Worried Pete Elliott Turns Hose On Field

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
California coach Pete Elliott, worried about Saturday's crucial football contest with Washington, is using hoses prior to practice sessions. Not on the players, on the field.
Elliott ordered the grass in Strawberry Canyon dampened for the second straight day Thursday. The reason: it's been raining in Seattle for two weeks.
The Bears, traveling the Rose Bowl trail with a 4-1 record, need the express route at Seattle Saturday and against Stanford the following week to clinch titles.
Indications at the University of Washington are that Coach Jim Owens will field a sophomore-studded squad in his effort to detour the Bears away from Pasadena. As it stacks up now, his first team has only two seniors on it—left end Bruce Claridge and left guard Don Armstrong. Six sophomores and three juniors make up the balance.
"We're taking chances with a lot of sophomores," Owens said Wednesday. "But we've been doing that right along this year and they have come through for us. They're hitting hard."
Washington, near the bottom of the Pacific Coast Conference standings, shares a 1-4 record with UCLA. But some observers have said the Huskies are badly underrated. And they're mudders from away back.
UCLA, hoping to please the home folks with at least one win in the Coliseum this year, drilled Wednesday on pass plays to try

Ore-Techmen Start Travel To Whittier For '58 Finale

Oregon Tech's Owls, champions of the Oregon Collegiate Conference, headed south early today for the final step of their 1958 football season. Tech meets Whittier College Saturday at Whittier in a non-conference game.
Whittier and OTI are pitting identical records this season and the Poets are bidding for their conference title, a feat the Owls have already accomplished. So the pre-game dopsters are looking for an interesting match Saturday at Whittier's campus stadium.
The Owls have rolled to six wins against one setback. Whittier has notched six victories in seven outings. The lone defeat for Oregon Tech was at the hands of Hamilton Air Force Base, 34-0. Whittier was nipped 20-18 by Sacramento State earlier in the year.
On paper and on the basis of national rating systems, the Poets should beat the Owls by two touchdowns, and the advantage of playing the game at home gives Whittier an even greater advantage. But as has been the case through the entire season, the Owl grid practices have been filled with plenty of fire and spirit this week.
"The boys know that this is just as important as any other game we have played this year," Hunsaker remarked after Wednesday's practice, "and they'll be out there trying to dump Whittier Saturday night. They realize that we can claim an undefeated season—against college competition—if we can win this one," Hunsaker added with a smile.
The only part of the week's practice work that brought a frown from the coaching staff was the fact that injuries may keep two

Pel Boosters Choose Date For Banquet

Wednesday, December 3, was chosen as the date for the annual football banquet honoring members of the 1958 Pelican grid squad, at the weekly meeting of the Pelican Booster Club in the Willard Hotel Wednesday night.
The meeting, at which the moves of the recent OSC-UCLA football game were shown, was presided over by Ford Kimpton in the absence of president Harry Molatore. KU head coach Andy Knudsen expressed his thanks to the group for its loyal support despite "a thoroughly unsuccessful season."
Said Knudsen, "Even in face of our 1-8 record, we are not too discouraged—we saw some fine prospects in the game with Ashland. Had we been able to use some of our injured regulars during the season we feel that we could have won a couple more games. For the most part we feel that our kids did the best they could."
Also addressing the group were KU case coach Dean White, KU wrestling coach DeLance Duncan and OTI basketball mentor Wally Palmberg.
White noted that he and assistant coach Gene Strehlou were nearing the point at which they could trim the Pel squad, adding "all in all the club is shaping up—however we have some bad practices every so often."
Duncan, in outlining the prospects for the season, observed that he was working with a turnout of 80 boys. "We got a fourth in the state last year — and we have a better chance this year. Of course, some of our opponents may have improved too. We'll meet all comers."
Palmberg, speaking on behalf of the OTI coaching staff, extended congratulations to Knudsen and his aides for their efforts with the Pel gridders. "Every coach knows what it feels like to be without 'the horses' — it makes coaching mighty tough."

Army To Refuse All Bowl Bids

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Army is not going to play in any post-season football bowl games regardless of its record.
Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy and former head football coach at West Point, Wednesday put a firm and official stamp of disapproval on post-season games by the Cadets.
The Cadets, who have won six and tied one of their seven games, have been under consideration by several bowl selection committees.

Oregon Tech footballers on the sidelines for this season finale. Halfback Charlie "Go Go" Wilson and end Ardell Hamilton are the doubtful ones.
Wilson injured his ankle three weeks ago and has missed two games. Early in the week he was unable to go at full strength. Hamilton re-injured his knee in the Moffett game after catching a second half pass that put the Owls deep in Moffett territory. It was not known Wednesday whether the former Sacramento Junior College star would be able to see action Saturday night. Hamilton first hurt the knee in the opening game against Westminster.
The Owls have been primed against nearly every offensive alignment known to football as they "prepped" for this weekend's game. Whittier runs out of five or six different formations and the Owls were kept busy working on defenses for each type of attack, hoping to slow down the torrid Whittier attack which has averaged 336 yards per game so far this year.
Some of the practice time has also been used to work on the one-arm blocking. This blocking will be new to the Tech eleven since they are used to playing under NAIA (small college) rules this year, and the Whittier game will be governed by NCAA rules. The Owls must also face the limited substitution ruling which is played by NCAA members.
Hunsaker said he will probably start Charlie Gantner at quarterback, Al "Tiger" Everson and Otis Foster at half, and either Earl Green or Allen Leach at fullback. In the line, Dale McCulloch and Ralph Norgaard will probably be at the two end spots, while Arnold Metcalf and Dick Hill will be at guard. Bill Robertson completes the Tech forward wall lineup at center.
The Owls are expected to twoplatoon as much as possible Saturday night in an effort to keep from "running out of gas" under the NCAA no free substitution rules.

Hornets Selected For League Honors

Despite the fact that they are outnumbered 5-1 by their Jackson and Josephine County Rogue League counterparts, the Henley Hornets had seven members of their 1958 football team named to an All-Conference roster picked by the participating coaches.
The Hornets came through the '58 season with a 5-won, 2-lost, 1-tied record and settled for second place in conference standings behind Eagle Point. The Eagles placed nine men on the All-Star rolls.
Phil Swisher, the talented 195 pound senior fullback who, in addition to his running ability averaged 48 yards per kick in handling the Hornet punting responsibility, was named to the backfield on the first team.
Leroy Larson, a 170 pound senior end who snared the largest percentage of Henley passes and is being eyed by coach Jim Owens of the University of Washington Huskies, was the other Hornet named to the first squad.
Halfback Burrell Gobar and tackle Cliff Long, both of whom were big factors, defensively and offensively, in helping the Hornets to establish a point total of 155 while holding their opponents to only 38.
Cited honorable mention were guards Ted Berry and Gary Boyd, while Joe Tachini, who was named All-Star center last season, was also picked to the honorable mention list despite the fact that injuries kept him sidelined the major part of the season.
The attention of many of the Hornet footballers has now turned to basketball as coach Ted Ammerman, who handles the cage sport and wrestling in addition to his football chores, got the first of the maplewood practices underway Monday.

Kapp, Bates Head Coast Nominations

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast nominations for the 1958 All America Thursday centered on two backs and two linemen.
Heading the list are California quarterback Joe Kapp and Oregon State tackle Ted Bates with fleet halfback Dick Bass of College of the Pacific and sophomore end Marlin McKeever of Southern California high in contention.
Kapp's been the man instrumental in giving California the inside track to the Rose Bowl. After eight games, the split-turfing engineer ranks seventh nationally in total offense with 470 yards rushing and 456 passing.
"He's good at everything and that's what you want in an All America," declares his Coach Pete Elliott.
Play of the 215-pound Bates continues to draw raves up and down the Coast. "He's head and shoulders above the rest," says one scout who's watched most of the club in the area.

Green Sophomores Are Coming Of Age

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three green September sophomores, their inexperience matching their off-time unpredictable play, are coming of age. In some cases they have turned into one-man wrecking crews on college gridirons each Saturday.
Dick Thornton, Northwestern quarterback, and Willie Fleming, Iowa's halfback, are two good examples.
Thornton took over the quarterbacking of Northwestern's Wildcats and steered them to four straight victories, and an overall 5-2 record so far. This was basically the same club that lost all its games in 1957.
The 19-year-old dental student has been tagged the best quarterback in the Big Ten over such stalwarts as Iowa's Randy Duncan and Ohio State's Frank Kemblas. He was chosen as Back of the Week by The Associated Press for passing for two touchdowns, kicking one point after touchdown and passing for two more in the Wildcats 21-0 victory over Ohio State two weeks ago.
Fleming, a skimpy 178 pounds, nudged into the Big Ten champs backfield and added the power for passing for two touchdowns, kicking one point after touchdown, and passing for two more in the Wildcats 21-0 victory over Ohio State two weeks ago.
Down South they are talking about Norm Snead, the soph quarter-
