

Stock Week Closes Strong Following Opening Slump

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks fell sharply on Monday and Tuesday of last week and then rallied sharply, closing the week and the month on a strong note.

The Monday decline of 14.68 points in industrials was the widest since Sept. 28, 1953, the first session after President Eisenhower's heart attack. At that time the market plunged 31.89 points, second widest drop on record.

The Tuesday decline was smaller but carried through the list with closing prices around the loss. These two days of decline plus a loss the previous Friday brought the three-day drop to 25.72 points in the industrial average; 6 points in rails; and 2.4 points in utilities.

The rise on Wednesday carried industrials up 8.63 points, the best gain in exactly a year to the time when the market was recovering from the drop that came on the President's cerebral occlusion.

After the holiday the market gathered new strength and finished sharply higher on Friday.

The Friday and Wednesday recoveries combined restored 60 per cent of the loss in industrials, 92 per cent in the rails, 50 per cent in the utilities and 65 per cent in the 65 stocks contained in these three averages.

Measured in dollars, the market lost $10,950,000,000 in valuation of all listed issues in the Friday-Tuesday drop and regained $7,200,000,000 in the Wednesday and Friday sessions.

For the week as a whole the net changes in the averages amounted to very little.

The industrial average closed at 357.46 off 2.11 on the week. Rails, the best performers, rose 0.69 to close at 151.68 in their average. Utilities, the heaviest losers percentage-wise, were at 85.25 off 1.56. The 65 stocks in the three averages lost 0.90 to 194.03. The market's dollar loss was $1,100,000,000.

There was nothing unusual in the news to account for the decline which Wall Street experts said was technical. They held that the market had been carried too high too fast and was due for a corrective reaction. The subsequent recovery came also without benefit of special developments and was the most encouraging to

State Cars Cost More

SALEM (AP) — Automobiles which the state buys next year will cost about $400 more per vehicle, the Oregon Department of Finance and Administration reports.

The department is trying to decide whether to accept the low bid, or refuse to buy any new cars next year. This year, the state bought $1,900,000 worth of new vehicles.

The low bid was submitted by Francis Motor Car Co., Portland Ford dealer. There were 16 bidders.

The department said the bids are higher because the factories have stopped subsidizing their dealers in bidding on state purchases, and because Chevrolet and Plymouth have discontinued their lowest priced cars.

The Francis bid was $1,850 per 4-door sedan, $1,811 per 2-door sedan, and $1,749 per business coupe.

The 1958 contract is held by Valley Motor Co., Salem Ford dealer. In 1955 and 1956, the Chevrolet division of General Motors won the contract, supplying the cars directly from the factory. The 1957 contract went to Weiler Chevrolet Co., Oregon City, when the manufacturer's stopped bidding directly.

Pankey Motors, Oregon City Nash Rambler dealer, submitted a low bid of $36,174 on 20 sedans, the department announced.

This is the first time that specifications were drawn to permit bidding on cars below the Ford-Chevrolet-Plymouth price class. There were 11 bidders on these cars.

Thought That Paul Was Red Appalls Lumberjack's Fans

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams' tale that legendary hero Paul Bunyan came from Russia got a chilly reception Saturday in the snow-covered Northwoods where the lumberjack's feats are known to all.

Williams told nine visiting Soviet educators Friday that "Paul Bunyan came from Russia."

"That explains why we are feeling so much at home in Michigan," said Alefski I. Markuchevich, first deputy minister of Education. "We are surrounded by relatives."

But the northern Michigan Bunyan clan reacted as a Westerner would if told Wyatt Earp came from Spain.

"Paul may have worn long red underwear but he's as American as baked beans on Saturday night," said Jay P. Smith, managing editor of the Traverse City Record-Eagle and a leading authority on Michigan's renowned logger.

"Anybody who's even been in the woods knows that Paul came from Maine and moved west with the timber," Smith said.

Jim Doherty, editor of the Petoskey News-Review, said northern Michigan lumberjacks would dispute the governor's version of Paul's origin.

"This must be why we're getting so much snow up here," Doherty said. "Paul's heard about this story and he's mad."

The governor shares with others the knowledge that Paul brushed his teeth with a pinecone, dug the grand canyon by dragging his pick and cooked pancakes on a griddle greased by loggers who skated on it with sides of bacon. But his constituents aren't buying the one about Paul coming from Russia.

Los Angeles Brush Fire Forces 20 To Flee Homes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Twenty persons were forced to flee their homes and one man was injured in a major brush fire that raged out of control 30 miles northwest of here early Saturday.

A spokesman for the Los Angeles County Fire Department said about 35 homes and cabins in the Montevideo area and the Warner Ranch, setting for numerous motion pictures, were not immediately endangered, although a trailer and two small frame structures had been destroyed in the blaze that blackened between 1,500 and 2,000 acres.

Battalion Chief Noel M. Manchester, of the county fire department, said fire department engineer Walter Black suffered first and second degree burns battling the blaze in the Stokes Canyon area.

He said another 100 men would be brought into the lines at daybreak to assist in combatting the fire bounded by the Warner Ranch on the north, Cold Creek on the east, Mulholland Drive on the south and Las Virgenes Canyon on the west.

Aircraft equipped with water-borate solution bombs and 300 fire-fighters were brought into action when the fire, fanned by gusty 35-mile-an-hour winds, was spotted late Friday west of Ventura Boulevard, near Calabasas.

Meanwhile, Red Cross emergency headquarters were set up near Tapia City to care for those forced to flee their homes.

First Assistant County Fire Chief R. W. Percey said the blaze might break through its 11-mile perimeter if winds picked up again Saturday morning. "If the wind dies down," he said, "we may be able to contain the fire."

Opinion May Kill Filibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) said Friday he doesn't think public opinion would stand for "more than one more" Senate filibuster.

Douglas told newsmen there was an excellent chance the Senate would adopt his proposal and change the rule which requires approval of two-thirds of all senators to cut off debate.

Southern senators oppose any move to limit debate. They have used the filibuster to talk to death civil rights legislation.

But Douglas said public opinion would turn against the South if Dixie senators tried to filibuster his proposal to curb filibusters. Even if the filibuster is not curbed now, Douglas forecast it would be eventually.

Douglas and three other senators plan to sponsor a proposal that would permit a majority—50 senators—to cut off debate 17 days after 16 senators signed a cloture petition. The other sponsors are Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), Clifford Case (R-N.J.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

Dog, Fireplug Start Story

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An obscure fire hydrant had its moment of glory early Friday when it became the center of a number of attractions.

The hydrant at first offered a passing interest to a fox terrier named Suzy, who was in the car of her owner, Suzy jumped on the steering wheel and the car careened into the hydrant.

Police called firemen to turn off the stream of water which was spouting 35 feet into the air, and neighbors gathered to watch the fun.

As firemen worked at the task, Noel Campbell, 34, drove by on the way home from a Thanksgiving party.

Campbell leaned out of his car to exclaim: "Whoopie! Old Faithful!" His unattended car bounced off a fire truck and rammed the hydrant as firemen fled for their lives.

Repair work was begun again. Campbell was hauled off to jail, the spectators enjoyed it all immensely — and the hydrant's moment of glory was over.

Top General Visits Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. H. I. Hodges, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, arrived in Communist-threatened West Berlin Saturday.

An Army spokesman said the general's visit had no connection with Soviet threats against this divided, occupied city.

"He came to watch a football game," the spokesman said, "and that's the truth."

The football game takes place Sunday and involves a U.S. Army team from Berlin — the Berliner Bears — and a team from the U.S. Air Force's European headquarters in Wiesbaden.

Ginger Rogers Selected To Head Building Fund

Hollywood star Ginger Rogers has accepted the Southern California chairmanship for the Oregon Shakespearean Festival building fund campaign. According to committee spokesmen, Lela Rogers, Foyle, she earned the academy award for "best actress."

Prompted by a festival interest which dates back many years, Miss Rogers has offered to head the fund campaign in the Southern California region, with particular emphasis on the film capital. Large numbers of audience members at the annual Shakespearean event come from Southern California.

Special campaigns have been organized in several communities outside the festival's home base, including those of Portland, Salem, Eugene and the San Francisco Bay area.

Meantime, after two weeks of effort by several hundred volunteer workers, the building fund committee lists $88,209 as the grand total raised. To enable opening of the 1959 summer season on schedule, $275,000 must be secured by Christmas. Following its condemnation as hazardous, the festival's former stage was razed. Aim of the campaign is to finance an immediate rebuilding program.

In the theater's hometown of Ashland, population 8,800, more than 60 per cent of the goal has already been realized. The community, enthusiastically seeking a total of $50,000 as its share, has now given or pledged $32,045. An anonymous donor earlier asked to remain anonymous raised in Ashland with one of his own.

All of the festival's patrons — an international list spanning the globe — are being asked to contribute. Brochures outlining the financial crisis have been mailed to all parts of the world. The event — the only one of its kind in the Western Hemisphere — offers Elizabethan stagings of Shakespeare's plays for six weeks each summer.

Plane Lands Amid Foam

BOSTON (AP)—A calm United Air Lines captain landed a big DC6 plane on a blanket of foam Friday night after circling Logan International Airport for an hour while his flight engineer manhandled the wheels into landing position.

The plane, en route from Chicago, skipped a scheduled landing at Hartford, Conn., when the hydraulic system operating the landing gear failed to function.

There were 41 aboard, including the crew of four with Capt. Louis Dieckrich, 37, Winfield, Ill., in command.

He brought the four-engine plane down smoothly in a three-inch thick blanket of foam spread by emergency crews for a slide in case the plane made a belly landing.

Passengers agreed there was no panic or obvious fright in the passenger compartment.

Airport crews covered 1,700 feet of a runway with the blanket of foam as the plane circled before the landing.

In the plane Flight Engineer Raymond Hackett, Chicago, moved a mountain of baggage and ripped up floor boards to get into the hydraulic pit where, he said, "as we circled Logan I lowered the wheels manually, using my hands and feet to do so."

Modoc Nurse Cites Needs

ALTURAS — Mrs. Marguerite Bradley, nurse for the Alturas area working with the Modoc County Home Nursing Service, recently attended a training session on rehabilitation at the Fairmont Hospital in Oakland.

The theme of the workshop was to get people with these afflictions back into everyday living and into a position to do as much for themselves as possible in a short period of time.

Rehabilitation of the physically handicapped is considered an important task today than at any time in the history of medicine, Mrs. Bradley said. Long term illnesses and accidents contribute heavily to prolonged chronic disability and delayed convalescence.

"It takes skills, patience and perseverance of many individuals to accomplish this," Mrs. Bradley said. "Doctors, nurses, physical therapists, and sometimes social workers, occupational therapists and other professional disciplines are required. This is called the team approach and one has always to remember that the patient himself is the most important member of the team," she said.

Fairmont Hospital is one of the outstanding rehabilitation centers in the country.

Nixon Visit Wins Praise

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon appeared Saturday to have given an invigorating shot in the arm to British-American relations by his four-day visit here.

With Nixon and his party en route home, the Conservative Daily Telegraph Saturday summed up the visit this way:

"The vice president of the United States has proved himself a frank and engaging character. He has had much to tell us about his own country. He has had even more—and that of a consistently appreciative nature—to say about Britain."

"Mr. Nixon has, in passing by, done a good deal to cement the Anglo-American alliance. In fact, Mr. Nixon has done us good. He has treated us as friends and partners, entitled to understand the difficulties experienced by the United States as well as to realize that our own difficulties are not discounted by his countrymen."

Among results of the Nixon tour is that many responsible Britons gained an impression from his public and private statements that the Washington administration "has learned a lot about the international facts of life," said the Conservative Daily Mail.
