wisconsin, No. 4 a week ago, dropped to 13th as a result of its defeat by Iowa. Michigan State, loser to Purdue, dropped from 5th to 20th. Navy, No. 6 last week, fell to 18th. The Middies were defeated by Tulane Saturday.

Iowa climbed from 13th to 7th. Northwestern leaped from 17th to 8th on the strength of its astonishing victory over Michigan. Oklahoma moved up from 11th to 9th through its lopsided victory over Kansas.

Auburn, in second place last week, dropped to fifth this week as a result of its tie with Georgia Tech, and Louisiana State jumped from 9th to 3rd through its convincing victory over Kentucky.

Texas climbed from seventh to fourth. Clemson remained in 10th place.

The top 10, based on 10 points for a first place, 9 for second, etc. (first-place votes in parentheses):

1. Army (90)	1,446
2. Ohio State (14)	1,188
3. Louisiana State (22)	963
4. Texas (2)	861
5. Auburn (5)	706
6. Mississippi (4)	693
7. Iowa (13)	632
8. Northwestern (3)	618
9. Oklahoma (1)	441
10. Clemson (5)	371

The second 10: Notre Dame 183; Colorado (1) 157; Wisconsin 131; Air Force Academy 122; Purdue 62; Texas Christian 37; Georgia Tech 35; Navy 31; Mississippi State 30; Michigan State 24.

Denny Moyer Meets Saxton

PORTLAND (AP)—Denny Moyer, a 19-year Portlander who has won all his 16 fights, meets former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Saxton, who is 28 and fights out of New York, will weigh 151 pounds—2 pounds more than Moyer.

Moyer's last fight was a decision over veteran Al Andrews. Saxton, after nearly a year layoff, outpointed Barry Allison, former New England welterweight champion, last month.

Rounding out the night's card will be three four-rounders and a six rounder. The six-round bout will pit Jimmy Walters, Vancouver, B.C., 151, against Ed Beatty, Seattle, 158.

Scheduled four rounders: Ron Barnes, 152, Portland, vs. Crawford Mullins, 147, Seattle; Paul Kennedy, 147, Portland, vs. Mickey Gilmer, 142, Seattle; and High Williams, 166, Portland, vs. Floyd Palmer, 182, Portland.

Demos Keep Top Position; Medford 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of unbeaten teams top the Associated Press high school football poll of sportswriters and broadcasters this week.

Defending state champion Jefferson of Portland ranked first and Medford ranked second. Jefferson High has a string of 6 straight victories this season and Medford has a 5-0 record.

Jefferson squad has compiled 284 points this season—nearly one a minute — while holding opponents to a total of 32.

Medford held its rating by bowling over Klamath Falls 53-0.

Sophomores Danny Siego and Dick Ragsdale each scored two touchdowns. Medford Coach Fred Spiegelberg effectively alternated two platoons during the game.

Roseburg leaped from eighth to third on its 27-20 victory over North Bend, which fell from 4th to 7th.

North Salem moved from a tie for sixth to fourth after drubbing Bend 28-0. Astoria, pressed for a 6-0 victory over David Douglas, remained fifth.

Marshfield climbed from seventh to sixth after whipping Springfield 26-21, barely edging in ahead of seventh place North Bend in the poll.

Grants Pass, which returned to the victory column 33-7 over Ashland, was eighth.

Baker, which appeared to be Eastern Oregon's best, scored a sixth straight victory 33-12 against Hermiston.

McMinnville, tenth, whipped the former No. 9 team, West Linn, 18-16.

Roosevelt of Portland, which climbed into second in the Portland League standings behind Jefferson by beating Grant 30-0, polled 27 points to top the also-rans.

Other schools receiving votes were Cleveland of Portland, Willamina, Redmond, West Linn, Pendleton, Vale, Springfield and Oregon City.

The poll with season records point totals for each team:

	Points
1. Jefferson (6-0)	160
2. Medford (5-0)	144
3. Roseburg (5-0-1)	95
4. North Salem (5-1)	87
5. Astoria (5-1)	86
6. Marshfield (4-1-1)	84
7. North Bend (5-1)	82
8. Grants Pass (3-1-2)	78
9. Baker (6-0)	48
10. McMinnville (5-1)	33

Others: Roosevelt of Portland 27, Cleveland of Portland and Willamina 7 each, Redmond 6, West Linn 5, Pendleton 3, Vale and Springfield 2, Oregon City 1.

Hilltop Trot Slated Tonight

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — Hickory Pride and Circo, entered by Billy Haughton, were favored in a field of 10 in tonight's $98,837 Hilltop Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

This is the richest event in the country for 2-year-old trotters and favorite for next year's Hambletonian. The Haughton entry was rated at 2-1 in the early line followed by Diller Hanover and Solid Choice, entered by Ralph Baldwin, and Brogue Hanover, sent in by Joe O'Brien.

'Newk' Hitting Pitcher

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Don Newcombe, a good hittin' pitcher who hasn't done much effective pitching the last couple of seasons, led the major league hurlers in batting with a .361 average in 1958.

Newcombe collected 26 hits in 72 times at bat. He had one double and one home run and drove in nine runs. A left-handed batsman, Newcombe also paced the big league moundsmen in batting with a .359 mark in 1955. His lifetime average for eight seasons in the majors is .270 with 12 homers and 85 runs batted in.

Warren Spahn of Milwaukee outslugged Newcombe, but finished second in batting with .333. Spahn, whose lifetime hitting mark for 13 campaigns is only .197, had 36 hits in 108 tries the past year. Among his safeties were six doubles, one triple and two homers. He drove in 15 runs to share the major league lead with teammate Lew Burdette.

Spahn has a lifetime total of 21 homers and 136 RBIs.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press today also showed that Don Larsen of the New York Yankees topped American League pitchers with a .306 batting average. He had 15 hits, including four homers. Larsen was the only pitcher to collect a pinch-hit homer, tagging Ike Delock of Boston on Aug. 17.

Spahn's pitching record was 22-11, Larsen's 9-6 and Newcombe's 7-13 as a member of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Redlegs.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles tied a National League record for pitchers by hitting seven homers. He shares it with Newcombe, who reached that total in 1955. The major league mark for one season is nine by Wes Farrell of Cleveland in 1930.

Jack Harshman of Baltimore, a converted first baseman, slammed but finished with a batting average of only .195.

Burdette hit the only bases-filled homer among big league pitchers. He also tied a league record by hitting two homers in a game for the second time in his career. Newcombe also shares this mark.

Harvey Haddix of Cincinnati, who led major league moundsmen in batting last year with a .309 average, had only 11 hits in 61 trips for a .180 percentage in 1958.

Hoots Hear Grid Reports

The Owl Hoots received mixed emotions from Oregon Tech football coach Rex Hunsaker at the booster club's weekly dinner meeting Monday night at the Chuck Wagon.

Hunsaker expressed satisfaction over his club's 40-0 win over Southern Oregon last Saturday afternoon in the OTI Homecoming game, but when viewing films of the OTI-Eastern Oregon game played two weeks ago, the Owl mentor was very much displeased.

The Owl Hooters heard Hunsaker praise the Owls for a "tremendous all-out team effort" in last weekend's victory. "That is something a coach is always looking for," Hunsaker remarked to the boosters, "that great team effort. And we got it Saturday."

Hunsaker added in his review of the game that offensive end Bob Bleggi was lost to the club for the remainder of the season. Bleggi suffered a knee injury and is still under observation at Hillside Hospital.

The boosters watched movies of the EOC-OTI contest which the Owls rallied to win 27-6, a game that the Tech coaching staff wants to forget. "After you saw our kids play great against Southern Oregon," Hunsaker told the group "you can see a marked contrast in the way they played at La Grande a week ago."

Hunsaker reported that the Saturday night date that was opened by the cancellation of the Malstrom game would go unfilled. The next OTI game is November 1 at Oregon College of Education.

Redskin Coach Says Officials Carry Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officiating, good or bad, is one of three keys to the outcome of pro football games says Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins.

Kuharich's clubs usually are the least penalized in the National Football League.

He emphasized today that he is not quarreling with any of the crews that police NFL games when he says "officiating and penalties are intangible things" which hurt one day and help the next.

Two pro coaches, Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams and Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers have complained about officiating at Wrigley Field in Chicago the last two weeks.

Officiating also has caused a small tempest in college football's Big Ten. Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State stomped out on the field last Saturday to protest a decision.

Kuharich skirted both controversies, but said the caliber of officiating is sometimes crucial to winning or losing.

Pro teams are so evenly balanced, he said, that the three most important factors in determining the outcome of a game are fumbles, interceptions and officials' decisions."

For example: "Say a back gets away for 30 or 40 yards and the play is nullified by a clipping penalty. That could turn the tide. Or maybe on a long gain there is a holding violation which the officials miss. You never know."

For three of Kuharich's four seasons as coach the Redskins have been penalized for less yardage than any other NFL team. They're in the same position so far this year.

"We teach our players to go by the rules, to play the game straight," Kuharich said.

Records seem to support the theory that good conduct pays off. Washington's best won-lost record in his time here was 8-4 in 1955. Only one other club drew heavier sentences from the officials that season.

Time Out

"Notice, as the game wears on, how the brilliant colors of fall pale in comparison to Ed's angry purple and Jim's raging red?"

Lion Coach Heated Over Front Runners

DETROIT (AP) — A belligerent George Wilson said today his Detroit Lions could do with more encouragement and less criticism for their poor start in the National Football League race.

"If we can get the front-runners off our backs, we'll be in far better shape," he said. "We have enough trouble winning without having to put up with that kind of stuff."

Coach Wilson, his aides and the players have been criticized by the press and the fans for the club's failure to win in four starts after capturing the world championship a season ago.

"Not one of the coaches and not one of the players built us up as champions this year," he added. "The people who are upset most are those who figured it would be a simple matter to win another title. Well, I got news for them—it ain't that easy."

The Lions lost their last three games on the preseason schedule and have only a tie with Green Bay in four regular season games.

"I don't have to make excuses for this club," Wilson said. "Anybody halfway smart knows we lost two top men, Steve Junker and Jerry Reichow, with injuries before the season ever started. And our regular fullback, John Henry Johnson, hasn't even played in the last two games."

There are 10 new faces on this year's team, including eight rookies. Wilson defended the heavy turnover by saying: "A lot of other teams—the Browns, the Bears, in fact, practically every team in the league—they have fallen apart because they hung on to guys too long. We've had good reasons for making our moves."

Pel Boosters To See Film

The regularly scheduled morning meeting of the Pelican Booster Club will be foregone this week in favor of an evening session in order to allow a larger number of sport fans to attend a special program.

Movies of the University of Oregon-Oklahoma football game will be shown following the dinner which will be served at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Willard Hotel.

Also to appear are the Klamath Union football coaches, Andy Knudsen, Jack Peterson and Jim Inglesby. Hank Smith and Gene Strehlou, who serve the Pelican varsity as scouts, in addition to their duties with the frosh and Jayvee squad will be on hand to report their findings on the tough Grants Pass Cavemen, whom the Pelicans will meet here Friday night in a Homecoming game.

Willamette U. Adds Grid Foe

SALEM (AP)—Willamette University Monday scheduled another football game this season. The Bearcats will play Arizona State College of Flagstaff at Yuma, Ariz., on Nov. 15.

Both teams are undefeated so far this season. Arizona State has won six games and Willamette five.

Hayes Joined By 'K' Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State, obviously pleased that his "dirty football" charges have brought officials under public scrutiny, had a companion today in Kansas coach Jack Mitchell.

The Jayhawk coach Monday charged the officiating in Saturday's Oklahoma - Kansas game was "pathetic." Last week Hayes blasted the officials for permitting the defense to play "dirty football" while watching the offensive team too closely.

Mitchell said "never in my playing or coaching days have I witnessed such an exhibition." Oklahoma beat Kansas, 43-0.

Hayes, meanwhile, said he thought he was "on the way to getting it straightened out." He said he was "encouraged" by the officiating in the Big Ten last Saturday, with the possible exception of the Indiana-Ohio State game.

During his own game, the fiery Hayes rushed onto the field to protest alleged roughness on the part of the Hoosiers. The officials quickly marched off a 15 - yard penalty against Ohio State. Ohio State downed Indiana, 49-8.

Mitchell was backed up in his charge by Big Eight Commissioner Reaves Peters, who said he had heard the "officiating was apparently lousy." Peters told Mitchell to give the officials who worked the game a "zero" in his report and they wouldn't be back next year.

Hayes said "officiating last Saturday on the whole was pretty good" with possibly one exception. He didn't single out the exception but it was apparent he meant the Ohio State-Indiana game.

OTI Has Open Weekend; KU Pelicans Host Cavemen

The Oregon Tech Owls have the week off from competition, but coach Andy Knudsen's Klamath Union High School Pelicans uphold the weekly football slate with a "homecoming" game Friday against Grants Pass.

Coach Rex Hunsaker's OTI club was scheduled to meet Malstrom Air Base at Modoc Field Saturday night, but the Montana service team has been forced to cancel out its remaining football games. The Malstrom squad was cut in numbers by personnel transfers, making it unlikely the Air Force base will field a team until next fall.

The Owl athletic director and head football coach has been searching since the first news on the possible cancellation came. But through Tuesday morning, he was unable to find a suitable opponent with an open date.

Hunsaker said he and his staff plan to run their club through regular practice sessions this week, including some heavy scrimmage work even through there is no game scheduled. The next OTI football game is against Oregon College of Education at Monmouth. The winner of this November 1 battle will lay claim to the Oregon Collegiate Conference football championship.

The Owls lost the services of starting offensive end Bob Bleggi in Saturday afternoon's 40-0 win over Southern Oregon. The fine pass receiver from San Francisco suffered a knee injury and is still confined to Hillside Hospital. Hunsaker said the job of replacing the SF City College transfer was a tough one, and started grooming letterman end Ralph Norgaard for the starting assignment left vacant by Bleggi's injury.

Bleggi is expected to miss the remaining part of the season.

The Pelicans, slightly worse for the wear following their unfortunate encounter with the Medford Black Tornado last Friday night, leaped into practice Monday night in preparation for their next opponent.

The Grants Pass Cavemen, currently sharing the Southern Oregon Conference lead with Medford and rated the number eight team in the state, pay a visit to Modoc Field Friday night for a clash with the Pelicans in what is to be the Klamath Union Homecoming game.

As part of the weekend festivities, a bonfire, pep rally and dance are slated for Thursday and Friday nights. A queen and four princesses are being chosen by the Pel gridders to rule over the occasion.

In the Cavemen, the injury weakened Pelicans face one of their toughest adversaries of the 1958 season. While the Pelicans were losing to the Black Tornado, the Cavemen loafed through an easy 35-7 victory over the Ashland Grizzlies. The Grants Passers are also credited with a 6-6 tie ballgame with the powerful Marshfield Pirates, the team whose only loss of the season was a 3-0 decision to Medford.

Noticeably missing from the Pel lineup this week is John Hancock, the powerful 200 pounder who has served both as fullback and lineman prior to fracturing his ankle in the scrap with Medford. Nine members of the KU roster were hurt in the Medford game, but with the exception of Hancock, all are expected to be on hand for the Grants Pass test. And Estin Kiger, who, although he came through the match with the Black Tornado more or less unscratched was less fortunate the day following, as he was injured in a car accident Saturday. It is not as yet known whether he will be able to suit up by Friday.

Steady sessions in the whirlpool bath are eliminating the miseries of ends Gary Kranenburg and Larry Bunyard who each wrenched a knee, as did Gary Burt. Also being treated are Joe Cox and Steve Stiles; Cox, for a twisted ankle and Stiles for a sore hip. An eye injury incurred by quarterback Blake Griggs in the bout with Medford seems to be healing well and no further trouble is expected.

Reserved seat tickets for the Grants Pass-Klamath game went on sale at the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning, according to athletic director Jim Johnson. The price is $1.50 for the reserved seats. General admission ducats may be purchased at the gate on the night of the game.

'The Thing' Bypasses Lonesome End Style

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Army's football team has the lonesome end and now Lafayette College, surprise leader of the Middle Atlantic Conference's university division, has "The Thing."

"We call it 'The Thing' because we don't have a name for it," Jim McConlogue, making his debut this year as head coach at Lafayette, said today.

Pete Stevens, Temple coach, has a name for it, but his version is slightly unprintable. Lafayette used "The Thing" on its first play Saturday and scored a touchdown. Stevens claimed the play disorganized his team, which went down to a 35-0 defeat.

It took a week's practice and some acting talent on the part of the Lafayette players to pull off "The Thing" which went like this:

Bob Howard, Haddonfield, N. J., center, called the huddle five yards to the left of the football instead of the usual distance straight back of the ball. Temple lined up on the ball, as usual. When he broke from the huddle, he pretended he didn't know where the ball was.

Wayne Cipriani, Monessen, Pa., quarterback, sent his team directly to the line of scrimmage. Howard ran to the ball, yelling, "Over here, fellows."

Cipriani also started yelling, shifting backwards as if he were trying to move his team toward the ball. To further confuse matters, end Dan Wooten, Cape May Courthouse, N. J., was lonesome all by himself near the sidelines. He didn't take part in the huddle, a la Bill Carpenter of Army.

Temple players either pointed warningly at lonely Wooten or gaped at what looked like several Lafayette players losing their minds.

While Cipriani was drifting backwards yelling "Over here," he also called a signal. Howard centered diagonally to halfback Charley Bartos of Phillipsburg, N. J. Bartos, behind four blockers, raced 61 yards unmolested past a stunned Temple defense for a touchdown.

"Howard practiced centering diagonally for a week," chuckled McConlogue, 41, who said he pulled the play several times while coaching football at Central Catholic High School in Allentown, Pa., and at Netcong, N. J. Lafayette won its third straight MAC victory after a loss to Dartmouth.

"We hadn't scored in the first half all season," said McConlogue, a Moravian College graduate. "I thought 'The Thing' might do it. I don't think we could do it again. Strictly a once in a lifetime play."

Australians Miff Kramer On Tour Plan

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jack Kramer, miffed by 10 months of bickering with Australian tennis associations, today put into operation plans to stage his pro tennis tours there independently.

The tennis impressario charged that the tennis associations not only charged him double the rental assessed other touring troupes but in addition demanded thousands of free tickets for their members.

With the pro tour next January in jeopardy as a result of the impasse, Kramer announced he was investing $22,500 in a portable court and would use stadiums other than those belonging to the tennis associations in Melbourne, Sydney and anywhere else he can't reach a fair agreement on rent and tickets.

The pros had been using the huge Kooyong Tennis Stadium in Melbourne and the White City Stadium in Sydney in their matches but he said in Melbourne he was forced to give away as many as 4,700 free tickets out of 11,000 to life association members.

"We are definitely committed to play on our own," Kramer said. "With the investment we are making in equipment the only way we now could compromise would be for them to foot the bill for the added expenses."

Kramer said his representatives had arranged to rent the Olympic Velodrome in Melbourne and the F. A. Marks cricket oval at Randwick, near Sydney, for the dates in those areas. He was hopeful tennis associations in other states would be more cooperative but if they also seek huge blocks of free tickets he intended staging independently there also.

Pirates Sign California Youth

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sandy Johnson, 17-year-old second baseman from San Gabriel, Calif., has been signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates' Clinton, Iowa, club in the Class D Midwest League, the Pirates announced today.

The 6-foot, 165-pound right-hander played high school ball and was named this past season to the first team of the All-California Interscholastic Federation team.

WSC, Uclans Planning To Use New Grid Strategies Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Coast Conference coaches—one trying to stay in the Rose Bowl race and the other just trying to stay alive without seniors—indicate they'll spring something new this weekend.

Jim Sutherland ran his Washington State Cougars through some new formations Monday and said he hoped to get them back in the habit of scoring touchdowns in clusters. The Cougars opened the season with the reputation of a high-scoring team but weak on defense. In their last two games, however, the Cougars have scored only two touchdowns while the defense has shut out the opposition.

Sutherland said he hopes to deal out a few surprises when WSC meets Southern California in a critical game at Spokane Saturday. The Cougars, with a 3-1 conference record, rank with California as a leading Rose Bowl contender.

UCLA Coach Bill Barnes, whose Bruins are ineligible for the Rose Bowl, said he plans to add more streamlining to his "Horse-'N'-Buggy" single wing offense. Barnes embellished the old system with a flanker last week and it helped the Bruins to a 20-0 victory over Washington.

But Barnes figures UCLA's next opponent, Stanford, will have defensed the flanker pretty well, so he's decided to "add a few new wrinkles to go with what we have."

Some younger hands will have to help fashion the wrinkles because UCLA lost a half dozen seniors after the Washington game. They were limited to five games by PCC penalties.

Southern California was hit by similar penalties but the Trojans have some good news to compensate for the loss of seniors. Their No. 1 quarterback Willie Wood, returned to practice Monday and probably will be ready to play against Washington State. Wood missed three games because of a shoulder injury. Also back with the Trojans was co-capt. Monte Clark, idle Saturday because of a badly bruised instep.

Cactus Jack Curtice devoted much of a two-hour drill at Stanford to passing. Observers said the Indian throwers got fine protection.

At Seattle, the Washington Huskies concentrated on defensive assignments. Coach Jim Owens said they reacted slowly last week against UCLA. Owens said he plans to mount a "go-go" type offense against Oregon State Saturday.

At Corvallis, the word was that tailback Grimm Mason has recuperated after two weeks of inactivity and will be able to play against the Huskies. Back Jim Stinnette, who suffered an ankle sprain in the Idaho game Saturday, is expected to play at least part time against Washington.

The California Bears, who assumed a prominent position in the Rose Bowl run with a 14-12 victory over USC Saturday, took Monday off. It was their first weekday rest in weeks and Coach Pete Elliott said they earned it. He also said they needed it. Four Bears came out of the Southern Cal game with assorted afflictions.

Oregon, the team Cal will try to hurdle Saturday, ran through a short drill, still looking depressed by the loss to WSC. Jim Linden, a starting tackle, had to leave practice with a temperature. And Joe Schaffeld, a first-string guard, was troubled by a knee injury suffered Saturday.
