Clergymen Unite To Fight

BAYONNE, N. J. (UPI)—"When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth," Proverbs 11:10.

This quotation, common to the scriptures of all religious faiths, appears on the stationery of an unusual organization comprised exclusively of clergymen—Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

The Combined Clergy of Bayonne, N. J., or C.C.B., was created last summer to enable clergymen of all faiths to speak with one voice on major community problems.

"The emphasis of C.C.B. is in the social, economic and political welfare of Bayonne. We are not merely a discussion group that meets once a month in a 'fellowship circle,'" explained the Rev. Richard Pera, a Lutheran minister who is president of the organization. Vice president is the Rev. Dominic J. Del Monte, a Roman Catholic, and the secretary-treasurer is Rabbi Morris Tosk. The Rev. Mr. Pera said the C.C.B. came about because "the clergymen in the city have been aware for years of the existence of acute civic problems. We also thought that we were in some way responsible for them and their solution."

Chief areas of concern for the C.C.B. include juvenile delinquency, labor relations, health and welfare, housing, economic stability, sanitation and family relations.
