Kaye Blasts Madison Ave.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sammy Kaye is back on TV again and he figures it's about time. Since he's a band leader, it's not surprising that he advocates more musical shows. But even now that he's got one, Kaye hasn't stopped uttering some fortissimo sounds about the Madison Avenue lads who program TV.

"You know," he said, "we were all surprised by Lawrence Welk's success. But I was even more surprised by those agency guys. Even after Welk's Saturday night show proved to be a fantastic success, the agency guys would say, 'Yes, but he's a freak.'"

"Here goes Welk knocking off guys like Sid Caesar and Jimmy Durante in the ratings and they call him a freak. Then he goes ahead and adds another hour show. It's a hit and the agency guys still call him a freak."

"Now," continued Kaye, "ordinarily in the TV business, the agency guys copy the successful format. If a cowboy show's a hit, they put on more cowboy shows. Same thing for quizzes and mysteries and everything. But when a music show comes along, they call it a freak and refuse to copy it."

"While they're saying music is a freak, my band is out in Nebraska or Iowa packing ballrooms where the people pay $2.50 a head to dance. I'd tell the agency guys if they'd pay that much to hear a band, they'd surely like it for free on TV."

"Well, this year I guess it finally sunk in. Now we're on ABC-TV Saturday nights, following Welk's show. They call this block booking — you know, Welk's audience is attuned to music so they follow him with more music. If it makes sense this season, why didn't it make sense before?"

The youthful-looking (at 47) "Swing and Sway" music maker says his TV show, "Music from Manhattan," will concentrate on music for dancing.

"All I've ever done is lead a dance band, so why try to be an impresario now? We'll play all kinds of popular music but we won't go in for the raucous stuff. We'll play jazz, but the Dixieland style. We'll play rock 'n' roll, but the quiet kind. And, of course, we'll play the new and old ballads."

"The secret of Welk's success is that he's playing music for the people west of the Hudson. And plenty of those people are living east of the Hudson, believe me. I've always played for them, too."

"Now that doesn't mean jazz is unacceptable to these people. I believe if you play your music to the best of your ability — no matter what type it is — you will always get people to come and hear you," Sammy said.

WRONG COIN

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — City Treasurer Oliver G. Ellis surrendered a one-half English sovereign to a coin collector here when she told him it was placed inadvertently in a downtown parking meter by her husband.
