Mathews-Rosencrance Rites In Yreka Church

YREKA—In a candlelight double ring ceremony, Dixie Lee Rosencrance of Yreka, exchanged nuptial vows with Douglas E. Mathews, on Thursday evening, October 23, in the Mt. Zion Lutheran Church at Yreka, with Pastor Charles Anderson officiating. Arrangements of white carnations, chrysanthemums and stock decorated the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Carl Cramer of Moffet Creek, and the late Staff Sgt. Robert E. Rosencrance. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Daisey Rosencrance, with whom she has resided the past four years. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Mathews Jr., of Etna.

The bride, given in marriage by Warren Behnke of Yreka, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly type lace and tulle over taffeta. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, tight bodice of lace and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a panel of lace at the front, and tiers of tulle falling in the back. A tiara of pearls secured her fingertip-length veil of illusion net. She carried a white lace covered Bible adorned with a white orchid in an arrangement of stephanotis blossoms, from which cascaded streamers of white satin ribbons.

Susan Mathews of Etna, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her gown was pale blue taffeta, styled with a ballerina length full skirt and sleeveless bodice. Her Colonial bouquet was fashioned of white carnations. Serving the bridegroom as best man was his cousin Lloyd Butler, Yreka. Guests were seated by Edward Mathews.

Mrs. Charles Anderson played the wedding music at the organ. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cramer chose a burnt toast gabardine afternoon dress, complemented with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a sheer blue wool crepe afternoon frock with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Rosencrance, grandmother of the bride, chose an afternoon dress of silver-white metallic, with orchid accessories, and a corsage of orchid carnations.

The newlyweds greeted 70 guests at the reception held in the Melody Room of the Yreka Inn, where the bride's table was decorated with lighted crimson tapers and arrangements of red roses. A beautifully decorated four tiered cake topped with white miniature doves was served by Nancy and Ruth Mathews, sisters of the bridegroom, Patty Dall and Mrs. Fred Johnston. Patty Dall also registered the guests.

Following the reception, the new Mr. and Mrs. Mathews, whose wedding day was also the bride's birthday, left for Salt Lake City, Utah, where the bridegroom has been transferred with Helicopter, Inc., of America, and where the couple will establish their new home.

For going away, the bride chose a suit of imported charcoal tweed, with which she wore black raspberry opalescent accessories. The white orchid from her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The new Mrs. Mathews is a graduate of Yreka High School with the class of 1952, and she has been an employee at Siskiyou County General Hospital. The bridegroom is a 1957 graduate of Etna High School. He has been employed by Helicopter, Inc., for the past year, also having attended a school connected with the company in Santa Monica, California.

Disch-Jenkins Vows Repeated

Jeannette Jenkins and Jacob Disch Jr. were married October 30 in the Klamath County Court-house in a civil ceremony at which Judge David R. Vandenberg officiated.

The newlyweds are at home in Fort Klamath following a wedding trip to San Francisco.

The bride lived at Agency Lake with her foster parents, William E. Davis and the late Mrs. Davis, and graduated from Chiloquin High School. Recently she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett McKeever in Fort Klamath.

The Halloween theme was used for decorations and favors at the shower given for the bride-elect October 29 in the Civic Improvement Clubhouse by Mrs. Thomas O. Dyche, Mrs. Gene A. Page and Gayle Page.

Basin Students Receive Honors

Sue K. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, 331 Pacific Terrace, has been named one of 60 members of the Oregon State College Choralaires, leading campus musical group. The Choralaires will appear in the Homecoming talent show and the annual Christmas concert. Other plans include a concert with the band in February and an appearance in Portland on April 18 with the Portland Junior Symphony Orchestra.

Conrad Reimiller, Klamath Falls, Ronald Kalina and Omer A. Schneider, Malin, are members of the football band at Oregon State College this year. Ninety top campus musicians were picked for the all-male marching band which presents half-time entertainment at all home football games, travels with the team on certain occasions, and plays for various campus and community events.

Lions Auxiliary

Members of the Klamath Falls Lions Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Winston Purvine for their October meeting. Mrs. Vern Conwell of Portland, president of the Oregon Auxiliary, was special guest. She was entertained earlier in the evening at dinner by officers of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Vern Conwell gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on the Blind Institute held each summer in Salem. This is a state wide project of the Oregon Lions auxiliaries whose object is to assist parents of blind preschool children with their problems and to explain the training they will receive at the school.

Girl Becomes Deputy Sheriff

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — "Sorry," the judge told pretty Jerry Sue Bradley, "you can't be a deputy sheriff until you're 21."

Jerry Sue waited — for a week — until her birthday. Then she advanced on County Judge Cam Smith again.

This time he swore her in as Harlan County's first lady deputy sheriff. It was the answer to the girl's lifelong dream.

Tall, blonde Miss Bradley will operate a new two-way radio system for the sheriff's department. She'll carry a 38-caliber revolver if she chooses and will have the same authority as other deputies.

"Most of all I'm proud of my badge," she told Judge Smith.

The judge, after swearing her in, admonished: "Keep your powder dry."
