Congregation Answers Appeal ALTURAS — The Seventh-day Adventist congregations of Alturas, Cedarville and Fall River Mills have pledged $1,154 to the building fund of a new boarding academy at Healdsburg, California.

The pledge was in response to an appeal made recently by Elder J. H. Apigian of Vacaville who addressed the united congregations in the Alturas church. The new academy is to be named Rio Lindo.

The proposed institution is to be educational and will provide for 350 enrollees annually. Its purpose as an industrial training school is to train young people to develop Christian characters, as the curriculum includes studies to promote the growth of the mental, physical, social and spiritual abilities of each student.

CHURCH SLATES RITE Men and Missions Sunday will be observed November 9 at the Free Methodist Church at 1918 Oregon Avenue. Men of the church will assist in presenting the work of foreign missions sponsored by the denomination on 20 fields. Co-operating with 1,350 Free Methodist congregations in Canada and the United States this year, many overseas churches will on this same day bring their offerings for world missions. In some areas this will be produce, peanuts, rice, chickens, corn meal. The goal of North American churches is five cents per day per member.

TYPHOON KILLS TWO MANILA (UPI)—Typhoon Lorna skirted the central Philippines Wednesday, leaving two dead and crippled communications in southern Luzon.

Enrichment of humanity by the healing power of Christ, Truth, is bringing peace, health, and abundance, James Watt, Christian Science lecturer of Washington, D.C., told a large audience in Fremont School October 28.

The speaker appeared under auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Klamath Falls, and was introduced by Vincent Bousquet, first reader.

During the course of his lecture, "Christian Science: The Healing Science of the Christ," he related healings through purely spiritual means, of alcoholism, tuberculosis, and tumor of the brain.

"Because of the availability and divine simplicity of scientific Christian knowledge, the healing Christ, consciousness, there is no longer a mysterious and unattainable abyss between us and God," Mr. Watt declared.

In closing, he said, "God, Truth, is omnipresent and operates through the spiritual law of harmony. Health and life are the normal states of man's existence and are available to one now, not through some mysterious intervention but because the ever-present of the actual law of being supports one's permanent welfare.

"When men come to understand that life has an immortal basis they begin to be free of disease, to be happier, and to live longer."
