Short covering boosted some stocks, Polaroid jumping six points, Lorillard two and Eastman Kodak more than two. Gains of major fractions were posted for United Aircraft, Douglas and North American Aviation. General Tire was about a point ahead. Raytheon, Kennecott, Goodyear and National Distiller rose a point or better. Man Treated For Stabbing

Alexander Pratt of Hoopa, California, appeared at Klamath Valley Hospital at 1:30 Thursday morning with a stab wound in his chest. The wound was treated and Pratt then was taken to city jail where he was lodged on a drunk charge. He told police a woman had stabbed him, but officers said he couldn't identify the woman or say where the stabbing occurred. He also claimed the woman had robbed him of money and his car, but the amount of money allegedly stolen varied each time he told the story, police said. Other reports: Virginia Thompson, 615 California Avenue, said her car, parked in front of her residence, was struck by a hit and run driver Wednesday 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Farm Equipment Company Broken Into By Burglars

J. W. Kerns, a farm equipment and electrical appliance store on South Sixth Street, was entered early Wednesday night for the third time in three weeks. Nothing was taken from the store last night, and nothing was taken in the last entry, which was last Sunday night. But a valuable haul of record players, radios and other appliances valued at about $700 was stolen in the first of the three consecutive entries, reported to city police November 1. At that time, police said, burglars got away with: A V-M (voice of Music) tape recorder, two-tone gray in color. A table model, blond finished record player, V-M make. A blond and cream portable V-M record player. Three Motorola portable radios: one black and white, one purple and white, and one, no description given. Assorted wrenches and tools, and approximately $25 in petty cash. The first entry, the night of October 31, was gained by forcing open an alley window. Manager Ben Kerns said at that time the burglars took all the keys they could find. He said the keys apparently were used to enter the building last night. A company employe went back to a repair shop about 7:25 last night, Kerns said, and as soon as he opened the door to the darkened room, he saw a man flee out the back door. He was unable to describe him. All locks in the company plant were changed after the first entry, Kerns said, with the exception of the one shop which was entered last night. That lock, too would be changed, he said. The second entry, Sunday night, also was gained by forcing the alley window. Kerns theorized that someone had driven through the alley that time and scared away the burglars.

Adequacy Measures Told By YMCA Council Leader

Standards for judging the adequacy of the Young Men's Christian Association's program in meeting contemporary problems were set forth by Dr. Robert Anderson of Salem, guest speaker at Tuesday evening's eighth annual banquet of the Klamath County Y, attended by 110 persons. The purposes of the Y, on both the local level and in the world at large, were dealt with by Dr. Anderson, who is chairman of the board of the association's Pacific Northwest Area Council. He defined these purposes in terms of the actual problems to be faced. "Thirty five per cent of our young people are going to fall in one of the most significant human endeavors," Dr. Anderson said, introducing the first of the problems which occur on the local level, that of divorce. He said that Oregon has one of the highest divorce rates in the United States, and that research has shown the principal cause of failure in marriage to be the "lack of spiritualities" between the partners. The other problems which Dr. Anderson said must be dealt with on the local level are juvenile delinquency and alcoholism. Like divorce, these appeared to the speaker to be symptoms of a spiritual breakdown. To face this breakdown, Dr. Anderson called for a vital, life-changing Y program that would break down boundaries of religion and race between people and contribute to the growth of that charity or love which is referred to in the 13th chapter of First Corinthians. This program should be calculated to provide its participants with feelings of security, opportunities for creative expression, the means of receiving recognition, and for building self esteem. "The world situation which faces us today has four distinctive characteristics," Dr. Anderson said. "One is that we now have the power and decision placed in the hands of man to annihilate civilization. Secondly, there is no distinction between the military and civilians, between combatants and non-combatants. Third, there can be no victors in the next war. Fourthly, military men will never find peace and security in this world of today; it is only men who are trying to build bridges of understanding that can point in that direction," Dr. Anderson said. The speaker described the build-

Armed Thief Will Testify

Marshall Stevens, sentenced to life in the Oregon State Penitentiary for armed robbery, will testify as a defense witness in the trial of Willie Young, beginning Monday. Stevens was to have been sent to the penitentiary Tuesday to begin his life term. His transfer was delayed when he was subpoenaed by Young's defense attorney. Both Stevens, 40, and Young, 38, were indicted for armed robbery of the Low Cost Market in the Town and Country Shopping Center last July 26. Stevens and Young both pleaded innocent to the charge. Subsequently Stevens changed his plea to guilty. Stevens was sentenced to life and a second charge of assault with intent to kill was dismissed. Stevens, already on parole from a life sentence under California's habitual criminal act, also admitted here the robbery of the Fresno branch of the Crocker - Anglo National Bank a few days before the Low Cost Market burglary.

Drive Fund Still Short

The 1959 United Fund-Red Cross drive has reached $120,664.19 of its $150,000 goal, it was reported Wednesday by the campaign's cleanup crew, headed by Thayne Cole. Convassing in the business divisions was virtually complete, the report said, but there are several county areas that have additional reports to get in. The prediction was that the total from the efforts made to date would run something over $123,000. Cole, together with Paul Cruikshank, Deb Addison and Chuck Bailey, has recently been analyzing United Fund giving records over the years, in an effort to discover why the 1959 campaign is falling some 18 per cent short of its goal. They expect to have their report, which will include recommendations for action, completed soon. During the past two weeks of the cleanup canvass, employees of several establishments have qualified for Oscar awards, which are presented when giving is above average for the division in which the establishment falls. The new Oscar winners are: Pacific Intermountain Express, South Suburban Sanitary District, Beach's Jewelry.

YREKA — Five persons were treated for minor injuries at the Siskiyou County General Hospital as a result of accidents late Friday evening and early Saturday afternoon, according to the Yreka office of the California Highway Patrol. The highway was temporarily blocked until scattered lumber from the truck and trailer were cleared away. The second mishap occurred Friday evening at 11:45 p.m. at the Shasta River bridge on Montague-Yreka road. Minor injuries were received by David C. Solt, 22, Yreka, when the car driven by Joel A. Ex-GI Tax Figures Told

The average ex-GI with an Oregon veterans' farm and home loan paid a property tax in Klamath County of $140 this year, as compared to a state-wide average of $168. Roy V. Bell, auditor of the state Department of Veterans Affairs, which has just finished paying the 1958-59 taxes on the properties of World War II and Korean veterans who have state loans, reported the figures for Klamath County. The tax on 204 loans in Klamath County amounted to a total of $25,854.81. In comparing the state-wide figures, Bell reports that this year's average of $168 compared with $145 last year and $135 in 1956. The borrower pays his taxes monthly to the state veterans department along with his loan repayment. The department in turn pays the tax collector, and does it before November 15 to earn the veteran a three per cent discount. The discount this year saved the veterans $77,797.
