

Plan Outlined By Consultant

DUNSMUIR — The need for orderly growth through planning was outlined by Larry Wise, planning consultant, at the meeting of the Siskiyou County Planning Commission and representatives from the Dunsmuir, Mount Shasta and Yreka planning commissions at the Mt. Shasta Ski Bowl lodge on Tuesday night.

He predicted Siskiyou County will grow "by a trickle, stream, then flood." He told those attending the meeting that proper planning requires men to be visionary and tough.

A delegation from Weed indicated at the meeting that the board of supervisors will be asked to designate a special area around Weed and appoint a special planning body for its orderly development. Members of the board of supervisors present were Art Barr, Bill Ealy and Earl Ager.

Perimeter planning was discussed following the talk by Wise. Ordinances regulating development of fringe areas around incorporated towns will be studied by the county planning commission to better coordinate growth. It was pointed out during the discussion that fringe areas built up without proper street plans and building codes could be a serious detriment to an adjoining city.

Offstreet parking was another problem discussed. Both Dunsmuir and Mount Shasta now have ordinances prohibiting parking on the city streets during snow storms. Parking accommodations for winter sports enthusiasts have not as yet been arranged.

Dom Sirianni of Dunsmuir, a member of the Siskiyou County Planning Commission, was master of ceremonies at the meeting and Elmer Kennedy, vice president of the ski bowl corporation, was host.

Club Slates Scholar Fete

The Latin Club of Klamath Union High School will sponsor a scholarship to be awarded to a junior or a senior at the University of Oregon, who at some former time was a member of the club and majored in education with Latin as the teaching field. Announcement of the plan was made by Mrs. Helen Hoffman, Latin instructor.

Mrs. Hoffman stated that each year more students are taking advanced courses in Latin through tutoring and it is anticipated that from these, a number may pursue this study beyond the secondary level. These students would be eligible for the second year of college Latin.

The recent nationwide impetus given this area of learning has created an even more acute demand for qualified Latin teachers, with attractive remuneration.

To obtain funds for this venture, the Latin Club will sponsor a rummage sale, to be held at the Pelican Theater Building, November 8 and 11, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The club sponsored care of an orphan Italian boy through the grammar school grades who now has found a home.

Law Officers Slate Meet

MOUNT SHASTA — Heads of Siskiyou County's law enforcing agencies, welfare department, Salvation Army, Red Cross and other charitable groups will meet with southern Siskiyou ministers Thursday, November 13, in the Mount Shasta Community Church.

The object, as outlined by the Rev. Lee DeSaulnier, of the Evangelistic Tabernacle, is to eliminate duplication of aid to needy people, and to smoke out repeaters and chiselers. DeSaulnier states that now there are residents of the area who secure assistance from two or three churches, and then apply for aid from the welfare department as well. This leaves too little for those who need help and are abiding by the law.

The sheriff and district attorney will be called into action hereafter when relief abuses are found, but those who abide by the rules will find relief more substantial than before.

Cattle Auction Results Listed

ALTURAS — An auction of livestock for the benefit of the Alturas municipal swimming pool at the Modoc Auction Yards near Alturas on Saturday night, November 1, netted $2,696. The pool is co-sponsored by the Pete Christensen Post VFW and the city of Alturas. Construction on the pool is progressing rapidly.

Livestock raisers in the area donated animals for auction. The facilities of the auction yards were used free of charge and the auctioneer, Bob McHugh, donated his services.

Virgil Pratt is chairman of the swimming pool fund.

Wounded Bird Rare Species

DORRIS — Personnel of the Tule Lake Refuge last week were surprised when a wounded bird they captured turned out to be an Emperor Goose.

The bird, a species of geese seldom seen in inland California, was taken to the Gray Lodge Waterfowl Management area near Gridley, where it was placed in an exhibition pen.

The Emperor Goose normally is found along the coasts of Alaska and British Columbia. Severe winters sometimes will push the species along the coast as far south as Santa Cruz.
