

Army Convicts GI-Scientists

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — Ten enlisted men who are both soldiers and scientists got a taste of military discipline Friday night. They were found guilty of disorderly conduct by a special court martial.

The men stationed at the hush-hush Army Chemical Center here, got identical sentences—loss of 25 days, restriction to the post for 25 days, and demotion by one grade.

All are privates grade two or privates first class and range in age from 19 to 24.

Charges against them and one other enlisted scientist grew out of a noisy party they held at nearby Otter Point Boat Club for a departing comrade Sept. 25.

More important than the specific charges was the overriding question of Army morale and discipline. Should such men be treated as soldiers or as scientists?

The three-man court-martial seemed to say they must be regarded first as soldiers.

Five are college graduate scientists. The others, college graduates, work as technicians. All were drafted in the Army's special program for enlisted scientific and professional personnel.

Attorney Hyman Pressman of Baltimore, who defended the 10, had asked Army Secretary Brucker to intervene in the case to prevent the disintegration of morale at the Army Chemical Center.

The case will be reviewed by the center's commanding general of the 2nd Army at Ft. Meade.

The noisy party at the boat club led a nearby resident to complain. State police were called. They testified at the trial they watched the civilian-dressed soldiers for a while, then arrested them.

"DENNIS THE MENACE"

"YA KNOW WHAT, MOM? JOEY SAYS HE GOES FOR BLONDS!"

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Man Of Tireless Energy

By ROY ESSOYAN Associated Press Staff Writer Nikita S. Khrushchev, head of the Soviet party and government, is a man of tremendous agility. He has a seemingly tireless energy, wide ranging ability and that all-important Communist knack of knowing when to jump.

His control has been challenged. But when he can't lick them he joins them. Most of the time he's managed to lick them.

He uses no terror in the Stalin pattern. His enemies are still alive.

His agility vaulted him to the top in the scramble after Stalin's death, and has kept him at the top despite blunders and reverses that would have felled a less nimble man.

Khrushchev has played many roles since he came to power. His early characterizations were popular.

When he played the clown the Russians roared. They laughed at him but in their way they loved him, made up anecdotes about him and slapped their thighs.

Then in February 1956 he denounced Stalin and a hush fell over the land, broken only by the coaxing singsong of orators and party agitators rallying the masses.

After 30 years of Stalinism the new line was hard to swallow whole. As the people slowly digested it a new excitement stirred the country.

It stirred the people of Poland and Hungary even more. They rioted in Poznan, revolted in Hungary.

Khrushchev reared back. At a New Year's banquet in the Kremlin's gold and marble St. George's Hall, Khrushchev announced that Stalin was a great man after all.

The cynics smiled. "We knew it all the time," they said. And Khrushchev even joked about it.

Dictionary-Toting Fraulein Has Dates With Pvt. Presley

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany (AP) — Pvt. Elvis Presley, on duty with the Army overseas for a month now, has a German girl friend.

He was asked the girl question during an interview the other night.

"Yes," the rock 'n' roll specialist told an interviewer. "I've been dating a little German girl from Frankfurt. Her English isn't too good yet and every time I go out with her, she brings along her little dictionary.

"The other night I said something about a puppy. Well, she didn't know what the word meant, so she went tearing through that little book. Man, it was funny."

What's the girl like? "Well, she's blonde, has blue eyes, is 17 years old and is a typist. I've seen her about four or five times already, which is more than any other girl around here."

When Elvis left New York for his base here, he said something about wanting to meet Brigitte Bardot. Her reaction was less than warm.

"Man," Elvis grinned sheepishly as he flopped a leg over the arm of his easy chair. "I really left myself wide open on that one. Everybody quoted me as saying I wanted to date her. That isn't what I said. I only made the statement that I admire her and would like to meet her. There's a lot of people I admire and would like to meet."

Elvis said he wasn't exactly worried, but he was thinking a lot about whether his fans will still be his fans when he gets out of the Army in 1960.

During the interview teen-age German girls were rapping at the hotel window, begging for Presley's autograph.

Delay Strike Against TWA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Machinists have postponed a strike against Trans World Airlines so they can vote on a new wage offer by the company.

The strike had been scheduled for Friday night, and TWA had said it was prepared to furlough its 19,000 employees around the globe.

Frank Heiser, an official of the International Assn. of Machinists, said that if union members accepted the company's offer the dispute would be settled but that "if they vote to reject it, a new time for the strike will be set."

The union also has scheduled a strike Monday against Eastern Air Lines, with negotiations still proceeding. It is negotiating with National, Northeast and Northwest Airlines, but no strike dates have been set for them.

The union agreed Friday night to a membership vote on an offer from Northwest similar to the one made by TWA.

TWA offered a 15 per cent wage increase after previously offering 9 per cent.

I.A.M. members have been receiving from $1.45 an hour for kitchen helpers to $2.51 for skilled mechanics.
