

New Residents, Anniversaries, Parties and Clubs Fill Late Fall Social Calendar

Coming from Sacramento, Mr. Cooper will serve as administrative assistant to the Rev. Robert Groves of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Cooper, an ardent gardener, is looking forward to growing her favorite begonias and iris.

Both girls are active in Girl Scouts and are interested in mineral and rock collections. A new interest for them is block printing. This year for the first time they are looking forward to winter fun in the snow. Kathy is in the eighth grade at Fremont and Mary Carol attends Conger School in the sixth grade.

The Coopers have three other children, Mrs. D. L. (Janet) Luft of Watsonville, Gordon in King City and David who will be discharged from the Navy in June.

SOCIETY

FIFTY SIX YEARS of marriage were observed by Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Reeder on November 6 with members of the family calling during the day at their home, 312 Michigan Avenue.

Mrs. Reeder, the former Corinna Howard, married Pleasant D. Reeder in Silver Lake in 1902. They lived on a cattle ranch which was owned and operated by Mr. Reeder and his brother, Ulysses E. Reeder, former Klamath County judge. In 1910 they sold the ranch and moved into Silver Lake where Mr. Reeder was owner of a meat market, and U.S. land commissioner. He also served 30 years as deputy sheriff of Lake County.

When the children reached college age the family moved to Corvallis where they resided until 1928 when they came to Klamath Falls. In this city Mr. Reeder was interested in the grocery business, being co-owner of the Cash Bazaar with Vern Norval. Of recent years he has been associated with his son Dick in his men's clothing store at Main and Fifth Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeder are parents of five children, Mrs. Charles (Connie) Whitmore, Mrs. Robert (Eula) Heim, Mrs. Lester (Noma) Briggs and Dick Reeder of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Tex (June) Dickey of Redding. They are grandparents of 10 and great-grandparents of two. —Photo by Ellis

CHINA FROM AROUND THE WORLD was the theme of the interesting talk given by Mrs. Ed Bell to members and guests of the Soroptimist Club at their noon meeting November 6 in the Winema Hotel.

Representative pieces of china used as illustrations were passed along the tables.

Bowls of fruit decorated the luncheon tables for the 25 friends who honored Mrs. Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard, popular residents of Klamath Falls for the past five years, have moved to Eugene where he has assumed duties as sales manager for May and Mead, Chrysler Plymouth dealers. Mrs. Ballard has been receptionist for Dr. Don Noel while in this city, where both she and her husband have been active in civic and social affairs. —Photo by Ellis
