

Dame Fortune Slept Through These Zany Mishaps

Strange accidents that "just couldn't happen"—but did—are recorded in the 1958 roundup compiled by the National Safety Council. Some of the goofy things that happened to people are illustrated, below, in a collection of cockeyed catastrophes more embarrassing than tragic.

Boiling mad couldn't describe the feelings of young Robert Golden, of Newport, Ky. He was standing near the kitchen stove when a bullet rolled off the shelf into a pot of boiling water and exploded. Robert was shot near the rear burner.

Turnabout is fair play, as any rascallion will tell you. So when Leslie Meserve fired at one in Hollis, Maine, the ring-tail came down from his tree and bopped the hunter on the head. Meserve accidentally discharged his pistol, shooting himself.

Racketeer Dies Quietly

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gerardo "Jerry" Anastasia, waterfront racketeer who lived in a blaze of headline notoriety, almost managed to go to his grave unnoticed. Anastasia, 43, died of throat cancer at Long Island College Hospital last Tuesday, but his family kept it quiet. Reporters did not learn of his death until he was buried at St. John's Cemetery in Queens after a requiem mass at St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church.

In sharp contrast to the elaborate funeral cortege of the brother Albert, who was murdered last year while sitting in a barber chair, there were only six mourners' cars and two flower cars in Jerry's cortege. The burial was strictly a family affair.

Jerry, who also was the brother of Brooklyn waterfront boss Anthony "Tough Tony" Anastasia, was for many years business agent of Local 814 of the International Longshoremen's Association. He had been ill for four years.

Mrs. Durbin's body was found Tuesday by two Oregon state policemen resting on a crude bed beneath a make-shift shelter. It was later determined she died of malnutrition and exposure at the campsite within Mt. Hood National Forest.

LATE MOVIES BANNED

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—All movies running past midnight have been halted in an effort to end teen-age violence such as led to a fatal tavern shooting last week. Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers Friday said the ban was agreed upon by theater managers to keep teen-agers off the streets at night.

Little Rock School Vote Focused About Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Little Rock voters selected a new school board Saturday to cope with the problem of meeting local demands for segregation in the face of federal court orders to integrate.

They chose between a slate which carried the tacit backing of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and a group the governor labeled as integrationist. The polls opened at 8 a.m. and were scheduled to close at 6:30 p.m. A moderate turnout was predicted.

The candidates Faubus labeled integrationist are W. F. Rector, a real estate and insurance executive; Everett Tucker, an industrialist; Ted Lamb, an advertising executive; Russell H. Matson Jr., a building contractor, and Mrs. Charles W. Stephens, a clubwoman.

Members of the opposing slate, which has pledged itself to support Faubus, are Traffic Court Judge R. W. Laster; C. C. Raley, a union business manager; Ben

A seven-year-old, bouncing baby girl from Chicago wins the gray-hairs-to-mother award. Judith DeHaan toppled from a second-story window, landed on a clothesline and bounced right-side-up in her own baby buggy which was parked below.

The five board members who resigned did so after the appellate court issued its order early in November. They declared they were caught between federal and state pressure and described their position as one of "hopelessness, helplessness and frustration."

Dr. George P. Branscum, a dentist, and John W. Clayton, an insurance executive, are in the race as independents. Faubus' denunciation of the businessmen-backed slate drew from one of the slate a charge that the governor was meddling and being inconsistent.

Lamb, who has served as the group's spokesman, said he was shocked at Faubus' intervention. "I remember that he has been a severe critic of outsiders' meddling in local politics," Lamb said. "He has stated he does not vote in the Little Rock School District. Therefore, I consider Faubus an outsider and by golly, he's meddling."

None of the candidates has said what he planned to do about an order of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to resume integration. The order directs U.S. District Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith to take affirmative steps to force the reopening of Little Rock's four public high schools and to bring about integration.

Gambling Shill-Minister Stripped Of Church Rights

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Maurice D. Tulloch, who gave up the life of a Baptist minister to become a shill in a Las Vegas gambling casino, was stripped of his ministerial standing Friday.

The action was taken by the executive committee of the Kansas Baptist Convention. In a resolution the committee said: "The circumstances associated with Maurice D. Tulloch have been carefully reviewed... in order that the Christian ministry not be lightly regarded or held in disrepute, we are led with a profound sense of sorrow to this resolution. Maurice D. Tulloch can no longer be recognized as a minister in good standing in the Kansas Baptist Convention."

Tulloch who looks pastor to 40 than his 50 years, was closer to the First Baptist Church of Sabetha, Kan., a community near the Nebraska line 80 miles northwest of Kansas City. Then last Sept. 29, he walked out of a meeting of Baptist pastors in Hutchinson, Kan., and disappeared. On Nov. 26 he was located in Las Vegas, working as a shill—a gambling casino employe who
