Farewell Bid To Cardinal

DETROIT (AP)—The archdiocese of Detroit bids farewell to Edward Cardinal Mooney today at solemn funeral services.

Personal representatives of Pope John XXIII and President Eisenhower will attend.

The 76-year-old Mooney, spiritual leader of more than 1,200,000 Roman Catholics in the archdiocese, died Saturday in Rome an hour before he was to take part in the conclave of cardinals which elected the new Pope.

More than 225,000 persons—including 160,000 schoolchildren—stood in line for hours Thursday waiting to walk past the bier where the cardinal's body lay in state in Blessed Sacrament Cathedral.

The crush of mourners was so great the church officials had to keep the cathedral open all night and right up to within an hour of the funeral Mass.

Pope John named Msgr. Pius Benincasa of Buffalo, N.Y., who is attached to the Vatican secretary of state's office in Rome, as his personal representative.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield headed the long list of public officials as representative of President Eisenhower.

Adlai Repeats GOP Charges

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, on the campaign trail in behalf of his fellow Democrats, has reiterated his charges that the Eisenhower administration has not painted a true picture of American affairs at home and abroad.

Stevenson told a Democratic rally Thursday the United States has faced mounting crises here and overseas during the last six years.

During that time, he said, "the White House has been reassuring America that all was well at home and abroad. And the Republicans in Congress have done nothing but concur."

The twice-defeated Democratic presidential nominee repeated his theme that "a void left by the failure of White House leadership is being filled by Congress."

"Crises have a way of coming to the flash point, the point when something must be done," he continued. "And what will be done will depend to a great extent upon Congress."

TWA Maintenance Crews Plan Strike At Midnight

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The men who maintain and service Trans World Airlines planes prepared to strike tonight and TWA says it will suspend operations if they do.

The airline, one of the nation's Big Four, said it would furlough its 19,000 employees if the 6,700 members of the International Assn. of Machinists strike.

A similar strike grounded Capital Airlines planes for the 16th day today.

TWA and District 142 of the IAM have been negotiating since their contract expired Oct. 1, 1957. Their dispute has been heard by federal mediators and a presidential emergency board. The union rejected recommendations by both.

The principal controversy concerns the union's insistence that all TWA workers covered by the contract remain under its provisions for the duration of the agreement.

"The way it is now, the company has been taking workers out of the classifications under the old contract and putting them in classifications outside the contract," said Cliff Miller, general chairman of District 142. "We want to insure that this is stopped."

TWA made a new wage offer Thursday and asked it be submitted to the membership. The union refused. Increases offered, retroactively

Future Teachers Schedule Meet

YREKA — "Teachers Wanted: Only The Best Need Apply," is the theme selected for the conference of the Future Teachers of America on Saturday, November 1, at the Jackson Street Elementary School at Yreka.

The session will begin at 9:45 a.m. with registration. Refreshments will be served by the Yreka Future Teachers of America. Mrs. Ruth Van Hoosen and Stephen Pueyo, advisers.

Opening address will be presented by Susan Friedman, president of the Yreka High School FTA, with the welcome address to be delivered by Arthur Fish, president of Siskiyou County Teachers Coordinating Council.

Educators from Chico State College and Southern Oregon College will give a variety of talks, and students from Chico State and Southern Oregon colleges, and all Siskiyou County high schools will participate in several panel discussions.

Audio-visual demonstrations of modern teaching will also be presented.
