Noted Singer Cited In Suit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A suit has been filed against singer Frank Sinatra — because he wouldn't go to the dogs.

West Flagler Kennel Club filed the suit Thursday against Sinatra and motion picture producer Frank Capra, partners in Sinecap Productions.

The suit says Sinatra made a contract for a personal appearance at the dog track Wednesday night in return for film shooting rights. Sinatra said he was ill.

Sequences of the movie, "Hole In The Head," were filmed at the track and the kennel club seeks to prevent Sinatra and Capra from exhibiting the pictures.

Award Slated For Prisoner

DETROIT (AP) — Charles Collins will face Pennsylvania parole authorities with a citizens citation from Detroit police.

Collins, 38, helped police capture two bandits last summer. When the award was to be presented, Collins was in jail awaiting trial on larceny charges. He was sentenced to 30 days and failed to get the honor.

Pennsylvania police requested Collins' return for parole violation on his release Wednesday.

Collins, waiving extradition, asked for his citation. Commissioner Herbert W. Hart, appraised of the case, said: "Collins deserves the citation for what he did. He'll get it now. I am not judging what he wants to use it for."
