Mental Unit Now Open

DENVER (UPI) — A newly-organized hospital is treating a "borderline group" of mentally ill patients in Denver without locks or restraints.

Colorado State Rep. John E. Stretzer, president of the National Mental Health Center, said its patients are persons too sick to be at home but not sick enough to be placed behind locked doors.

"In severity of illness these patients are on the borderline between those who are easily able to function in spite of their problems and those who have lost the ability to deal adequately with everyday problems," Stretzer said.

He said it was frequently found that these patients would have little hope of getting well if they were to continue living without medical aid. The National Mental Health Center, Stretzer said, tries to help the patients understand themselves better so they can more satisfactorily cope with their difficulties.

TO VOTE ON CLEANING BILL

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Among the weighty problems facing the Iowa Legislature next year will be the question of whether the state must pay for cleaning a suit smeared with lipstick.

Richard P. Fain of Allerton petitioned the Iowa attorney general's office to pay $2.50 for cleaning the suit. He said lipstick smeared on the walls of the spiral staircase leading to the top of the capitol building had rubbed off on his clothing.
