

'Right To Work' Opponents Doubled Proponents' Costs

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Opponents of the "right-to-work" initiative spent more money than its backers during the November election campaign.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan revealed that California labor poured $2,491,597 into what its leaders said was a fight for its life against the controversial Proposition 13.

Proponents of the ballot proposition spent $907,536 in an effort to drive the union shop from California.

Together, proponents and opponents spent almost three and a half million dollars on the campaign.

New Channel Cut By Red River

YUBA, Okla. (AP)—The ever-changing Red River, the border between Texas and Oklahoma, has cut a new channel near here, annexing a mile-square area of the Lone Star State to the Sooners.

No families were living in the new Oklahoma territory, formerly part of Fannin County, Tex.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled the south bank of the Red River is the dividing line between the two states. And the constantly changing stream poses problems for tax collectors of both states, since one state can't legally tax residents of another.

Firemen Rescue Pregnant Kitty

PORTLAND (AP)—Fire District 10 said it couldn't come out and rescue the cat that had climbed high into a fir tree five days ago.

But then firemen were reminded of the exception to their rule. A truck came out and fireman Bill Heisler climbed 25 feet up a ladder and plucked the cat from a limb.

"We don't do this for any old cat," Heisler explained. "Just pregnant cats."

Washington Evening Star Prepares Expanded Edition

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Evening Star prepared an expanded Monday edition, complete with Sunday supplements, today after a long settlement of a three-day strike of editorial and commercial employees.

The paper had published only a limited edition Friday, and none Saturday or Sunday, because of the strike called by members of the American Newspaper Guild. Most mechanical workers had refused to cross the picket lines.

Settlement of the strike was reached Sunday with a compromise calling for higher wages and a slightly reduced work week. Federal mediators helped work out the agreement, which later was ratified by the striking employees.

The three-year contract calls for increases of $4 to $7 a week for the first year, $2 to $4 for the second year and $2 to $3 for the third year. The $14 weekly increase for reporters and photographers over the three-year period will raise the present top minimum of $127 a week to $141, compared with a $140 figure now paid by the Washington Post.

The agreement cuts 15 minutes from the regular work day effective Feb. 1, and another 15 minutes a year from now, when employees will start working a 37½-hour week of five 7½-hour days.
